WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Leaders of the veterans' bloc in the senate were ready today to compromise their differences with the house and accept the challenge of a presidential veto for their program, liberalizing benefits to veterans of all wars.

Samuel Insull Is Cruising In Mediterranean

May Land Insull On Small Island As Second "Robinson Crusoe"

By JAMES KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, Mar. 23.—Samuel Insull is cruising leisurely aboard his chartered freighter, the Greek ship Maiotis, somewhere in the extreme eastern part of the Mediterranean sea, probably between the island of Cyprus and the coast of Palestine, International News Service learned today from a reliable source.

While his floating refuge from authorities which seek to return him to the United States for trial in connection with the collapse of the $2,000,000,000 public utilities empire which he once ruled cruises slowly about, three special agents are making every effort possible to obtain for him a passport visa which will permit him to land in some country along the eastern Mediterranean coast.

In Communication.

Meantime Insull's attorneys here, his wife and A. P. Synodinos, the owner of the Maiotis, are in regular communication with the skipper of the ship, who signals them his position by means of code messages. The last word from the captain of the Maiotis was received yesterday.

The message was sent in code by the Maiotis to the nearest wireless station ashore. The wireless station relays them by cable to Athens.

George Pop, one of Insull's attorneys, intimated today that the Greek government and the United States government know, and have known all the time, where Insull's floating haven was. I talked with Pop at noon today.

Tariff Bill Is Up For Debate

Democratic Leaders Claim Tariff Bargaining Bill Is Assured Of Passage

REPUBLICANS TO OFFER OPPOSITION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.— With Democratic leaders declaring passage is assured, the house today started lengthy debates on the administration's tariff bargaining bill.

Chairman Doughton (D) of North Carolina, of the ways and means committee, was confident of strong Democratic support after a check-up by party whips.

Approval of the measure was conceded by Republican leaders. While opposing the entire bill, the Republican opponents planned a vigorous fight to limit the powers of the president.

Empowers Roosevelt

The bill would empower the president to negotiate tariff trade agreements with other nations and raise or lower tariff duties 50 per cent to make the agreements. He would be giver power to guarantee that tariff duties not directly involved in the trades would be unchanged during operation of the agreements.

Republican opponents planned to offer amendments limiting the bill to three years, forbidding the president to act without a finding of facts by the tariff commission and requiring congressional approval for every agreement.

"There is a general realization that we must restore foreign trade, and with tariff barriers being erected in all parts of the world the only way it can be done is by bargaining," said Doughton.

Gary School Head Says "Brain Trusters" Aim To Halt Recovery

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Strong endorsement of the revised stock market bill, voiced by Gov. Eugene R. Black of the Federal Reserve Board, was countered today by James H. Rand, Jr., industrialist chairman of the committee for the nation, with the charge that administration "brain trusters" are seeking to thwart business recovery so they can push the nation into communism.

Black's endorsement at the senate banking committee hearing was believed to express the long-awaited view of the white house on the controversal measure.

Rand's charge created a furore at the House Interstate Commerce Committee hearing on the bill. He read a letter, written by Dr. William A. Wirt, head of the Gary, Ind., school system, in which Wirt declared "brain trusters" had outlined their scheme to him.

Rand bitterly assailed the devised measure, declaring he had been informed British interests wanted the

Woodruff Dies At Harrisburg

CLOSE FRIEND OF GOVERNOR PINCHOT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—George W. Woodruff, member of the Public Service Commission, and a close friend of Gov. Gifford Pinchot, died in the Harrisburg hospital today of pleurisy. He was 70.

Death came shortly after 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was a shock to his friends at the capitol. Only this morning hospital attaches reported he had spent one of the most satisfactory nights since he entered the institution Monday. He apparently suffered a sudden relapse this morning.

Woodruff, who was a classmate of the governor's at Yale and was a member of President Theodore Roosevelt's famous "Tennis Cabinet," died just a few months less than two years after his appointment to the commission on July 16, 1931, for a ten-year term. His appointment, however, was never confirmed by the state senate.

His nomination was sent to four sessions of the upper house, but each time Republican organization leaders, in their utilities feud with the governor, buried the appointment in committee.

Woodruff, who made his home in Berwyn, a Philadelphia suburb, served his classmate of '89 in three different capacities: as attorney general in the Pinchot cabinet of 1923-1927; special adviser on utilities questions during the 1931 investigations and finally as public service commissioner.

Spy Scare Not Worrying U. S.

French Spy Scare Has Not Occasioned Any Alarm To American Government

AGENTS MAY OPEN INVESTIGATION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23—A suspicion that old world political intrigue in playing a prominent part in the French spy scare prevailed in both American diplomatic and military circles here today.

Officials in both quarters refused to take the Paris espionage case seriously, despite reports that the international ring exposed by the French authorities obtained details of American fortifications and airports on the Atlantic seaboard.

Neither the state department nor the army's military intelligence service has made any effort to investigate the charges of espionage in this country nor has either branch of the government received any evidence of the ring's alleged activities outside the Paris press reports.

Political Unrest

It was considered possible department of justice agents might look into the matter but if so it is likely to be on their own initiative rather than at the request of the State Department.

Belief prevailed that the spy scare was being magnified, if not actually inspired, by political factions in Paris to aid the military party and keep the public's mind off the nation's internal affairs.

The French government, according to advices received in well-informed circles here, is worried over the existing internal political unrest, especially the fascist and royalist movements.

"New Deal" Draws Wrath Of Borah

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—After a long period of quiescence, during which he has been studying the "New Deal" at close range, Senator William E. Borah has reached the conclusion that he doesn't like it.

The Idaho lone wolf, who has worried many administrations, is on the warpath again against the NRA and the AAA particularly.

Early this week Borah assailed the NRA as fostering monopoly and as driving the small business men to the wall by permitting monopolistic practices. He demanded the restoration of the anti-trust laws and their vigorous enforcement.

Today he came out with a slashing attack on the AAA, which he said was tackling the agriculture problem from the wrong end. It is not overproduction, he contended, which is at the root of the trouble, but under-consumption and lack of a proper method of distribution.

Points Out Incongruity

Curtailing production in important farm crops, he declared, would stabilize production "on the basis of starvation". He pointed to the incongruity of decreasing production at a time when millions are unemployed and millions in the larger cities are suffering from hunger and malnutrition.

The present policy of the AAA in withdrawing land from production, corn, cotton and wheat land, involves the loss of some 43,000,000 productive acres, or approximately 12½ per cent of the nation's total producing land, he said.

"A reduction of 43,000,000 acres means a decrease in the farm population of about 3,250,000 people," he declared.

"What are you going to do with them?

To Meet Each Other

"Industry is crowded. Indeed, at this very time it is proposed to send some 2,000,000 people from the crowded industrial centers back to the farm. Thus, the hegira from the farm going out will meet the hegira to the farm coming in. My contention is that we should leave these people on the land and do everything we can to keep them on the land. They may have to endure hardship, but they are better off on the land than drifting here and there.

"The complete answer to crop production is the restoration of purchasing power.

"An effort is now being made to increase wages and shorten hours. It has for its primary purpose the increase of purchasing power. Will the workers be permited to enjoy the raise? If the future is to be judged by the past, the raise will be charged back to the workman in increased prices.

"Monopoly is working through and under cover of the codes and sapping the very foundation upon which recovery rests. If the recovery program is to succeed it is absolutely necessary to provide assurance that advance in prices will not outrun increase in wages. The power to fix prices, monopolistic control over prices, must be taken away from those who now wield that powerful force."

President Is Awaiting Word In Strike Truce

Roosevelt Expects To Hear From Factions In Threatened Auto Strike

SOME ACTION IS EXPECTED SOON

White House Has Heard Stand Taken By Both Sides Of Dispute

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—President Roosevelt virtually cast aside routine engagements today, awaiting word from either faction in the automotive labor dispute that it will accept his suggestions for peace.

White House doors are wide open whenever either the manufacturers or labor officials want to see the president.

Expect Developments

There were no new developments in the labor negotiations over night. Both sides today were busy in conferences, however. Action of some sort was expected before nightfall.

Both sides have presented their arguments to the president in White House conferences. Each was adamant in his demands. Today, Mr. Roosevelt weighed the diverse claims of the two on the scales of economic justice, preparing for vigorous action to bring peace.

What steps he intends to take was not revealed. The word was passed informally at the White House that "some progress" has been made. Otherwise the White House and the interests involved were silent.

Strike Held Off

The only concrete accomplishment revealed so far was a further postponement of the threatened general strike of workers in the automobile industry. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced the strike will not be ordered pending conclusion of the negotiations here. At the outset of the Washington conferences the strike postponement order was for 48 hours, which would have called 250,000 men out today.

The workers want the manufacturers to recognize their elected agents for collective bargaining, regardless of whether those agents be

By JAMES KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, Mar. 23.—Samuel Insull is cruising leisurely aboard his chartered freighter, the Greek ship Maiotis, somewhere in the extreme eastern part of the Mediterranean sea, probably between the island of Cyprus and the coast of Palestine, International News Service learned today from a reliable source.

While his floating refuge from authorities which seek to return him to the United States for trial in connection with the collapse of the $2,000,000,000 public utilities empire which he once ruled cruises slowly about, three special agents are making every effort possible to obtain for him a passport visa which will permit him to land in some country along the eastern Mediterranean coast.

In Communication.

Meantime Insull's attorneys here, his wife and A. P. Synodinos, the owner of the Maiotis, are in regular communication with the skipper of the ship, who signals them his position by means of code messages. The last word from the captain of the Maiotis was received yesterday.

The message was sent in code by the Maiotis to the nearest wireless station ashore. The wireless station relays them by cable to Athens.

George Pop, one of Insull's attorneys, intimated today that the Greek government and the United States government know, and have known all the time, where Insull's floating haven was. I talked with Pop at noon today.

Tariff Bill Is Up For Debate

REPUBLICANS TO OFFER OPPOSITION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.— With Democratic leaders declaring passage is assured, the house today started lengthy debates on the administration's tariff bargaining bill.

Chairman Doughton (D) of North Carolina, of the ways and means committee, was confident of strong Democratic support after a check-up by party whips.

Approval of the measure was conceded by Republican leaders. While opposing the entire bill, the Republican opponents planned a vigorous fight to limit the powers of the president.

Empowers Roosevelt

The bill would empower the president to negotiate tariff-trade agreements with other nations and raise or lower tariff duties 50 per cent to make the agreements. He would be giver power to guarantee that tariff duties not directly involved in the trades would be unchanged during operation of the agreements.

Republican opponents planned to offer amendments limiting the bill to three years, forbidding the president to act without a finding of facts by the tariff commission and requiring congressional approval for every agreement.

"There is a general realization that we must restore foreign trade, and with tariff barriers being erected in all parts of the world the only way it can be done is by bargaining," said Doughton.

Gary School Head Says "Brain Trusters" Aim To Halt Recovery

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Strong endorsement of the revised stock market bill, voiced by Gov. Eugene R. Black of the Federal Reserve Board, was countered today by James H. Rand, Jr., industrialist chairman of the committee for the nation, with the charge that administration "brain trusters" are seeking to thwart business recovery so they can push the nation into communism.

Black's endorsement at the senate banking committee hearing was believed to express the long-awaited view of the white house on the controversal measure.

Rand's charge created a furore at the House Interstate Commerce Committee hearing on the bill. He read a letter, written by Dr. William A. Wirt, head of the Gary, Ind., school system, in which Wirt declared "brain trusters" had outlined their scheme to him.

Rand bitterly assailed the devised measure, declaring he had been informed British interests wanted the

Woodruff Dies At Harrisburg

CLOSE FRIEND OF GOVERNOR PINCHOT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—George W. Woodruff, member of the Public Service Commission, and a close friend of Gov. Gifford Pinchot, died in the Harrisburg hospital today of pleurisy. He was 70.

Death came shortly after 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was a shock to his friends at the capitol. Only this morning hospital attaches reported he had spent one of the most satisfactory nights since he entered the institution Monday. He apparently suffered a sudden relapse this morning.

Woodruff, who was a classmate of the governor's at Yale and was a member of President Theodore Roosevelt's famous "Tennis Cabinet," died just a few months less than two years after his appointment to the commission on July 16, 1931, for a ten-year term. His appointment, however, was never confirmed by the state senate.

His nomination was sent to four sessions of the upper house, but each time Republican organization leaders, in their utilities feud with the governor, buried the appointment in committee.

Woodruff, who made his home in Berwyn, a Philadelphia suburb, served his classmate of '89 in three different capacities: as attorney general in the Pinchot cabinet of 1923-1927; special adviser on utilities questions during the 1931 investigations and finally as public service commissioner.

Spy Scare Not Worrying U. S.

French Spy Scare Has Not Occasioned Any Alarm To American Government

AGENTS MAY OPEN INVESTIGATION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23—A suspicion that old world political intrigue in playing a prominent part in the French spy scare prevailed in both American diplomatic and military circles here today.

Officials in both quarters refused to take the Paris espionage case seriously, despite reports that the international ring exposed by the French authorities obtained details of American fortifications and airports on the Atlantic seaboard.

Neither the state department nor the army's military intelligence service has made any effort to investigate the charges of espionage in this country nor has either branch of the government received any evidence of the ring's alleged activities outside the Paris press reports.

Political Unrest

It was considered possible department of justice agents might look into the matter but if so it is likely to be on their own initiative rather than at the request of the State Department.

Belief prevailed that the spy scare was being magnified, if not actually inspired, by political factions in Paris to aid the military party and keep the public's mind off the nation's internal affairs.

The French government, according to advices received in well-informed circles here, is worried over the existing internal political unrest, especially the fascist and royalist movements.

"New Deal" Draws Wrath Of Borah

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—After a long period of quiesence, during which he has been studying the "New Deal" at close range, Senator William E. Borah has reached the conclusion that he doesn't like it.

The Idaho lone wolf, who has worried many administrations, is on the warpath again against the NRA and the AAA particularly.

Early this week Borah assailed the NRA as fostering monopoly and as driving the small business men to the wall by permitting monopolistic practices. He demanded the restoration of the anti-trust laws and their vigorous enforcement.

Today he came out with a slashing attack on the AAA, which he said was tackling the agriculture problem from the wrong end. It is not overproduction, he contended, which is at the root of the trouble, but under-consumption and lack of a proper method of distribution.

Points Out Incongruity

Curtailing production in important farm crops, he declared, would stabilize production, "on the basis of starvation". He pointed to the incongruity of decreasing production at a time when millions are unemployed and millions in the larger cities are suffering from hunger and malnutrition.

The present policy of the AAA in withdrawing land from production, corn, cotton and wheat land, involves the loss of some 43,000,000 productive acres, or approximately 12½ per cent of the nation's total producing land, he said.

"A reduction of 43,000,000 acres means a decrease in the farm population of about 3,250,000 people," he declared.

"What are you going to do with them?

To Meet Each Other

"Industry is crowded. Indeed, at this very time it is proposed to send some 2,000,000 people from the crowded industrial centers back to the farm. Thus, the hegira from the farm going out will meet the hegira to the farm coming in. My contention is that we should leave these people on the land and do everything we can to keep them on the land. They may have to endure hardship, but they are better off on the land than drifting here and there.

"The complete answer to crop production is the restoration of purchasing power.

"An effort is now being made to increase wages and shorten hours. It has for its primary purpose the increase of purchasing power. Will the workers be permited to enjoy the raise? If the future is to be judged by the past, the raise will be charged back to the workman in increased prices.

"Monopoly is working through and under cover of the codes and sapping the very foundation upon which recovery rests. If the recovery program is to succeed it is absolutely necessary to provide assurance that advance in prices will not outrun increase in wages. The power to fix prices, monopolistic control over prices, must be taken away from those who now wield that powerful force."

President Is Awaiting Word In Strike Truce

SOME ACTION IS EXPECTED SOON

White House Has Heard Stand Taken By Both Sides Of Dispute

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—President Roosevelt virtually cast aside routine engagements today, awaiting word from either faction in the automotive labor dispute that it will accept his suggestions for peace.

White House doors are wide open whenever either the manufacturers or labor officials want to see the president.

Expect Developments

There were no new developments in the labor negotiations over night. Both sides today were busy in conferences, however. Action of some sort was expected before nightfall.

Both sides have presented their arguments to the president in White House conferences. Each was adamant in its demands. Today, Mr. Roosevelt weighed the diverse claims of the two on the scales of economic justice, preparing for vigorous action to bring peace.

What steps he intends to take was not revealed. The word was passed informally at the White House that "some progress" has been made. Otherwise the White House and the interests involved were silent.

Strike Held Off

The only concrete accomplishment revealed so far was a further postponement of the threatened general strike of workers in the automobile industry. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced the strike will not be ordered pending conclusion of the negotiations here. At the outset of the Washington conferences the strike postponement order was for 48 hours, which would have called 250,000 men out today.

The workers want the manufacturers to recognize their elected agents for collective bargaining, regardless of whether those agents be

Presidential Veto Will Be Challenged By Veterans' Bloc

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Leaders of the veterans' bloc in the senate were ready today to compromise their differences with the house and accept the challenge of a presidential veto for their program, liberalizing benefits to veterans of all wars.

The issue was tossed back into the senate when the house insisted upon its less liberal program on government pay and veterans' benefits.

It appeared the senate would accept the house's judgment on restoring government pay slashes and the house rates on veterans' benefits, although revising the language of the house program to wpe out several alleged injustices to disabled veterans.

Administration leaders were ready to send back to conference the independent offices appropriation bill, to which the pay and veterans' legislation was attached as "riders".

They may have to endure hardship, but they are better off on the land than drifting here and there.

"The complete answer to crop production is the restoration of purchasing power.

"An effort is now being made to increase wages and shorten hours. It has for its primary purpose the increase of purchasing power. Will the workers be permited to enjoy the raise? If the future is to be judged by the past, the raise will be charged back to the workman in increased prices.

"Monopoly is working through and under cover of the codes and sapping the very foundation upon which recovery rests. If the recovery program is to succeed it is absolutely necessary to provide assurance that advance in prices will not outrun increase in wages. The power to fix prices, monopolistic control over prices, must be taken away from those who now wield that powerful force."

President Is Awaiting Word In Strike Truce

SOME ACTION IS EXPECTED SOON

White House Has Heard Stand Taken By Both Sides Of Dispute

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—President Roosevelt virtually cast aside routine engagements today, awaiting word from either faction in the automotive labor dispute that it will accept his suggestions for peace.

White House doors are wide open whenever either the manufacturers or labor officials want to see the president.

Expect Developments

There were no new developments in the labor negotiations over night. Both sides today were busy in conferences, however. Action of some sort was expected before nightfall.

Both sides have presented their arguments to the president in White House conferences. Each was adamant in its demands. Today, Mr. Roosevelt weighed the diverse claims of the two on the scales of economic justice, preparing for vigorous action to bring peace.

What steps he intends to take was not revealed. The word was passed informally at the White House that "some progress" has been made. Otherwise the White House and the interests involved were silent.

Strike Held Off

The only concrete accomplishment revealed so far was a further postponement of the threatened general strike of workers in the automobile industry. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced the strike will not be ordered pending conclusion of the negotiations here. At the outset of the Washington conferences the strike postponement order was for 48 hours, which would have called 250,000 men out today.

The workers want the manufacturers to recognize their elected agents for collective bargaining, regardless of whether those agents be

Smith Reminds Democrats Of Party Pledge

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Alfred E. Smith today reminded the Democratic party that its 1932 platform pledges adherence to the world court.

Smith wrote to Newton D. Baker, who he arrested as "chairman, committee on arrangements, world court hearing, Washington, D. C." And the letter was made public as the senate foreign relations committee began hearings on the world court protocol.

After all of the nice things we said about Spring, after greeting the lass as we did, after telling what a nice looker she was from the shoes on her feet to her lid. After all of the phrases of honey we spilled, and wishing her well and all that, she ups and she flirts with King Winter again, and seems to have left us all flat. And I wouldn't complain if I hadn't dragged out my light clothes and then laid away the woolens and flannels I've carried so long, it's cool, twenty-seven today.

With a quizzical smile Pop added: "What I am trying to do now is find an island where I can land Insull and make him another Robinson Crusoe."

While I was talking with Pop, another member of the Insull legal staff, Attorney Xiros, hurriedly entered the office. He whispered a message to Pop, who excused himself and left immediately with Xiros.

The two entered an automobile in which Mrs. Insull was seated. The car drove to the French consulate where Mrs. Insull obtained a transit visa for her passport. She had been detained in Athens two days because the French consulate here would not give her a visa until authorized by the French government to do so. It is expected Mrs. Insull will leave tomorrow for Paris.

Scoops Up Money.

Scooping up money from the cash drawers, the bandits were surprised by a tear gas attack used in place of a burglar alarm system in the bank. Struggling to the door of the bank, the four armed men sprang to the running board of the "get-away" car. The leader dropped the cash as he was about to get into the car. Only about $35 of the bank's funds were unaccounted for after a checkup.

The car used in the stickup bore Ohio license 387,397, issued at Morral, O., eight miles from Marion, police said.

James McCann and Ward Gringry, customers in the bank, identified the Lansing robber as a member of the gang.

"I was told," the letter added, "that they believed that by thwarting our then evident recovery they would be able to prolong the country's destitution until they had demonstrated to the American people that the government must operate industry and commerce."

Burton, who has strived along in this little community of 5,000 on a modest income, could hardly believe he held a ticket on Delaneige.

He laughed, "I don't know how I feel. The ticket calls for $100,000," he told an International News Service correspondent.

Burton, who signed his ticket with the nom de plum, "Hillside", said he had no plans as to what he will do with the prize money.

PRESIDENTIAL VETO WILL BE CHALLENGED BY VETERANS' BLOC

They favored this step apparently in the hope of strengthening the president's position for a possible veto by having the house finally accept the more liberal senate program.

This strategy was met by a decision of senate veterans' leaders to place the house program before the president. They feel they can enact that program over a veto, should Mr. Roosevelt refuse to sign the bill.

Both house and senate plans would hospitalize all veterans unable to care for themselves. The president approved this in an executive order.

Scoops Up Money.

Scooping up money from the cash drawers, the bandits were surprised by a tear gas attack used in place of a burglar alarm system in the bank. Struggling to the door of the bank, the four armed men sprang to the running board of the "get-away" car. The leader dropped the cash as he was about to get into the car. Only about $35 of the bank's funds were unaccounted for after a checkup.

The car used in the stickup bore Ohio license 387,397, issued at Morral, O., eight miles from Marion, police said.

James McCann and Ward Grinzy, customers in the bank, identified the Lansing robber as a member of the gang.

Dr. Wirt's letter created a sensation at the house hearing. In it, Wirt said that last summer he canvassed some members of the "brain trust" on their concrete plan "for bringing on the proposed overthrow of the established American social order."

Names of the "brain trusters" were not divulged.

"I was told," the letter added, "that they believed that by thwarting our then evident recovery they would be able to prolong the country's destitution until they had demonstrated to the American people that the government must operate industry and commerce."

BRADFORD, Pa., Mar. 23.—"One hardly knows how to feel about winning that kind of a prize."

This terse comment told of the happiness brought to J. T. Burton, 43-year-old civil engineer, when informed Delaneige had placed in the grand national steeplechase race at Aintree, England, today.

Burton, who has strived along in this little community of 5,000 on a modest income, could hardly believe he held a ticket on Delaneige.

He laughed, "I don't know how I feel. The ticket calls for $100,000," he told an International News Service correspondent.

PRESIDENTIAL VETO WILL BE CHALLENGED BY VETERANS' BLOC

Both house and senate plans would hospitalize all veterans unable to care for themselves. The president approved this in an executive order.

Trainmen Burned To Death When Caboose Telescopes Standing Cars

PROBE IS STARTED TO FIND CAUSE

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Mar. 23.—As the aftermath of a rear-end collision, the charred bodies of three railroad employes lay in the morgue today as state and Pennsylvania railroad authorities sought to determine whether negligence caused their death. The collision occurred on the Trenton cut-off, three miles south of here.

The three victims, all of Pottsville, were F. J. Minchof, 43-year-old father of eight children, conductor; R. D. Brown, 33, brakeman, and C. R. Heffner, 32, flagman.

The men were burned beyond recognition in a huge fire which broke out after the caboose in which they were riding last night telescoped into the rear end of a standing train of empty freight cars. The caboose was being pushed by a "light" engine.

common secret," Pop said. "All governments concerned know where it is cruising."

With a quizzical smile Pop added: "What I am trying to do now is find an island where I can land Insull and make him another Robinson Crusoe."

While I was talking with Pop, another member of the Insull legal staff, Attorney Xiros, hurriedly entered the office. He whispered a message to Pop, who excused himself and left immediately with Xiros.

The two entered an automobile in which Mrs. Insull was seated. The car drove to the French consulate where Mrs. Insull obtained a transit visa for her passport. She had been detained in Athens two days because the French consulate here would not give her a visa until authorized by the French government to do so. It is expected Mrs. Insull will leave tomorrow for Paris.

FINE TRIBUTE TO JACOB COSEL

the 1911-12 term. As Mr. Hess closed his testimonial, he turned to Mr. Cosel and in behalf of the lodge presented him with a handsome purse and keyrainer, carrying Mr. Cosel's initials and the emblem of the Elks.

"Words cannot appreciate" Mr. Cosel began in response "to express my appreciation for this dinner tonight. That you have confidence in me, that you have honored me with offices like you have, is something which makes me mighty proud—I feel and appreciate that confidence more than the dinner almost."

During the evening the lodge paid recognition to Mr. Cosel's two sons who were present, William L. and Max. Another son, Nathan lives in Washington and another daughter Mrs. Leon Fox lives in Los Angeles.

Featuring the program was the introduction of Jonas Kaufman, presented as "the oldest Elk present." Kaufman is 82. The lodge also made note of the absence of Harry Alexander prominent in Elks councils, now vacationing in Florida.

The affair was closed by the singing of the Elks song, "Auld Lang Syne."

Serving on the committee on arrangements for the affair were Abe Levine chairman: C. W. Herman Hess, L. G. Genkinger, Ralph M. Campbell, Exalted Ruler E. J. Ryan, C. L. Hughes, Bertram Davis, Geo. W. Thomas and Harry D. Horner.

Seeks Compromise

Mr. Roosevelt is trying to get one or both factions to yield to some sort of compromise. He devoted his working hours today to the framing of a peace program on which he hopes both sides will agree.

Both the labor officials and automobile executives were standing by here today, awaiting further word from the White House. The executives at present have no specific engagement to return to the president's office, but the workers expected a call today.

Alvan McAuley, president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce and the Packard Motor Car Co., A. P. Sloan of General Motors, and Walter Chrysler, headed the delegation of manufacturers here.

SPAGHETTI SUPPER FEATURES EVENING

Thursday evening a most enjoyable event in the dining room of the First Baptist church was the spaghetti supper, served as the climax to an attendance contest which was waged between the young men's class, the Beacons, taught by B. French Johnson, and the young ladies' class, taught by Beulah Heaton, the Gems.

The Gems were the guests of the Beacons and the tables were attractively decorated in orchid and yellow, with flowering potted plants adding colorfulness to the setting of the tables, which formed a large U, with places arranged for 50 young men and women. The boys acted as "waiters" and served the menu prepared by the Garrett family.

The girls were in charge of the program, with "Memories" as the theme of the evening and some hilarity was caused by some of the reminiscences of "Grandpa", Florence Thomas, and "Grandma", Virginia Davis.

The Sunday school memories were given by Irene Perry, Erma Ray, Beulah Heaton, Henrietta Bishop and Claire Anderson and some of the questions and answers were most mirth provoking.

The school day memories were recalled by a solo, 'Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Sarah Pattison and a sketch presented by Florence Williams, Ruth Smith, Marion Johnson, Ina Lusk, Lillian Morris and Esther Giles.

A musical dialogue was presented by Mabel and Elizabeth Schunk, accompanied by Beulah Heaton and a play, "Two Old Maid Aunts" by Alice Hockenberry, Hilda Mackey, Jean Sumner and Marie Hogue.

The grand finale was the singing of "Memories" by the entertaining group after which a period of games was enjoyed.

Woman's Club Sponsors Brilliant Spring Event

"Chic, smart, lovely, charming" were some of the adjectives used Thursday evening by the hundreds of women of the city who enjoyed the hospitality of the Woman's club at the annual bridge and style review in the New Castle Dry Goods store.

Mrs. E. F. G. Harper and her retinue of officers were on the receiving line on the second floor of the store and greeted the guests as they arrived. Every available inch of floor space was utilized in placing the card tables, but the guests were so numerous that many were unable to engage in bridge, these enjoying a period of conversation while cards were in play. At conclusion of play the holder of high score at each table was rewarded with the cards with which they played as prizes.

At 9:30 the card tables were folded up and every eye was turned toward the stage and runway which had been erected at the front of the store, for, from here were shown some of the most modish of the season's apparel for the tiny tot, the growing miss and the matured woman.

CLASS HAS FAREWELL PARTY FOR TEACHER

As a farewell courtesy to Mrs. E. W. Swan, whose health requires her resignation as teacher of a class in the First Christian Sunday School, the members of her class entertained at a delightful party Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Ralph Newingham, 1200 Highland avenue.

Mrs. Swan was given a shower of lovely hankies and was presented with a beautiful lamp in appreciation of her interest in the class the past years. An additional feature of the evening was the presentation of a number of lovely gifts to the hostess, to be used in her new home.

The evening concluded with a delicious lunch served to 20 guests, the hostess being assisted in serving by Mrs. Lewis Bush and Mrs. Amos Meyers.

Children's Party.

Honoring the eight birthday of her daughter Delores Jean, Mrs. George Kuder, Hazen street, entertained a group of her little friends Wednesday evening.

Various games were enjoyed with prizes being awarded Doris Duncan and Phyllis Burdett. At 7 o'clock the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harold Brown, served a delicious lunch, table appointments and favors being carried out in pink and white.

Jolly Twelve Club

Mrs. D. T. Andrews, Round street, was a most pleasing hostess Thursday in her home when she entertained the members of the Jolly Twelve club and a few special guests.

A short business meeting opened the club's activities, after which cards were the evening's feature, with Mrs. Gertrude Pontius and Mrs. Charles Gardner winning the prizes.

Spring flowers and Easter suggestions were used in the serving of refreshments, the hostess being aided by her niece, Hulda Perkins.

April 5 Mrs. Charles Gardner, East Brook, will entertain.

Polka Dot Club

The Polka Dots were entertainingly received Wednesday evening by Mrs. Cora Horn in her Butler avenue home, with cards and bingo as the evening's amusements.

Mrs. Helen Hartman, Mrs. Cora Horn and Charles Martman were awarded the 500 prizes and the bingo winners were Mrs. Martha Wimer and Mrs. Ida Ashton.

Refreshments of a delicious nature concluded the evening. March 28 Mrs. Martha Wimer, Court street, will receive the members.

Announce Engagement

Mrs. Jennie Sankey, Meyer avenue, announces the engagement of her daughter, Helen S., to James W. Messner, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Messner, Lafayette street.

The engagement will terminate in a June wedding.

"PLEASE EXCUSE MY MUD!"

MOTORISTS have their troubles no less than pedestrians. The other day in Connecticut a driver ran into a puddle, showering a pedestrian with muddy water. He was arrested and convicted of "assault and battery with an automobile" and fined five dollars.

After every rainstorm in New Castle streets are filled with muddy puddles. Few motorists are skillful enough to avoid them all, and as a consequence pedestrians are often treated to mud baths. But how is the responsibility to be fixed? The city and not the driver is responsible for the mud holes. It is true that it is the car which does the splashing. Which is responsible for the damage?

Shall the decision of the Connecticut Solomon be accepted as a precedent in this community.

MUST DISARM RACKETEER ARMY

A statement that will startle those who are watching the campaigns against crime in this country was made by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings before the senate judiciary committee. He declares that more persons are under arms in the underworld than in the combined forces of the United States army and navy.

The statement reveals what a tremendous task the nation is facing in its warfare against gangsters and racketeers. It is indisputable evidence that action of the sternest kind is necessary if the laws of the land are to be upheld. A series of anti-gangster and anti-racketeering bills is now before congress and it is expected they will be adopted. The proposed legislation may go a long way toward lowering the crime rate, but there will be no real step toward law observance until the criminals are disarmed. Take away his gun and the criminal is easily controlled.

OPPENHEIM IN REAL LIFE

The story from Paris of a spy ring, headed by two Americans, suggests one of Mr. Oppenheim's thrillers. It has operated chiefly in France, with ramifications in Great Britain and the United States. The beneficiary was first supposed to be Russia. Now there are suspicions that Germany is involved. The French government has supported its belief in the tale by arresting, among others, a French reserve officer and war veteran; and confessions are attributed to the Americans.

Here is the mere outline of a plot capable of indefinite expansion. One of the Americans is a woman; you can not have a spy story without a woman in it. The plot differs from any of Oppenheim's in that the pay received by the spies is said to be trifling. There ought to be at least a villa at Cannes or Monte Carlo in the background. Until this is discovered the tale will lack credibility.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES

Our faith in freedom is based on the belief that every human soul has its own sovereign rights—rights that are not merely granted by society but are an essential of the human character. Since society is nothing apart from the men and women of which it is fashioned, it can never ignore this right of freedom without courting its own destruction.

Yet this freedom is not the freedom for men to do as they please. Even in primitive society this freedom is denied, and the complex demands of civilization deny it is a thousand ways. When men agree to live together for the sake of work or happiness, they set limits to their behavior and agree to live beneath a code and law.

Yet the right of freedom remains. It is a right not to natural but to spiritual freedom. Its most vital doctrine is that men have the right to think as they please.

Man as a member of society has duties rather than rights. As an individual his rights are supreme. The problem of society is to appoint to each man his duties while scrupulously protecting his rights. For in the right of men to think as they please lies the only hope for the endurance and perfection of society.

HEADLIGHTS AND PEDESTRIAN DANGERS

Headlight blindness is one of the most dangerous hazards of night motoring, a hazard not only to the occupants of automobiles and to property, but to the pedestrian. In fact, walking at night along state roads or even the more remote thoroughfares is a matter of taking one's life in one's hands and might well be termed "The Suicide Club."

To the conscientious driver of an automobile, glaring headlights are a source of torment. He sees two moons approaching him down the road. On they come growing into two shafts of light and finally lose their individual identities as they bear down upon the tense driver. For a matter of seconds there is nothing visible before him but a fog of light. That interval of light-blindness is enough, however, to leave death and destruction in its path.

Few drivers in these times are so careful that they will bring their cars to a stop at the approach of the glaring headlights. It is not to be wondered at that there are so few, for a pilot cautious enough to stop for the passage of blinding lights would soon find that he had better stayed at home so far as progress on his journey was concerned.

It's a big problem!

DRAMA FROM THE ANTARCTIC

The current Byrd expedition to the South Pole will produce few, if any, stories so packed with drama, with human interest, with heroism and courage, as that of the first major operation ever performed on the Antarctic Continent.

There, Dr. L. H. Pokata, a young Maori physician brought from New Zealand to replace the expedition's original surgeon, performed an emergency appendicitis operation the exact counterpart of which may never again be recorded.

With his patient, Joe Pelter, expedition aerial mapper, lying on a table made of thawed-out stretchers, and with Admiral Byrd and expedition members assisting, he did a surgical job that took two hours but, to all appearances was a genuine success.

Richard Evelyn Byrd continues to prove himself a great explorer, a great adventurer and a great humanitarian. Without his insistance that the health of his men be safeguarded at all costs, Dr. Pokota would not have been at Little America to save Joe Pelter's life with that emergency operation in the underground radio hut where he had little more than room enough to work and where death was always at his elbow. The admiral had brought the doctor from New Zealand in a few brief weeks so that the expedition would not be without a surgeon after Dr. Shirley was forced to leave because of illness.

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

Not feeling very well today?

And you're afraid you may be sicker?

And you might even die?

And people would be sorry? And your family would suffer? And you'd lose forever this bright, fascinating world?

O gloomy thought! O hopeless wight! How worry feeds on worry and fear on fear. How a man, apprehensive and anxious, can work himself into a "state" and wreck his own joy of living! . . . No other creature on this earth does that. Only man has that devilish ability, by thought, to make himself uncomfortable and even afraid. The placid cow, the lively cat, the friendly dog, the darting bird—none of these ever fear the thing that has not yet happened. They take their natural, instinctive precautions and leave the unknown to take care of itself, facing it only when it confronts them. . . . And why should you, superior being, be so dismally otherwise?

May I give you something else to think about? . . . Even tin gets sick. . . . A scientist told me that the other day. He said that tin gets what is called a "sickness". Mysteriously something happens to it. It turns gray and disintegrates to a powder. And the disease is infectious. You place a pile of healthy tin on the floor near some of the sick tin and the disease spreads. It's a physical change that comes over the tin. X-ray photography shows an actual change in the structure of the crystals of the tin. . . . And so far the tin manufacturers have discovered no cure for the disease except to melt it over and start afresh. The tin cannot help itself. It does not worry, but it is helpless.

But you can help yourself. You can give your body a lift. Within you are forces that fight constantly, whether you sleep or wake, for health, friendly to you, inimical to the derangement that makes you ill. You fret; you worry, you coddle yourself; you get into a state of misery and fear and you make yourself worse. . . . "It's all very well," you say, "to advise me not to worry, but how can I stop it?" . . . By thinking about tin, perhaps, or about one distant star, or sunspots, or diamonds, or what a baby knows, or whether married people grow to look alike. Or anything but worrying, anxious you!

HELP WANTED

Perhaps you have some grounds for believing that you need not reply to all social letters.

But it is hard to imagine, how you can expect to be excused from not answering business or community letters.

Men who accept public office should consider it a part of their job to answer all sensible letters addressed to them by their constituents.

In an effort to better conditions, it is necessary for the leaders to write to those whom they wish to assist them in their undertakings.

These letters may require time, work and study, without remuneration.

But the one who is assigned work, as a leader—or by a leader—to aid in bringing back better conditions for everybody, should not quibble about how much they shall be paid.

They should be willing to donate all the time and effort they can spare to aiding in the country's recovery.

Certainly, the least they can do, is to answer the correspondence they receive from those who, also without remuneration, are trying to do their part.

Don't be so stingy with your time.

NEVER A DULL DAY.

Nothing of consequence today
Has happened, so I calmly say,
The paper spread before me.
No tragedies of high import,
No speculations, long or short.
The headlines merely bore me;
No startling news, no shock, no thrill,
It seems as if mankind stood still.

And yet across the way at morn
Another little babe was born
To make that household gladder.
While farther down the street came death
To end an old man's fight for breath
And leave that family sadder.
Both commonplace events, men say,
Since they are happening every day.

A dull day! Should I ask the maid,
For whom a mat is being laid,
Where shortly she'll be treading,
This day of days is hers alone,
Remembered when the years have flown,
The morning of her wedding!
To those who love and those who care
Events are happening everywhere.

The World At A Glance

Auto Strike Psychology Roosevelt Wallop Unused Guilds In Place Of Unions?

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Washington couldn't picture an auto strike—now. This is the peak of the auto season.

One man presumably acquainted with the situation said the workers "had" General Motors now—but that General Motors would "have" the workers in three months or so from now.

"Compromise is the order of the day," this man said. "Compromise—and then fight it out when times are more expedient to the corporations."

Compromise is looked upon in Washington as making a final solution more difficult.

* * *

ROOSEVELT

The name of Roosevelt is as potent in Washington as elsewhere

The very fact that the president does not force through his programs—and he is not forcing them through—will make the wallop stronger when he does act. Congress is in a period of constant suspense.

* * *

CONSUMER

The NRA remains the foremost Roosevelt problem. The president has not yet conquered it. Eventually he may fall over it.

The president is, of course, fully aware of the criticism of the act and its administration.

He sees how the consumer is being forced to pay more and more. He sees how the lack of a standards clause to codes has caused not only consumers, but merchants, to be victimized by inferior goods. He has seen the forming of monopolies at the expense of the small fellow.

The president likewise has looked with disapproval on the efforts of corporations to ward off unionization.

He knows that among the millions of workers (who, incidentally, are citizens and workers) that corporations are being denounced. But there is a question, too, as to whether the type of union now in existence is the type best suited for the needs of collective bargaining.

Organization on both sides is an essentiality now put into law, the administration points out. But isn't the crafts union as obsolete as the industrial "trust", which the crafts union battled for years?

* * *

GUILDS

Thus the next major labor step by President Roosevelt may be the formation of guilds for each major industry to bargain with the cartels, or monopolistic groups of manufacturers.

The government would sit as arbiter.

The American Federation of Labor has proved itself a haven for the individual workmen, but it is seen among the "New Thinkers" as belonging to the age of 'rugged individualism."

The government itself may become the Federation which will protect the worker. Guilds may become government instrumentalities, as a legitimate outgrowth of the NRA.

Some may call that socialism, some may call that fascism. There seems to be no doubt that any defeat of labor at the moment by means used in the past would quickly bring guilds into being under the complete authority of the federal government.

And the president now has the power under the NRA to license any or every industry.

Thus a bitter warfare between employer and employe, possible only two years ago, is not likely to occur today. The government is all powerful.

FRIDAY, MAR. 23

HISTORY'S GREAT DAYS—Mar. 23, 1775—Patrick Henry, 39, not an Irishman (he was Scotch), found his fellows indifferent when he offered a resolution in the provincial convention at Richmond for the organization of Virginia's militia and defenses. Angered, he burst into a classic speech:

"If we are base enough to desire it, it is now too late to retire from the contest. There is no retreat, but in submission and slavery! Our chains are forged! Their clanking may be heard on the plains of Boston! The war is inevitable—and let it come. . . .

"Gentleman may cry, Peace, peace—but there is no peace. The war is actually begun. . . . Our brethren are already in the field! Why stand we here idle? What is it that gentlemen wish? What would they have? Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

Indian Town Of 1540 Found Under Mound In No. Carolina

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The long-sought Cherokee Indian town of Guasili, visited by Hernando De Soto in 1540 has been discovered under a large mound in the mountains of North Carolina, the Smithsonian Institution here has revealed.

The mound is being excavated by the Smithsonian Institution under the direction of Jesse D. Jennings of the University of Chicago. He is in charge of a large force of CWA workers at the mound.

Officials of the institution say there is little doubt of the identity of the historically important village because of the description of Guasili in De Soto's journals.

Near the top of the mound Jennings has found unmistakable evidence of European influence, with glass beads and scraps of iron mingled with typical Cherokee artifacts, the institution reports. Below this level the Indian objects remain the same but the European fragments disappear. Below this under the base of the mound, there is evidence of a habitation level outlined by postholes. There also are remnants of a sweathouse with numerous burned logs, Jennings advises.

De Soto's reports picture Guasili as a town of about 300 wooden houses, the capital of a province of the same name, where the hungry Spaniards were given a hearty welcome. Its occupants may have been Cherokee, since this was in Cherokee tribe.

One of De Soto's reports describes his entry into the village in this manner:

"The Lord who bore the name of the province, left the capital half a league to meet the Spaniards, accompanied by 500 of the principal persons of the country, very gaily dressed after their fashion, and conducted us into his village . . .

"His lodge was upon a mound, with a terrace around it where six men could promenade abreast."

The people of Guasili were visited in 1566 by the Spanish official Juan Pardo who "held a conference with them in the interest of his Holiness and his Majesty and they replied that they wished to be Christians and have his majesty for their master."

OCEAN TIDES.

Some years ago, the tide gauges at the two ends of the Panama Canal were connected by a line of precise leveling. Computations from a record of tides for ten years indicated that the average mean sea level at the Pacific entrance was approximately seven inches higher than at the Atlantic entrance.

Determinations of the mean sea levels along the coasts of the United States indicate that the difference averages about two feet at equal latitudes.

WHERE AMERICA GETS OFF

English schoolboy's essay: "Americans always think they are ahead of us in everything, but that's all nonsense. As a matter of fact, we have had the use of each day hours before they have, so that it is sort of second-hand before they get it."

Gosh, the outlook must be getting rosy, indeed, when financial experts can say nonchalantly that a government bond may be purchased for "as little as $50."

"PLEASE EXCUSE MY MUD!"

MOTORISTS have their troubles no less than pedestrians. The other day in Connecticut a driver ran into a puddle, showering a pedestrian with muddy water. He was arrested and convicted of "assault and battery with an automobile" and fined five dollars.

After every rainstorm in New Castle streets are filled with muddy puddles. Few motorists are skillful enough to avoid them all, and as a consequence pedestrians are often treated to mud baths. But how is the responsibility to be fixed? The city and not the driver is responsible for the mud holes. It is true that it is the car which does the splashing. Which is responsible for the damage?

Shall the decision of the Connecticut Solomon be accepted as a precedent in this community.

MUST DISARM RACKETEER ARMY

A statement that will startle those who are watching the campaigns against crime in this country was made by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings before the senate judiciary committee. He declares that more persons are under arms in the underworld than in the combined forces of the United States army and navy.

The statement reveals what a tremendous task the nation is facing in its warfare against gangsters and racketeers. It is indisputable evidence that action of the sternest kind is necessary if the laws of the land are to be upheld. A series of anti-gangster and anti-racketeering bills is now before congress and it is expected they will be adopted. The proposed legislation may go a long way toward lowering the crime rate, but there will be no real step toward law observance until the criminals are disarmed. Take away his gun and the criminal is easily controlled.

OPPENHEIM IN REAL LIFE

The story from Paris of a spy ring, headed by two Americans, suggests one of Mr. Oppenheim's thrillers. It has operated chiefly in France, with ramifications in Great Britain and the United States. The beneficiary was first supposed to be Russia. Now there are suspicions that Germany is involved. The French government has supported its belief in the tale by arresting, among others, a French reserve officer and war veteran; and confessions are attributed to the Americans.

Here is the mere outline of a plot capable of indefinite expansion. One of the Americans is a woman; you can not have a spy story without a woman in it. The plot differs from any of Oppenheim's in that the pay received by the spies is said to be trifling. There ought to be at least a villa at Cannes or Monte Carlo in the background. Until this is discovered the tale will lack credibility.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES

Our faith in freedom is based on the belief that every human soul has its own sovereign rights—rights that are not merely granted by society but are an essential of the human character. Since society is nothing apart from the men and women of which it is fashioned, it can never ignore this right of freedom without courting its own destruction.

Yet this freedom is not the freedom for men to do as they please. Even in primitive society this freedom is denied, and the complex demands of civilization deny it is a thousand ways. When men agree to live together for the sake of work or happiness, they set limits to their behavior and agree to live beneath a code and law.

Yet the right of freedom remains. It is a right not to natural but to spiritual freedom. Its most vital doctrine is that men have the right to think as they please.

Man as a member of society has duties rather than rights. As an individual his rights are supreme. The problem of society is to appoint to each man his duties while scrupulously protecting his rights. For in the right of men to think as they please lies the only hope for the endurance and perfection of society.

HEADLIGHTS AND PEDESTRIAN DANGERS

Headlight blindness is one of the most dangerous hazards of night motoring, a hazard not only to the occupants of automobiles and to property, but to the pedestrian. In fact, walking at night along state roads or even the more remote thoroughfares is a matter of taking one's life in one's hands and might well be termed "The Suicide Club."

To the conscientious driver of an automobile, glaring headlights are a source of torment. He sees two moons approaching him down the road. On they come growing into two shafts of light and finally lose their individual identities as they bear down upon the tense driver. For a matter of seconds there is nothing visible before him but a fog of light. That interval of light-blindness is enough, however, to leave death and destruction in its path.

Few drivers in these times are so careful that they will bring their cars to a stop at the approach of the glaring headlights. It is not to be wondered at that there are so few, for a pilot cautious enough to stop for the passage of blinding lights would soon find that he had better stayed at home so far as progress on his journey was concerned.

It's a big problem!

DRAMA FROM THE ANTARCTIC

The current Byrd expedition to the South Pole will produce few, if any, stories so packed with drama, with human interest, with heroism and courage, as that of the first major operation ever performed on the Antarctic Continent.

There, Dr. L. H. Pokata, a young Maori physician brought from New Zealand to replace the expedition's original surgeon, performed an emergency appendicitis operation the exact counterpart of which may never again be recorded.

With his patient, Joe Pelter, expedition aerial mapper, lying on a table made of thawed-out stretchers, and with Admiral Byrd and expedition members assisting, he did a surgical job that took two hours but, to all appearances was a genuine success.

Richard Evelyn Byrd continues to prove himself a great explorer, a great adventurer and a great humanitarian. Without his insistance that the health of his men be safeguarded at all costs, Dr. Pokota would not have been at Little America to save Joe Pelter's life with that emergency operation in the underground radio hut where he had little more than room enough to work and where death was always at his elbow. The admiral had brought the doctor from New Zealand in a few brief weeks so that the expedition would not be without a surgeon after Dr. Shirley was forced to leave because of illness.

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

Not feeling very well today?

And you're afraid you may be sicker?

And you might even die?

And people would be sorry? And your family would suffer? And you'd lose forever this bright, fascinating world?

O gloomy thought! O hopeless wight! How worry feeds on worry and fear on fear. How a man, apprehensive and anxious, can work himself into a "state" and wreck his own joy of living! . . . No other creature on this earth does that. Only man has that devilish ability, by thought, to make himself uncomfortable and even afraid. The placid cow, the lively cat, the friendly dog, the darting bird—none of these ever fear the thing that has not yet happened. They take their natural, instinctive precautions and leave the unknown to take care of itself, facing it only when it confronts them. . . . And why should you, superior being, be so dismally otherwise?

May I give you something else to think about? . . . Even tin gets sick. . . . A scientist told me that the other day. He said that tin gets what is called a "sickness". Mysteriously something happens to it. It turns gray and disintegrates to a powder. And the disease is infectious. You place a pile of healthy tin on the floor near some of the sick tin and the disease spreads. It's a physical change that comes over the tin. X-ray photography shows an actual change in the structure of the crystals of the tin. . . . And so far the tin manufacturers have discovered no cure for the disease except to melt it over and start afresh. The tin cannot help itself. It does not worry, but it is helpless.

But you can help yourself. You can give your body a lift. Within you are forces that fight constantly, whether you sleep or wake, for health, friendly to you, inimical to the derangement that makes you ill. You fret, you worry, you coddle yourself; you get into a state of misery and fear and you make yourself worse. . . . "It's all very well," you say, "to advise me not to worry, but how can I stop it?" . . . By thinking about tin, perhaps, or about one distant star, or sunspots, or diamonds, or what a baby knows, or whether married people grow to look alike. Or anything but worrying, anxious you!

HELP WANTED

Perhaps you have some grounds for believing that you need not reply to all social letters.

But it is hard to imagine, how you can expect to be excused from not answering business or community letters.

Men who accept public office should consider it a part of their jo`s to answer all sensible letters addressed to them by their constituents.

In an effort to better conditions, it is necessary for the leaders to write to those whom they wish to assist them in their undertakings.

These letters may require time, work and study, without remuneration.

But the one who is assigned work, as a leader—or by a leader—to aid in bringing back better conditions for everybody, should not quibble about how much they shall be paid.

They should be willing to donate all the time and effort they can spare to aiding in the country's recovery.

Certainly, the least they can do, is to answer the correspondence they receive from those who, also without remuneration, are trlying to do their part.

Don't be so stingy with your time.

NEVER A DULL DAY.

Nothing of consequence today
Has happened, so I calmly say,
The paper spread before me.
No tragedies of high import,
No speculations, long or short.
The headlines merely bore me;
No startling news, no shock, no thrill,
It seems as if mankind stood still.

And yet across the way at morn
Another little babe was born
To make that household gladder,
While farther down the street came death
To end an old man's fight for breath
And leave that family sadder.
Both commonplace events, men say.
Since they are happening every day.

A dull day! Should I ask the maid,
For whom a mat is being laid,
Where shortly she'll be treading.
This day of days is hers alone,
Remembered when the years have flown,
The morning of her wedding!
To those who love and those who care
Events are happening everywhere.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Washington couldn't picture an auto strike—now. This is the peak of the auto season.

One man presumably acquainted with the situation said the workers "had" General Motors now—but that General Motors would "have" the workers in three months or so from now.

"Compromise is the order of the day," this man said. "Compromise—and then fight it out when times are more expedient to the corporations."

Compromise is looked upon in Washington as making a final solution more difficult.

* * *

ROOSEVELT

The name of Roosevelt is as potent in Washington as elsewhere

The very fact that the president does not force through his programs—and he is not forcing them through—will make the wallop stronger when he does act. Congress is in a period of constant suspense.

* * *

CONSUMER

The NRA remains the foremost Roosevelt problem. The president has not yet conquered it. Eventually he may fall over it.

The president is, of course, fully aware of the criticism of the act and its administration.

He sees how the consumer is being forced to pay more and more. He sees how the lack of a standards clause to codes has caused not only consumers, but merchants, to be victimized by inferior goods. He has seen the forming of monopolies at the expense of the small fellow.

The president likewise has looked with disapproval on the efforts of corporations to ward off unionization.

He knows that among the millions of workers (who, incidentally, are citizens and workers) that corporations are being denounced. But there is a question, too, as to whether the type of union now in existence is the type best suited for the needs of collective bargaining.

Organization on both sides is an essentiality now put into law, the administration points out. But isn't the crafts union as obsolete as the industrial "trust", which the crafts union battled for years?

* * *

GUILDS

Thus the next major labor step by President Roosevelt may be the formation of guilds for each major industry to bargain with the cartels, or monopolistic groups of manufacturers.

The government would sit as arbiter.

The American Federation of Labor has proved itself a haven for the individual workmen, but it is seen among the "New Thinkers" as belonging to the age of 'rugged individualism."

The government itself may become the Federation which will protect the worker. Guilds may become government instrumentalities, as a legitimate outgrowth of the NRA.

Some may call that socialism, some may call that fascism. There seems to be no doubt that any defeat of labor at the moment by means used in the past would quickly bring guilds into being under the complete authority of the federal government.

And the president now has the power under the NRA to license any or every industry.

Thus a bitter warfare between employer and employe, possible only two years ago, is not likely to occur today. The government is all powerful.

HISTORY'S GREAT DAYS—Mar. 23, 1775—Patrick Henry, 39, not an Irishman (he was Scotch), found his fellows indifferent when he offered a resolution in the provincial convention at Richmond for the organization of Virginia's militia and defenses. Angered, he burst into a classic speech:

"If we are base enough to desire it, it is now too late to retire from the contest. There is no retreat, but in submission and slavery! Our chains are forged! Their clanking may be heard on the plains of Boston! The war is inevitable—and let it come. . . .

"Gentleman may cry, Peace, peace—but there is no peace. The war is actually begun. . . . Our brethren are already in the field! Why stand we here idle? What is it that gentlemen wish? What would they have? Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

Indian Town Of 1540 Found Under Mound In No. Carolina

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The long-sought Cherokee Indian town of Guasili, visited by Hernando De Soto in 1540 has been discovered under a large mound in the mountains of North Carolina, the Smithsonian Institution here has revealed.

The mound is being excavated by the Smithsonian Institution under the direction of Jesse D. Jennings of the University of Chicago. He is in charge of a large force of CWA workers at the mound.

Officials of the institution say there is little doubt of the identity of the historically important village because of the description of Guasili in De Soto's journals.

Near the top of the mound Jennings has found unmistakable evidence of European influence, with glass beads and scraps of iron mingled with typical Cherokee artifacts, the institution reports. Below this level the Indian objects remain the same but the European fragments disappear. Below this under the base of the mound, there is evidence of a habitation level outlined by postholes. There also are remnants of a sweathouse with numerous burned logs, Jennings advises.

De Soto's reports picture Guasili as a town of about 300 wooden houses, the capital of a province of the same name, where the hungry Spaniards were given a hearty welcome. Its occupants may have been Cherokee, since this was in Cherokee tribe.

One of De Soto's reports describes his entry into the village in this manner:

"The Lord who bore the name of the province left the capital halt a league to meet the Spaniards, accompanied by 500 of the principal persons of the country, very gaily dressed after their fashion, and conducted us into his village . . .

"His lodge was upon a mound, with a terrace around it where six men could promenade abreast."

The people of Guasili were visited in 1566 by the Spanish official Juan Pardo who "held a conference with them in the interest of his Holiness and his Majesty and they replied that they wished to be Christians and have his majesty for their master."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

OCEAN TIDES.

Some years ago, the tide gauges at the two ends of the Panama Canal were connected by a line of precise leveling. Computations from a record of tides for ten years indicated that the average mean sea level at the Pacific entrance was approximately seven inches higher than at the Atlantic entrance.

Determinations of the mean sea levels along the coasts of the United States indicate that the difference averages about two feet at equal latitudes.

WHERE AMERICA GETS OFF

English schoolboy's essay: "Americans always think they are ahead of us in everything, but that's all nonsense. As a matter of fact, we have had the use of each day hours before they have, so that it is sort of second-hand before they get it."

Gosh, the outlook must be getting rosy, indeed, when financial experts can say nonchalantly that a government bond may be purchased for "as little as $50."

SPAGHETTI SUPPER FEATURES EVENING

Thursday evening a most enjoyable event in the dining room of the First Baptist church was the spaghetti supper, served as the climax to an attendance contest which was waged between the young men's class, the Beacons, taught by B. French Johnson, and the young ladies' class, taught by Beulah Heaton, the Gems.

The Gems were the guests of the Beacons and the tables were attractively decorated in orchid and yellow, with flowering potted plants adding colorfulness to the setting of the tables, which formed a large U, with places arranged for 56 young men and women. The boys acted as "waiters" and served the menu prepared by the Garrett family.

The girls were in charge of the program, with "Memories" as the theme of the evening and some hilarity was caused by some of the reminiscences of "Grandpa", Florence Thomas, and "Grandma", Virginia Davis.

The Sunday school memories were given by Irene Perry, Erma Ray, Beulah Heaton, Henrietta Bishop and Claire Anderson and some of the questions and answers were most mirth provoking.

The school day memories were recalled by a solo, 'Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Sarah Pattison and a sketch presented by Florence Williams, Ruth Smith, Marion Johnson, Ina Lusk, Lillian Morris and Esther Giles.

A musical dialogue was presented by Mabel and Elizabeth Schunk, accompanied by Beulah Heaton and a play, "Two Old Maid Aunts" by Alice Hockenberry, Hilda Mackey, Jean Sumner and Marie Hogue.

The grand finale was the singing of "Memories" by the entertaining group after which a period of games was enjoyed.

Woman's Club Sponsors Brilliant Spring Event

"Chic, smart, lovely, charming" were some of the adjectives used Thursday evening by the hundreds of women of the city who enjoyed the hospitality of the Woman's club at the annual bridge and style review in the New Castle Dry Goods store.

Mrs. E. F. G. Harper and her retinue of officers were on the receiving line on the second floor of the store and greeted the guests as they arrived. Every available inch of floor space was utilized in placing the card tables, but the guests were so numerous that many were unable to engage in bridge, these enjoying a period of conversation while cards were in play. At conclusion of play the holder of high score at each table was rewarded with the cards with which they played as prizes.

At 9:30 the card tables were folded up and every eye was turned toward the stage and runway which had been erected at the front of the store, for, from here were shown some of the most modish of the season's apparel for the tiny tot, the growing miss and the matured woman.

Miss Helene Geary, of the ready-to-wear department of the store, announced the opening of the style revue. The trend of the spring note in style is either "wind blown" or "wind swept", with a dash to the collars and hats that carry out the reigning note. Miss Iva Mayberry was pianiste throughout the evening.

An air of smartness hovered over the stage as the models stepped forth, displaying beautiful suits, dresses, coats, frocks, hats and accessories. The two opening exhibits were uniforms for the "Brownie" and the "Girl Scout", and the scene closed with a "bridal" outfit.

The models were little Patty Jo Leyde, Marston Whieldon, Mary Louise Duff, Eleanor Mae McKibben, Gretchen Smith, Marjorie Harper, Marion Rose Randall, Mrs. Anna Gaul, Miss Lillian Perry, Mrs. Anna Gaul and Mrs. J. W. McIlwraith.

This event was one of the most successful events ever sponsored by the Woman's club.

WASHINGTON — Let there be light and the bug will be caught!

At least that will be the situation of the cigarette beetle when he encounters the new suction light traps developed by the Department of Agriculture.

The trap, to be hung in tobacco warehouses, is a wire cane with an electric liht and a fan. The beetle sees the light, goes toward it, and is sucked into the cone, says the report. "The average weekly catch is likely to exceed 150,000 beetles per trap."

Bureau Throws Light On Bug Pests

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Let there be light and the bug will be caught!

At least that will be the situation of the cigarette beetle when he encounters the new suction light traps developed by the Department of Agriculture.

The trap, to be hung in tobacco warehouses, is a wire cane with an electric liht and a fan. The beetle sees the light, goes toward it, and is sucked into the cone, says the report. "The average weekly catch is likely to exceed 150,000 beetles per trap."

Oregon May Ban All Liquor Displays

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—Multi-colored tin foil bottle caps, fantastic labels and the liquor-filled containers they adorn are scheduled to vanish form Portland show windows, according to a new liquor control commission regulation said to be in the process of final drafting here.

Even bottled beer was expected to be withdrawn from the public gaze. The regulation is designed to remove tempting bottles of various liquors from the sight of youngsters, conscientious objectors and others.

"PLEASE EXCUSE MY MUD!"

MOTORISTS have their troubles no less than pedestrians. The other day in Connecticut a driver ran into a puddle, showering a pedestrian with muddy water. He was arrested and convicted of "assault and battery with an automobile" and fined five dollars.

After every rainstorm in New Castle streets are filled with muddy puddles. Few motorists are skillful enough to avoid them all, and as a consequence pedestrians are often treated to mud baths. But how is the responsibility to be fixed? The city and not the driver is responsible for the mud holes. It is true that it is the car which does the splashing. Which is responsible for the damage?

Shall the decision of the Connecticut Solomon be accepted as a precedent in this community.

MUST DISARM RACKETEER ARMY

A statement that will startle those who are watching the campaigns against crime in this country was made by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings before the senate judiciary committee. He declares that more persons are under arms in the underworld than in the combined forces of the United States army and navy.

The statement reveals what a tremendous task the nation is facing in its warfare against gangsters and racketeers. It is indisputable evidence that action of the sternest kind is necessary if the laws of the land are to be upheld. A series of anti-gangster and anti-racketeering bills is now before congress and it is expected they will be adopted. The proposed legislation may go a long way toward lowering the crime rate, but there will be no real step toward law observance until the criminals are disarmed. Take away his gun and the criminal is easily controlled.

OPPENHEIM IN REAL LIFE

The story from Paris of a spy ring, headed by two Americans, suggests one of Mr. Oppenheim's thrillers. It has operated chiefly in France, with ramifications in Great Britain and the United States. The beneficiary was first supposed to be Russia. Now there are suspicions that Germany is involved. The French government has supported its belief in the tale by arresting, among others, a French reserve officer and war veteran; and confessions are attributed to the Americans.

Here is the mere outline of a plot capable of indefinite expansion. One of the Americans is a woman; you can not have a spy story without a woman in it. The plot differs from any of Oppenheim's in that the pay received by the spies is said to be trifling. There ought to be at least a villa at Cannes or Monte Carlo in the background. Until this is discovered the tale will lack credibility.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES

Our faith in freedom is based on the belief that every human soul has its own sovereign rights—rights that are not merely granted by society but are an essential of the human character. Since society is nothing apart from the men and women of which it is fashioned, it can never ignore this right of freedom without courting its own destruction.

Yet this freedom is not the freedom for men to do as they please. Even in primitive society this freedom is denied, and the complex demands of civilization deny it is a thousand ways. When men agree to live together for the sake of work or happiness, they set limits to their behavior and agree to live beneath a code and law.

Yet the right of freedom remains. It is a right not to natural but to spiritual freedom. Its most vital doctrine is that men have the right to think as they please.

Man as a member of society has duties rather than rights. As an individual his rights are supreme. The problem of society is to appoint to each man his duties while scrupulously protecting his rights. For in the right of men to think as they please lies the only hope for the endurance and perfection of society.

HEADLIGHTS AND PEDESTRIAN DANGERS

Headlight blindness is one of the most dangerous hazards of night motoring, a hazard not only to the occupants of automobiles and to property, but to the pedestrian. In fact, walking at night along state roads or even the more remote thoroughfares is a matter of taking one's life in one's hands and might well be termed "The Suicide Club."

To the conscientious driver of an automobile, glaring headlights are a source of torment. He sees two moons approaching him down the road. On they come growing into two shafts of light and finally lose their individual identities as they bear down upon the tense driver. For a matter of seconds there is nothing visible before him but a fog of light. That interval of light-blindness is enough, however, to leave death and destruction in its path.

Few drivers in these times are so careful that they will bring their cars to a stop at the approach of the glaring headlights. It is not to be wondered at that there are so few, for a pilot cautious enough to stop for the passage of blinding lights would soon find that he had better stayed at home so far as progress on his journey was concerned.

It's a big problem!

DRAMA FROM THE ANTARCTIC

The current Byrd expedition to the South Pole will produce few, if any, stories so packed with drama, with human interest, with heroism and courage, as that of the first major operation ever performed on the Antarctic Continent.

There, Dr. L. H. Pokata, a young Maori physician brought from New Zealand to replace the expedition's original surgeon, performed an emergency appendicitis operation the exact counterpart of which may never again be recorded.

With his patient, Joe Pelter, expedition aerial mapper, lying on a table made of thawed-out stretchers, and with Admiral Byrd and expedition members assisting, he did a surgical job that took two hours but, to all appearances was a genuine success.

Richard Evelyn Byrd continues to prove himself a great explorer, a great adventurer and a great humanitarian. Without his insistance that the health of his men be safeguarded at all costs, Dr. Pokota would not have been at Little America to save Joe Pelter's life with that emergency operation in the underground radio hut where he had little more than room enough to work and where death was always at his elbow. The admiral had brought the doctor from New Zealand in a few brief weeks so that the expedition would not be without a surgeon after Dr. Shirley was forced to leave because of illness.

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

Not feeling very well today?
And you're afraid you may be sicker?
And you might even die?
And people would be sorry? And your family would suffer? And you'd lose forever this bright, fascinating world?

O gloomy thought! O hopeless wight! How worry feeds on worry and fear on fear. How a man, apprehensive and anxious, can work himself into a "state" and wreck his own joy of living! . . . No other creature on this earth does that. Only man has that devilish ability, by thought, to make himself uncomfortable and even afraid. The placid cow, the lively cat, the friendly dog, the darting bird—none of these ever fear the thing that has not yet happened. They take their natural, instinctive precautions and leave the unknown to take care of itself, facing it only when it confronts them. . . . And why should you, superior being, be so dismally otherwise?

May I give you something else to think about? . . . Even tin gets sick. . . . A scientist told me that the other day. He said that tin gets what is called a "sickness". Mysteriously something happens to it. It turns gray and disintegrates to a powder. And the disease is infectious. You place a pile of healthy tin on the floor near some of the sick tin and the disease spreads. It's a physical change that comes over the tin. X-ray photography shows an actual change in the structure of the crystals of the tin. . . . And so far the tin manufacturers have discovered no cure for the disease except to melt it over and start afresh. The tin cannot help itself. It does not worry, but it is helpless.

But you can help yourself. You can give your body a lift. Within you are forces that fight constantly, whether you sleep or wake, for health, friendly to you, inimical to the derangement that makes you ill. You fret, you worry, you coddle yourself; you get into a state of misery and fear and you make yourself worse. . . . "It's all very well," you say, "to advise me not to worry, but how can I stop it?" . . . By thinking about tin, perhaps, or about one distant star, or sunspots, or diamonds, or what a baby knows, or whether married people grow to look alike. Or anything but worrying, anxious you!

HELP WANTED

Perhaps you have some grounds for believing that you need not reply to all social letters.

But it is hard to imagine, how you can expect to be excused from not answering business or community letters.

Men who accept public office should consider it a part of their job to answer all sensible letters addressed to them by their constituents.

In an effort to better conditions, it is necessary for the leaders to write to those whom they wish to assist them in their undertakings.

These letters may require time, work and study, without remuneration.

But the one who is assigned work, as a leader—or by a leader—to aid in bringing back better conditions for everybody, should not quibble about how much they shall be paid.

They should be willing to donate all the time and effort they can spare to aiding in the country's recovery.

Certainly, the least they can do, is to answer the correspondence they receive from those who, also without remuneration, are trying to do their part.

Don't be so stingy with your time.

Just Folks

NEVER A DULL DAY.

Nothing of consequence today
Has happened, so I calmly say,
The paper spread before me.
No tragedies of high import,
No speculations, long or short.
The headlines merely bore me;
No startling news, no shock, no thrill,
It seems as if mankind stood still.

And yet across the way at morn
Another little babe was born
To make that household gladder,
While farther down the street came death
To end an old man's fight for breath
And leave that family sadder.
Both commonplace events, men say.
Since they are happening every day.

A dull day! Should I ask the maid,
For whom a mat is being laid,
Where shortly she'll be treading,
This day of days is hers alone,
Remembered when the years have flown,
The morning of her wedding!
To those who love and those who care
Events are happening everywhere.

Bible Thought For Today

The heart knoweth his own bitterness; and a stranger doth not intermeddle with his joy.—Proverbs 14:10.

"But mother," protested the young society girl, "I can't marry him. He's an atheist and doesn't believe in Hell."

"Well, you marry him anyhow, and between us we'll convince him that he is wrong."

So far, we haven't heard of any gold rush following the finding of gold flakes in the Ray street quarry. Seems like we heard of a cigaret during the war which was called "gold flakes."

If Pennsylvania was a strong Democratic state, they would probabably build the Beaver-Mahoning river canal and pay the adjoining counties a bonus instead of trying to make them pay one fourth the cost of the project.

"The principal concern of women" declares a woman hater is the problem of keeping her figure." The next problem we presume is keeping her husband.

In some foreign countries, a boy and girl never see each other before the wedding. In the United States they seldom see each other afterwards.

Marriage is an institution where two people who are crazy about each other, are confined.

Since Bridgeport, Conn., has elected a Socialist Mayor, Jasper McLevy, there will be great interest everywhere in the progress of the city business, and a good deal of wonderment as to where the name of McLevy came from.

Ohio authorities want to make an Ohio woman quit working in a coal mine and go back to washing dishes. We'll bet her husband is sore about that.

Begging is still a good racket. A McKees rocks cripple took in $56 in two days down in Philadelphia.

Pittsburgh police raided a dance where two girls were putting on an exhibition sans clothing. New Castle doesn't seem to be the only place where they go in for that sort of stuff although a lot of people here thought so.

Auto Strike Psychology
Roosevelt Wallop Unused
Guilds In Place Of Unions?

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Washington couldn't picture an auto strike—now. This is the peak of the auto season.

One man presumably acquainted with the situation said the workers "had" General Motors now—but that General Motors would "have" the workers in three months or so from now.

"Compromise is the order of the day," this man said. "Compromise—and then fight it out when times are more expedient to the corporations."

Compromise is looked upon in Washington as making a final solution more difficult.

* * *

ROOSEVELT

The name of Roosevelt is as potent in Washington as elsewhere.

The very fact that the president does not force through his programs—and he is not forcing them through—will make the wallop stronger when he does act. Congress is in a period of constant suspense.

* * *

CONSUMER

The NRA remains the foremost Roosevelt problem. The president has not yet conquered it. Eventually he may fall over it.

The president is, of course, fully aware of the criticism of the act and its administration.

He sees how the consumer is being forced to pay more and more. He sees how the lack of a standards clause to codes has caused not only consumers, but merchants, to be victimized by inferior goods. He has seen the forming of monopolies at the expense of the small fellow.

The president likewise has looked with disapproval on the efforts of corporations to ward off unionization.

He knows that among the millions of workers (who, incidentally, are citizens and workers) that corporations are being denounced. But there is a question, too, as to whether the type of union now in existence is the type best suited for the needs of collective bargaining.

Organization on both sides is an essentiality now put into law, the administration points out. But isn't the crafts union as obsolete as the industrial "trust", which the crafts union battled for years?

* * *

GUILDS

Thus the next major labor step by President Roosevelt may be the formation of guilds for each major industry to bargain with the cartels, or monopolistic groups of manufacturers.

The government would sit as arbiter.

The American Federation of Labor has proved itself a haven for the individual workmen, but it is seen among the "New Thinkers" as belonging to the age of 'rugged individualism."

The government itself may become the Federation which will protect the worker. Guilds may become government instrumentalities, as a legitimate outgrowth of the NRA.

Some may call that socialism, some may call that fascism. There seems to be no doubt that any defeat of labor at the moment by means used in the past would quickly bring guilds into being under the complete authority of the federal government.

And the president now has the power under the NRA to license any or every industry.

Thus a bitter warfare between employer and employe, possible only two years ago, is not likely to occur today. The government is all powerful.

TODAY Is The Day

FRIDAY, MAR. 23

HISTORY'S GREAT DAYS—Mar. 23, 1775—Patrick Henry, 39, not an Irishman (he was Scotch), found his fellows indifferent when he offered a resolution in the provincial convention at Richmond for the organization of Virginia's militia and defenses. Angered, he burst into a classic speech:

"If we are base enough to desire it, it is now too late to retire from the contest. There is no retreat, but in submission and slavery! Our chains are forged! Their clanking may be heard on the plains of Boston! The war is inevitable—and let it come. . . .

"Gentleman may cry, Peace, peace—but there is no peace. The war is actually begun. . . . Our brethren are already in the field! Why stand we here idle? What is it that gentlemen wish? What would they have? Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

March 23, 1908—Great Britain, France, Germany, Japan and other powers gave pledges to the U. S. that no interference with the commerce of China on the ground of nationality would be permitted. Thus did Secretary of State John Hay establish the famed "Open Door policy" in China—for all but the Chinese.

March 23, 1905—Japanese defeated Russians in one of the greatest battles of modern times, captured Mukden and most of Manchuria. Russian losses were tremendous, 27,700 dead; 110,000 wounded; 40,000 captured.

The Great Powers deprived Japan of Mukden and her conquests in Manchuria; she waited 27 years, took them again, is keeping them in the guise of the new state of Manchukuo.

March 23, 1909—Theodore Roosevelt, 19 days out of the White House, sailed with his son [illegible] party for a hunting expedition in Africa.

March 23, 1913—Turbulent yellow waters of the Miami river backed up into the downtown section of Dayton, O., drowned 84 persons, caused the greatest damage ever done an American city by a flood—$128,000,000. As the Miami and related rivers went surging on, swollen by the melting of heavy snows, 700 more were drowned in Ohio and Indiana.

Indian Town Of 1540 Found Under Mound In No. Carolina

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The long-sought Cherokee Indian town of Guasili, visited by Hernando De Soto in 1540 has been discovered under a large mound in the mountains of North Carolina, the Smithsonian Institution here has revealed.

The mound is being excavated by the Smithsonian Institution under the direction of Jesse D. Jennings of the University of Chicago. He is in charge of a large force of CWA workers at the mound.

Officials of the institution say there is little doubt of the identity of the historically important village because of the description of Guasili in De Soto's journals.

Near the top of the mound Jennings has found unmistakable evidence of European influence, with glass beads and scraps of iron mingled with typical Cherokee artifacts, the institution reports. Below this level the Indian objects remain the same but the European fragments disappear. Below this under the base of the mound, there is evidence of a habitation level outlined by postholes. There also are remnants of a sweathouse with numerous burned logs, Jennings advises.

De Soto's reports picture Guasili as a town of about 300 wooden houses, the capital of a province of the same name, where the hungry Spaniards were given a hearty welcome. Its occupants may have been Cherokee, since this was in Cherokee tribe.

One of De Soto's reports describes his entry into the village in this manner:

"The Lord who bore the name of the province left the capital half a league to meet the Spaniards, accompanied by 500 of the principal persons of the country, very gaily dressed after their fashion, and conducted us into his village. . . .

"His lodge was upon a mound, with a terrace around it where six men could promenade abreast."

The people of Guasili were visited in 1566 by the Spanish official Juan Pardo who "held a conference with them in the interest of his Holiness and his Majesty and they replied that they wished to be Christians and have his majesty for their master."

OCEAN TIDES.

Some years ago, the tide gauges at the two ends of the Panama Canal were connected by a line of precise leveling. Computations from a record of tides for ten years indicated that the average mean sea level at the Pacific entrance was approximately seven inches higher than at the Atlantic entrance.

Determinations of the mean sea levels along the coasts of the United States indicate that the difference averages about two feet at equal latitudes.

Indians Hostile To New Bill Which Would Restore Lands

(International News Service)

DENVER.—John Collier, United States commissioner of Indian affairs, is a sadly misunderstood man, he declared during a recent visit to Denver.

For 12 years Colliers has been traveling from one Indian reservation to another, listening to the red man's troubles, sympathizing with him, and then trying to get the ear of official Washington as to just what was wrong. He was 11 years secretary of the American Indian Association, which made the Indian's woes its own and fought his battles before congressional and departmental bodies.

Then, a year ago, President Roosevelt appointed Collier to the office of commissioner, a position which makes him the official representative of the goverment in its dealings with the Indians. Collier's ideas as to how the Indian problem should be solved were incorporated in a new bill introduced into Congress as the Wheeler-Howard bill.

The Wheeler - Howard bill seeks self-goverment for the Indian, stops looting of the Indian of his land and restores to him much of the land taken from his forebears.

Collier took the Wheeler-Howard bill to the Indians themselves. At Rapid City, S. D., he explained its provisions to 300 members of the plains tribes representing Indians in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Montana and Wyoming. But the Indians, Collier declared here, were cool toward the bill, even a bit bostile.

"For years we have preyed on the American Indian, stolen his land, and deprived him of his rights, and now when we turn at last to help him, he doesn't believe we mean it," Collier explained.

From Denver Collier went to the southwest where he held meetings with the Indians at Fort Defiance, Ariz., and Santo Domingo, N. M. Another conference, with Oklahoma tribes, was planned.

"We expect our greatest opposition in Oklahoma," he said, "because of oil and land interests there."

Indians Hostile To New Bill Which Would Restore Lands

(International News Service)

DENVER.—John Collier, United States commissioner of Indian affairs, is a sadly misunderstood man, he declared during a recent visit to Denver.

For 12 years Colliers has been traveling from one Indian reservation to another, listening to the red man's troubles, sympathizing with him, and then trying to get the ear of official Washington as to just what was wrong. He was 11 years secretary of the American Indian Association, which made the Indian's woes its own and fought his battles before congressional and departmental bodies.

Then, a year ago, President Roosevelt appointed Collier to the office of commissioner, a position which makes him the official representative of the goverment in its dealings with the Indians. Collier's ideas as to how the Indian problem should be solved were incorporated in a new bill introduced into Congress as the Wheeler-Howard bill.

The Wheeler - Howard bill seeks self-goverment for the Indian, stops looting of the Indian of his land and restores to him much of the land taken from his forebears.

Collier took the Wheeler-Howard bill to the Indians themselves. At Rapid City, S. D., he explained its provisions to 300 members of the plains tribes representing Indians in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Montana and Wyoming. But the Indians, Collier declared here, were cool toward the bill, even a bit hostile.

"For years we have preyed on the American Indian, stolen his land, and deprived him of his rights, and now when we turn at last to help him, he doesn't believe we mean it," Collier explained.

From Denver Collier went to the southwest where he held meetings with the Indians at Fort Defiance, Ariz., and Santo Domingo, N. M. Another conference, with Oklahoma tribes, was planned.

"We expect our greatest opposition in Oklahoma," he said, "because of oil and land interests there."

The trap, to be hung in tobacco warehouses, is a wire cane with an electric light and a fan. The beetle sees the light, goes toward it, and is sucked into the cone, says the report. "The average weekly catch is likely to exceed 150,000 beetles per trap."

SOCIETY SCIONS WORK FOR CITY

Winston Guest

Langdon W. Post

C. J. Ryan, Jr.

Alexander Hamilton

Attracted by the fight Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia is making against crime and graft in New York City, dozens of recruits of the "Silk Stocking District" and scions of social register families, have offered their services to the city, in many cases for nothing. The mayor has accepted several offers and has placed these "blue-bloods" to work. This layout shows four of the aristocratic city workers—Alexander Hamilton, a descendant of the first secretary of the treasury, who is working as secretary to the commissioner of markets; Clendennin J. Ryan, Jr., grandson of Thomas F. Jilted Mail-Order Groom Asks Redress

Advances Car Fare To Intended Bride In Grove City Who Backs Out

GROVE CITY, Mar. 23—The collapse of a mail order romance came to the attention of Police Chief Charles Ray with receipt of a letter from a disillusioned native of Vernon Center, Minn. The letter requested Chief Ray to "scare up" a woman with a Grove City address, who had answered the Minnesota man's ad in a matrimonial paper.

The lady agreed to marriage but needed carfare and funds for a dress, the man stated, and he complained that after he had forwarded $30 and a used dress, his intended bride had not reached Vernon Center on schedule.

Justice was the plea of the Minnesota man, who wanted his bride or $30: he was willing to charge off the dress, he said.

Indians Hostile To New Bill Which Would Restore Lands

(International News Service)

DENVER.—John Collier, United States commissioner of Indian affairs, is a sadly misunderstood man, he declared during a recent visit to Denver.

For 12 years Colliers has been traveling from one Indian reservation to another, listening to the red man's troubles, sympathizing with him, and then trying to get the ear of official Washington as to just what was wrong. He was 11 years secretary of the American Indian Association, which made the Indian's woes its own and fought his battles before congressional and departmental bodies.

Then, a year ago, President Roosevelt appointed Collier to the office of commissioner, a position which makes him the official representative of the goverment in its dealings with the Indians. Collier's ideas as to how the Indian problem should be solved were incorporated in a new bill introduced into Congress as the Wheeler-Howard bill.

The Wheeler - Howard bill seeks self-goverment for the Indian, stops looting of the Indian of his land and restores to him much of the land taken from his forebears.

Collier took the Wheeler-Howard bill to the Indians themselves. At Rapid City, S. D., he explained its provisions to 300 members of the plains tribes representing Indians in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Montana and Wyoming. But the Indians, Collier declared here, were cool toward the bill, even a bit hostile.

"For years we have preyed on the American Indian, stolen his land, and deprived him of his rights, and now when we turn at last to help him, he doesn't believe we mean it," Collier explained.

From Denver Collier went to the southwest where he held meetings with the Indians at Fort Defiance, Ariz., and Santo Domingo, N. M. Another conference, with Oklahoma tribes, was planned.

"We expect our greatest opposition in Oklahoma," he said, "because of oil and land interests there."

INSECTS WILL SURVIVE HUMANS ON EARTH

STILLWATER, Okla.—Although about 700,000 species of bugs have been described and named, there doubtless are many more that never have been named, according to Prof. C. E. Sanborn, head of the department of entomology at the Oklahoma A. and M. College here.

In case life on the earth gradually becomes extinct, the insects probably would be the last to disappear, Prof. Sanborn believes.

Once Wealthy, Is Now A Bartender

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Mar. 23. Malcolm MacLeod, former wealthy Philadelphia stockholder and member of a socially prominent family, is now a bartender at Browns Mills, N. J.

MacLeod revealed his present occupation when he was arraigned here after his wife sought to have him cited for contempt for being $37.50 in arrears on a support order of $25 a month.

"I haven't five cents to my name," said MacLeod, who is 57. "There are 22 speakeasies in Browns Mills (a small New Jersey town) so we don't even get the bulk of the local trade."

The proceedings were dismissed.

INSECTS WILL SURVIVE HUMANS ON EARTH

STILLWATER, Okla.—Although about 700,000 species of bugs have been described and named, there doubtless are many more that never have been named, according to Prof. C. E. Sanborn, head of the department of entomology at the Oklahoma A. and M. College here.

In case life on the earth gradually becomes extinct, the insects probably would be the last to disappear, Prof. Sanborn believes.

Had Wild Ride On Bumper Of Auto

(International News Service)

LEBANON, Pa., Mar. 23.—Eight-year-old Dickie Hoy didn't have a nickel with which to appease his desire to travel.

A parked car close at hand gave him an idea. Dickie seated himself on the rear bumper and the driver unaware of his "fare" took to the road. The going was hard and rough but the boy clung to his perch in spite of tears.

A passing motorist discovered his plight, hailed the driver and the youngster was brought back to town, four miles distant. Dickie recovered his composure, told police his name and walked home.

New York Police Attempt To Halt Striking Drivers

New York Is Armed Camp As Scores Of Mounted Police Patrol Broadway

STRIKING TAXI DRIVERS HOSTILE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—New York City today resembled, in many respects, an armed camp as scores of mounted and foot patrolmen marched the streets on the lookout for further violence in the strike of 5,000 taxicab drivers.

Police were frankly fearful that the next 24 hours would bring a repetition of the series of outbursts yesterday which were described as the worst riots in New York's history.

Late last night approximately 2,500 strikers massed in the Times Square district prepared to repeat earlier attacks on worker drivers, but they were met by a veritable army of mounted patrolmen and detectives who, acting on new orders from Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, succeeded in driving the strikers from the streets.

Scores Arrested.

The strikers were herded into columns and any who ventured to leave the formation were roughly handled.

Scores of arrests were made as the police sprung into action on a military scale.

In Herald Square, 34 strikers were taken into custody after they had appeared riding in a huge open truck from which they leaped at intervals to attack working drivers.

Unofficial estimates placed the number of riots throughout the city yesterday at more than 20 and there was no way of determining how many heads were bashed or how many taxicabs burned or damaged.

St. Paul Lutheran Palm Sunday Plans

Twenty-Four Young People Of The Congregation Will Be Received In Confirmation

Two outstanding services will take place in St. Paul's Lutheran church, West Grant street, Sunday.

Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor, announces that at the morning service at 10:40 a. m. the confirmation service will take place when twenty-four young people will be confirmed. These young folks have been under the pastor's special instructions and that of two teachers in the Sunday school since last September. This instruction consists of the fundamentals of the Christian faith, some Bible instruction and the practical side of church membership. The names of those to be confirmed are:

Clara Bodenderfer, Dorothea Bodenderfer, Freda Sara Greaf, Jennie Hartman, Hilda Lang, Mary Elizabeth Miller, C. Elsie Ridley, Anna Roth, June Alberta Schmidt, Virginia Mae Schmidt, Emma Slizeski, Sara Anna Zink, Fred Hartman Allen, Dan Bender, Robert Lewis Chamberlain, Martin Hietsch, Martin Kuttesch, Robert Ernest Lienert, Robert Neil Markel, Henry Walter Rice, George Andrew Schmidt, Edwin Smolnik and Samuel Benedict Tencer.

The evening service will be a special annual reunion service of all the Catechumens confirmed during the present pastorate as the special guests and a reconsecration of all former catechumens. Including the present class of twenty-four the pastor will have confirmed 243 young people during the present pastorate, which will be nine years on the coming first of May.

The special features of the service will be the participants of the service. The Liturgist will be Walter Hempel and the speaker, Michael Goldner. These young men are students of Thiel college, Greenville, Pa., and are preparing for the ministry. It so happens that these young men are the first from the body of the congregation to study for the ministry, although the congregation has a history of 85 years this coming August.

The special chorus rendering the service will be comprised of at least thirty voices all of whom have been confirmed during the present pastorate. This chorus is led by Miss Hilda Bodenderfer, a graduate of Slippery Rock and on the teaching force of the city.

During holy week services will be conducted on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evening at 8 p. m., and on Good Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

On Thursday evening the service will be a communion service, being the same night in which the Lord's supper was instituted by Christ Himself.

Testimony at a hearing before Squire W. O. Goodbread revealed midnight and early morning drinking parties and auto rides during which the girl accompanied several men and two other girls through Westmoreland, Armstrong and Indiana counties.

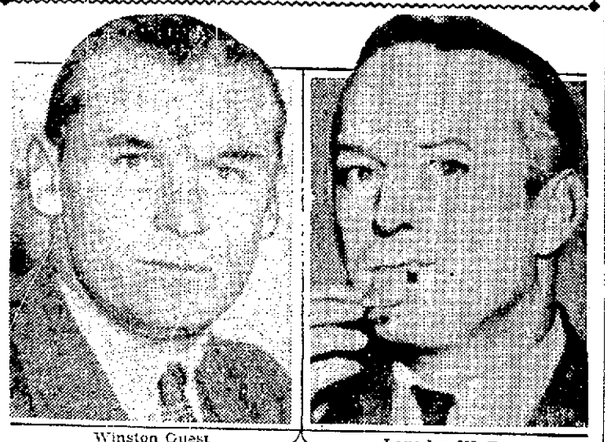
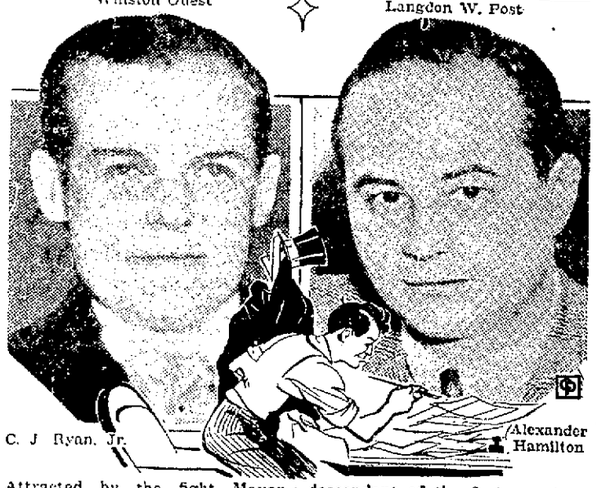
SOCIETY SCIONS WORK FOR CITY



Winston Guest — Langdon W. Post



C. J. Ryan, Jr. — Alexander Hamilton

Attracted by the fight Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia is making against crime and graft in New York City, dozens of recruits of the "Silk Stocking District" and scions of social register families, have offered their services to the city, in many cases for nothing. The mayor has accepted several offers and has placed these "blue-bloods" to work. This layout shows four of the aristocratic city workers—Alexander Hamilton, a descendant of the first secretary of the treasury, who is working as secretary to the commissioner of markets; Clendennin J. Ryan, Jr., grandson of Thomas F. Ryan, millionaire copper magnate, one of the mayor's own secretaries; Winston Guest, well-known polo player, who is legal adviser to an alderman at a salary of $1 a year; Langdon W. Post, another "blue-blood" who is chief of the tenement house department.

Jilted Mail-Order Groom Asks Redress

Advances Car Fare To Intended Bride In Grove City Who Backs Out

GROVE CITY, Mar. 23—The collapse of a mail order romance came to the attention of Police Chief Charles Ray with receipt of a letter from a disillusioned native of Vernon Center, Minn. The letter requested Chief Ray to "scare up" a woman with a Grove City address, who had answered the Minnesota man's ad in a matrimonial paper.

The lady agreed to marriage but needed carfare and funds for a dress, the man stated, and he complained that after he had forwarded $30 and a used dress, his intended bride had not reached Vernon Center on schedule.

Justice was the plea of the Minnesota man, who wanted his bride or $30: he was willing to charge off the dress, he said.

LESSON IN THRIFT

(International News Service)

WORCESTER, Mass.—The death of Alonzo B. Davidson of Leicester provided a lesson in thrift and foresight. It took him three years to save $10, his first savings. He never drew it from the bank. Today with accumulated interest it amounts to more than $200. In a hundred years it will be a small fortune and will be turned over to Charlton school for such purposes as the school authorities desire.

Slayer Of Widow Is Contented In Pottsville Jail

Albert Shinsky, 24, Of Shenandoah, Glad That He Killed Woman Who Cast "Spell"

COULDN'T SLEEP TELLS OFFICIALS

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Mar. 23—Freely admitting the slaying of Mrs. Susan Mummey, 63 year old widow, of Ferndale, Albert Shinsky, 24, of Shenandoah, today found peace in the confines of the Schuylkill county prison because, he explained, he had finally broken the woman's "spell" over him.

Shinsky has re-enacted for police the slaying which, he declared according to the practices of Hexeral was the only course left to free himself of the influence of the woman's "evil eyes," that bewitched him seven years ago.

Big Black Cat

For seven years, Shinsky asserted he suffered indescribable tortures while Mrs. Mummey had him "hexed" He told police weird stories of how the woman sent a black cat down from the skies to tear and claw at his sides as he slept.

"Often," he said "the cat grew so large that I was almost smothered by its fur."

Shinsky declared that the woman's spell robbed him of his strength. He told of his attempts to find comfort through the aid of priests and how he finally turned to "hex" doctors.

On Saturday night he went to the Mummey home on the mountainside where the woman and a niece were attending an injured boarder. Shinsky rested his gun on a window sill on the front porch. Then, he told police:

Spell Is Broken

"I raised the gun and fired. I saw her tumble over on her side, and when I turned away, I felt something scothing pass over me.

"The spell was broken."

Numerous legends had grown up about Mrs. Mummey in the "hill country" where she lived. One day almost 20 years ago as her husband was leaving for work in a powder mill, she told him.

"Something tells me you are going to die."

That day the powder mill was destroyed in an explosion and no trace of Mummey's body was ever found.

Evidencing great relief that the "spell" has finally been broken, Shinsky displayed no fear that he might yet face death in the electric chair. He sneered at any suggestions of irrationality.

Number Of McKeesport Residents Suspected As Members Of "Jury Fixing" Ring

(International News Service)

Chancel, trafford City, was fined $1000 in criminal court and then jailed as a possible conspirator in the move made to intimidate a juror trying Joseph Rosa on a bombing charge. Chancel was charged with constructive contempt of court.

Police said they are looking for another man and a woman.

Centenarian's Plans Balked

(International News Service)

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23.—Unable to leave his home due to an illness, Rev. J. M. Synder, centenarian minister who served as pastor of the Export Emanuel church for 35 years, today saw his dream of the last several months pass into oblivion.

For months the minister had counted on being able to appear in the pulpit of his former pastorate on his 100th birthday tomorrow. Now, seriously ill, the reverend will not be there.

By a rapid change in plans, a delegation of prominent churchmen, including two college presidents and the head of the generally synod of the United States Reformed church, will visit the bedside of the centenarian while an all-day service in celebration of his birthday will be held in the church.

Among those who will be in the delegation are Rev. Charles F. Miller, president Heidelberg college, Tiffin, O.; Rev. George W. Richards, president Eastern Theological seminary, Lancaster, Pa., and Rev. Henry J. Christian, president of the General synod of the Reformed church.

STUDENT HIKERS GET AUTO LIFT FROM GOVERNOR

(International News Service)

PULLMAN, Wash.—Leonard Eder and Ben Sumerall, Washington State College freshmen, are going to vote for Governor Clarence D. Martin.

While hitch-hiking home to Seattle for a brief vacation a big shiny sedan ground to a stop beside them. They were invited to ride.

The man in front said: "I am not too anxious about hauling strangers about the country when there is so much bandit business in the air."

Eder and Sumerall hastened to offer credentials but their benefactor waved them aside. A pair of W.S.C. "frosh" caps had been sufficient.

"You need not give me any credentials, boys, I am the Governor of the State of Washington," he smiled.

After a 300-mile lift, Eder and Sumerall agreed the Governor was a "swell guy."

Many Facts Are Being Collected In New CWA Survey

Recreation For New Castle Citizens Will Be Better Planned This Year

"We are finding some very interesting facts" Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts, head of the recreational survey which is being conducted in the city as a CWA project, said today, "and will have a complete list of the recreational facilities in the city schools in a short time, a survey of the city-owned and publicly supported parks and buildings will immediately follow."

Mrs. Roberts is being assisted in the survey by Stanton Wettich and Miss Edna Mae Shaffer. The committees headquarters is the Administration Building, East street.

The purpose of the survey is to determine how the people of New Castle may have a greater number and more satisfactory public recreations for their physical, intellectual and amusement interests. The committee will make a study of the playgrounds, the gym facilities, the library, music possibilities, art possibilities and auditorium work.

Facts are gathered by asking questions at numerous places. The committee hits upon a possible recreational facility that could be used by the public, then determines the responsible agency, the name and address of the person in charge whether it is for physical, intellectual or amusement purposes, whether it is controlled by a public or private agency, the capital outlay the cost of operation, the cost of maintenance, wether it could be self-supporting or commercially profitable. The committee determines if local taxes are contributed to its support, or if it receives state or federal appropriations or if it gets any private donations. The number of persons said facility accommodates annually is listed (males, females and age range) then the capacity, etc. The question "Is the activity administered efficiently?" is answered as best as possible and improvements suggested. Recommendations are made for the development of the activity.

TRACTOR CARAVAN TO CROSS ROCKIES

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C.—One of the strangest caravans to cross the Canadian Rockies since the days of railway construction is now being planned.

The author of the plan is Charles F. Bedeaux, wealthy French sportsman. Instead of using the traditional pony train, Mr. Bedeaux will attempt to cross the mountains this summer with a series of five specially constructed tractors. The route will be from Edmonton, Alberta to Fort St. John, thence across the Rockies to Telegraph Creek and down the Stikine River to Wrangell, Alaska.

PRICE FIXING IN PIONEER TIMES

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa.—"New Deal" legislation with its price-fixing provisions for certain commodities has not been unknown to America before, a study of the records of the Continental Congress which met here during the hectic days of the Revolutionary War reveals.

From September 30, 1777, when it evacuated Philadelphia, until June 27, 1778, the commissioners of the 13 states met in White's Public Inn.

Slayer Of Widow Is Contented In Pottsville Jail

COULDN'T SLEEP TELLS OFFICIALS

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Mar. 23—Freely admitting the slaying of Mrs. Susan Mummey, 63 year old widow, of Ferndale, Albert Shinsky, 24, of Shenandoah, today found peace in the confines of the Schuylkill county prison because, he explained, he had finally broken the woman's "spell" over him.

Shinsky has re-enacted for police the slaying which, he declared according to the practices of Hexerai was the only course left to free himself of the influence of the woman's "evil eyes." that bewitched him seven years ago.

Big Black Cat

For seven years, Shinsky asserted he suffered indescribable tortures while Mrs. Mummey had him "hexed" He told police weird stories of how the woman sent a black cat down from the skies to tear and claw at his sides as he slept.

"Often," he said "the cat grew so large that I was almost smothered by its fur."

Shinsky declared that the woman's spell robbed him of his strength. He told of his attempts to find comfort through the aid of priests and how he finally turned to "hex" doctors.

On Saturday night he went to the Mummey home on the mountainside where the woman and a niece were attending an injured boarder. Shinsky rested his gun on a window sill on the front porch. Then, he told police:

Spell Is Broken

"I raised the gun and fired. I saw her tumble over on her side. and when I turned away, I felt something soothing pass over me.

"The spell was broken."

Numerous legends had grown up about Mrs. Mummey in the " hill country" where she lived. One day almost 20 years ago as her husband was leaving for work in a powder mill, she told him.

"Something tells me you are going to die."

That day the powder mill was destroyed in an explosion and no trace of Mummey's body was ever found.

Evidencing great relief that the "spell" has finally been broken, Shinsky displayed no fear that he might yet face death in the electric chair. He sneered at any suggestions of irrationality.

STUDENT HIKERS GET AUTO LIFT FROM GOVERNOR

(International News Service)

PULLMAN, Wash.—Leonard Eder and Ben Sumerall, Washington State College freshmen, are going to vote for Governor Clarence D. Martin.

While hitch-hiking home to Seattle for a brief vacation a big shiny sedan ground to a stop beside them. They were invited to ride.

The man in front said: "I am not too anxious about hauling strangers about the country when there is so much bandit business in the air."

Eder and Sumerall hastened to offer credentials but their benefactor waved them aside. A pair of W.S.C. "frosh" caps had been sufficient.

"You need not give me any credentials, boys, I am the Governor of the State of Washington," he smiled.

After a 300-mile lift, Eder and Sumerall agreed the Governor was a "swell guy."

Recreation For New Castle Citizens Will Be Better Planned This Year

"We are finding some very interesting facts" Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts, head of the recreational survey which is being conducted in the city as a CWA project, said today, "and will have a complete list of the recreational facilities in the city schools in a short time, a survey of the city-owned and publicly supported parks and buildings will immediately follow:"

Mrs. Roberts is being assisted in the survey by Stanton Wettich and Miss Edna Mae Shaffer. The committees headquarters is the Administration Building, East street.

The purpose of the survey is to determine how the people of New Castle may have a greater number and more satisfactory public recreations for their physical, intellectual and amusement interests. The committee will make a study of the playgrounds, the gym facilities, the library, music possibilities, art possibilities and auditorium work.

Facts are gathered by asking questions at numerous places. The committee hits upon a possible recreational facility that could be used by the public, then determines the responsible agency. the name and address of the person in charge whether it is for physical, intellectual or amusement purposes, whether it is controlled by a public or private agency, the capital outlay the cost of operation, the cost of maintenance, wether it could be self-supportng or commercially profitable. The committee determines if local taxes are contributed to its support, or if it receives state or federal appropriations or if it gets any private donations. The number of persons said facility accommodates annually is listed (males, females and age range) then the capacity, etc. The question "Is the activity administered efficiently?" is answered as best as possible and improvements suggested. Recommendations are made for the development of the activity.

Instead of using the traditional pony train, Mr. Bedeaux will attempt to cross the mountains this summer with a series of five specially constructed tractors. The route will be from Edmonton, Alberta to Fort St. John, thence across the Rockies to Telegraph Creek and down the Stikine River to Wrangell, Alaska.

Banks Of Nation On Sound Footing

J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller Of Currency, Makes Statement In Pittsburgh

DEPOSITORS ARE ASSURED OF FUNDS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 23.—Declaring there is no place in this country for the careless, incompetent, or dishonest bank official, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, came forward today with flat assertion that the banking structure of the United States never was on a more sound footing.

O'Connor reviewed banking conditions of the past year before the Bond Club here last night and then remarked:

"I ask you, as bond dealers and as business men, is the great state of Pennsylvania better or worse off as a result of the fact that $1,584,074,787 of the deposits in its banks cannot be lost. That 1006 banks will not have runs, that 5,936,162 depositors are forever assured as to the safety of their funds?"

Inauguration of deposit insurance, new capital furnished by the government and banking reforms preclude the possibility of any great number of bank failures during the next few years, O'Conner believes.

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it.

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Banks Of Nation On Sound Footing

J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller Of Currency, Makes Statement In Pittsburgh

DEPOSITORS ARE ASSURED OF FUNDS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 23.—Declaring there is no place in this country for the careless, incompetent, or dishonest bank official, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, came forward today with flat assertion that the banking structure of the United States never was on a more sound footing.

O'Connor reviewed banking conditions of the past year before the Bond Club here last night and then remarked:

"I ask you, as bond dealers and as business men, is the great state of Pennsylvania better or worse off as a result of the fact that $1,584,074,787 of the deposits in its banks cannot be lost. That 1006 banks will not have runs, that 5,936,162 depositors are forever assured as to the safety of their funds?"

Inauguration of deposit insurance, new capital furnished by the government and banking reforms preclude the possibility of any great number of bank failures during the next few years, O'Conner believes.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it.

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

RIOTING ACCOMPANIES NEW YORK TAXI STRIKE

New York Police Attempt To Halt Striking Drivers

New York Is Armed Camp As Scores Of Mounted Police Patrol Broadway

STRIKING TAXI DRIVERS HOSTILE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—New York City today resembled, in many respects, an armed camp as scores of mounted and foot patrolmen marched the streets on the lookout for further violence in the strike of 5,000 taxi-cab drivers.

Police were frankly fearful that the next 24 hours would bring a repetition of the series of outbursts yesterday which were described as the worst riots in New York's history.

Late last night approximately 2,500 strikers massed in the Times Square district prepared to repeat earlier attacks on worker drivers, but they were met by a veritable army of mounted patrolmen and detectives who, acting on new orders from Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, succeeded in driving the strikers from the streets.

Scores Arrested.

The strikers were herded into columns and any who ventured to leave the formation were roughly handled.

Scores of arrests were made as the police sprung into action on a military scale.

In Herald Square, 34 strikers were taken into custody after they had appeared riding in a huge open truck from which they leaped at intervals to attack working drivers.

Unofficial estimates placed the number of riots throughout the city yesterday at more than 20 and there was no way of determining how many heads were bashed or how many taxicabs burned or damaged.

St. Paul Lutheran Palm Sunday Plans

Twenty-Four Young People Of The Congregation Will Be Received In Confirmation

Two outstanding services will take place in St. Paul's Lutheran church, West Grant street, Sunday.

Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor, announces that at the morning service at 10:40 a. m. the confirmation service will take place when twenty-four young people will be confirmed. These young folks have been under the pastor's special instructions and that of two teachers in the Sunday school since last September. This instruction consists of the fundamentals of the Christian faith, some Bible instruction and the practical side of church membership. The names of those to be confirmed are:

Clara Bodenderfer, Dorothea Bodenderfer, Freda Sara Greaf, Jennie Hartman, Hilda Lang, Mary Elizabeth Miller, C. Elsie Ridley, Anna Roth, June Alberta Schmidt, Virginia Mae Schmidt, Emma Slizeski, Sara Anna Zink, Fred Hartman Allen, Dan Bender, Robert Lewis Chamberlain, Martin Hietsch, Martin Kuttesch, Robert Ernest Lienert, Robert Neil Markel, Henry Walter Rice, George Andrew Schmidt, Edwin Smolnik and Samuel Benedict Tencer.

The evening service will be a special annual reunion service of all the Catechumens confirmed during the present pastorate as the special guests and a reconsecration of all former catechumens. Including the present class of twenty-four the pastor will have confirmed 243 young people during the present pastorate, which will be nine years on the coming first of May.

The special features of the service will be the participants of the service. The Liturgist will be Walter Hempel and the speaker, Michael Goldner. These young men are students of Thiel college, Greenville, Pa., and are preparing for the ministry. It so happens that these young men are the first from the body of the congregation to study for the ministry, although the congregation has a history of 85 years this coming August.

The special chorus rendering the service will be comprised of at least thirty voices all of whom have been confirmed during the present pastorate. This chorus is led by Miss Hilda Bodenderfer, a graduate of Slippery Rock and on the teaching force of the city.

During holy week services will be conducted on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evening at 8 p. m., and on Good Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

On Thursday evening the service will be a communion service, being the same night in which the Lord's supper was instituted by Christ Himself.

Declares Hitler Holds Key To European Peace More Than Any Other Person

(Editor's Note— Adolf Hitler, more than any other man, holds the key to European peace, H. R. Knickerbocker declares in this article of his series, "Will War Come?" What his attitude will be when Germany is sufficiently rearmed to make victory probable is the question not even Hitler himself can answer at the moment, Knickerbocker writes.)

BERLIN, Mar. 23.—Germany is morally re-armed.

Pacificism is the No. 1 crime.

Nine million German males from 15 to 30 are too young to have been in the last war. They are the majority of all males from fifteen to fifty. They, the youth of Germany, want to live and die as heroes, not as common men.

They believe, and the entire German nation is taught today, that the Germans are a race of lords destined to rule.

These are the moral factors that point to German willingness for war.

But Germany also is rearming especially in the air and eventually may recover the military superiority she had on the continent in 1914. Germany, too, has driven a wedge between France and Poland and has successfully prevented a "preventive war."

These are the instruments of German willingness for war.

Wants To Recover

Finally Germany wants to unite in the third Reich the eighty to eighty-five million Germans in Europe of whom fifteen to twenty million live outside present day Germany. She wants to recover everything she lost in the last war. She wants to win, in addition, sufficient territory either continental or colonial to provide the space she considers necessary for her prosperity. In the end the Germans hope to replace the French as masters of the continent.

These are the German aims. Most of them are incapable of realization without war. These moral factions, these instruments and these aims of Germany point to eventual war.

All this is not decisive for the question, "will war come in Europe?" The most serious consideration must be paid to factors which speak against German willingness, preparedness and aims for war.

Not Yet Prepared

Germany is not yet prepared for war. The vast majority of neutral, as well as anti-German technical, military opinion in Europe believes that Germany cannot against become as strong absolutely as she was in 1914 in less than three years, even if she had a completely free hand to rearm. She may never become so strong again relative to her potential enemies because while Germany rearms, others, according to every indication today, will arm upward with equal if not greater speed.

These are instruments against Germany's willingness for war.

But not less important at the moment is the fact that Adolf Hitler himself does not want war. This is reported not because he has said it so often, but because he had made nearly all Europe believe it, because he has made his own people believe it and because according to the best qualified observers who ought to know he has made himself believe it.

Does Not Want War

He declares and believes that he does not want war not only today when Germany is unable to hope for victory but also tomorrow when she may think she could be victorious. Among thirty of Europe's leading statesmen, kings, dictators, foreign ministers, war ministers and chiefs of general staffs interviewed during the course of this investigation not one failed to declare that Hitler is sincere in declaring he does not want war now or in the near future. Almost every one of them, however, qualified that not even Hitler himself in his own heart is able to say today what his attitude toward war will be when Germany is sufficiently rearmed to make victory probable.

When that time comes Hitler will probably be, as he certainly is now, the one man in Europe who will be decisive for the question, "will war come?" He is today more nearly omnipotent in Germany than ever. His power, based on Germany's mystical concept of him as a prophet of the German blood brotherhood, is almost absolute. He controls the thoughts and feelings of his countrymen to a degree most difficult for a non-German to understand. He can do with Germans as he likes.

Has Authority.

He is the first German chancellor since the war with sufficient authority to make all the concessions necessary to ensure peace as long as he wants it. What other German statesmen could have made the non-aggression pact with Poland, giving up the corridor for ten years? Bruening, had he done it, would have been crucified. Hitler controlled his storm troops in Danzig. He can control them in the Saar and in Austria if he will.

This is the moral factor that controls Germany's willingness for war and for the moment speaks against it.

Finally, though Germany aims at a great many goals that could only be achieved by war they could be achieved, of course, only by a victorious war. And in contemplating war Germany, too, must contemplate what might be the result of a lost war.

A lost war, Germany as a whole is convinced, would mean first of all the end of modern Germany as a united state. No pacifist propaganda could be more effective than the maps just published by National Socialists pointing out "what the enemies of Germany want." France, according to this forecast, would take the entire left-bank of the Rhine; Poland would get a great slice of North Germany including most of her Baltic seacoast; Czechoslovakia would get most of Saxony, and the rest of Germany would be divided into independent German states, a tiny Prussia around Berlin, and states of Hannover, Saxony, Westfalia, Wurttemberg and Rhineland.

End Of National Socialism.

But a lost war would mean the inevitable end of National Socialism. Germany would have tried within one generation, the Hohenzollerns, the Republic, and the Nazis. After all these had failed, only Communism would remain. The next war, lost by Germany, would mean reduction to a condition only a little better perhaps than her condition after the thirty years war.

These are the counter-balancing considerations to Germany's national aims. They speak against war at least until Germany is absolutely confident of winning.

How soon could Germany be confident of winning? This is the one all-important factor in the question "will war come?" Without a dissenting voice every military authority consulted in the course of this investigation has declared that to organize, train and equip an army comparable to Germany's army of 4,000,000 in 1914 she would require at least three years starting from today, and that it would cost her around forty billion dollars. And she could only do that if she could work without fear or restriction. Considering the fact that she still suffers from fears, though from fewer and fewer restrictions, it is the opinion of the majority of these experts that five to ten years would be necessary. These opinions gain weight by the fact that ninety percent of them are from anti-German sources.

To specify, as one expert put it:

Germany could put in the field tomorrow a superb force of 100,000 men, the Reichswehr; in three months from Reichswehr reserves, police and storm troops, she could have another 200,000, making 300,000. In a year, with a free hand she could have 500,000 to 600,000; in 18 months 750,000; in two years a million first-class soldiers. But even German ingenuity and efficiency could not go higher than that."

Nobody of authority believes the German land army equipment in heavy guns, tanks, machine guns is as yet anything like enough to supply such forces. But as the modern formula now has it, 'the decision lies in the air." Here the observations of experts are incredibly divergent but there is enough positive material to make German air armaments the chief cause of European anxiety today.

Air Strength.

A French military aviation journal declares Germany has 42,000 pilots of whom most are militarily qualified. A neutral military expert who has spent years observing Germany told me on the other hand he did not believe Germany had 12 militarily qualified pilots. A French major of aviation put the figure at 200.

A French general of great authority told me he considered the German bombing air fleet already superior to the French. Captain Guest in the British House of Commons declared Germany had 1,099 civil airplanes capable of being turned to military service. In this city it has become known that the Government has just purchased from an American firm for $75,000 apiece three large passenger airplanes obviously capable of transformation into bombers.

General Hermann Goering, air minister of Germany, has publicly avowed the minimum demand for 30 to 40 per cent as many military airplanes as those possessed by France, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia, the countries bordering on Germany. The official Nazi "Voelkischer Beobachter" reckons French planes 4,546, Belgian 500, Polish 1,000 and Czech 700, a total of around 7,000, "with around 3,000 reserve planes in the background." On this reckoning the German demands would be for at least 2,100 to 2,800 military airplanes. On the conservative reckoning Goering is said to have asked for 1,200 planes.

This is the principal reason why Europe is pessimistic. If Germany's official airfleet numbered from 1,200 to 2,800, how many would the others build? Soon the skies of Europe may be dark wtih warplanes. In the balance of forces for and against war, the weightiest arguments speak for peace during three, five, ten or perhaps more years. But the armaments race has already begun. No armaments race in history ever ended in anything but war. Can this one be checked. With Great Britain lies the answer.

This Fish Story Out Of Season

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Mar. 23.—Here's an out-of-season fish story which Warden Joel Young asserts is true to the last detail—or last fish.

Young reports that Eugene Bruder of Allentown caught 300 suckers from the Little Lehigh river during the two coldest months of last winter. Fishing near Bogert's bridge, Bruder often had caught 25 large ones before mid-morning.

Warden Young, in his report of the unusual catch to the fish commission, suggested Bruder must have toasted his bait.

VENDOL GAVE QUICK RELIEF IN LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLES

MR. HUGH J. MILLER

"I have been suffering for some time with stomach and liver disorders, and it seemed that Vendol was exactly what I needed. It made a big change in my feelings, in only two weeks' time," said Mr. Hugh J. Miller, residing on Route No. 7, New Castle, who is employed by the State Highway Department.

"While I was not what you call really sick, I was not feeling my best. My stomach would feel upset if I ate certain kinds of food; I would fill up with gas, a sour liquid would rise up into my throat, and my breath would be short. I was constipated all the time and my liver acted sluggishly. Sometimes I would feel dizzy and little spots would dance before my vision. Every morning I would wake with a coated tongue and a bad taste in my mouth.

"Reading in the newspapers how Vendol was helping so many people around here, I bought a couple bottles and now I am entirely free of gas, sourness and heart burn, my liver has been stimulated so that I am entirely free of the dizziness, headaches, and my tongue has cleared up.

"I had also suffered from a little Catarrhal condition during the cold weather, but I notice this has disappeared since taking Vendol.

"I plan to take several bottles of Vendol during the Spring as I am a great believer in root and herb medicines to purify the blood and get the system in good condition after the winter weather, Vendol is good, and I do not hesitate to give it my endorsement.

Make up your mind to begin taking Vendol and put yourself on the road to better health. Come to the New Castle Drug Company, 31 East Washington Street, ask for me, the Vendol Man, and I'll explain all about my grand medicine that is helping so many people right here in town and tell you honestly what you may expect it to do for you—so come today if possible. Vendol is sold also at the New Castle Drug Co., 24 North Mill Street store.

In connection with the recent observance of St. Patrick's day, Prothonotary R. M. Campbell recalls when it was the custom of Scott Kirk's band to dispense music at the court house on St. Patrick's day. The band would climb to the belfry, early in the morning, and play from the inclosure which surrounds it. Being located above the din and traffic the musical numbers could be heard all over the city.

John Mozesz, who was recently convicted of the murder of Rose Balogh, and the penalty fixed at life imprisonment has written to the News a letter: It is as follows:

New Castle, Pa., Mar. 22, '34.

To The New Castle News:

A few words in regard to thanking the people here in New Castle for the sympathy extended in my behalf during my court trial. And I also want to thank the sheriff and his deputies for their kind services since I have been under their care.

Let me extend my appreciation to my Attorney Samuel Clark, as I am certain that he performed a miracle against the odds he had to 'ight. I am sorry for the accident in which the court has found me guilty, trusting in the Maker to see me through.

Rev. R. G. Roscamp, 89 one of the oldest ministers in this section of the state has been an interested spectator at court this week. Mr. Roscamp, despite his years is enjoying fairly good health. He is able to hear well, and while his vision is not as good as it used to be he is still able to go around without glasses, although he uses them when he reads.

Rev. Roscamp enjoys the distinction of having been pastor of churches in three countries—England, Canada and the United States. He was ordained a minister in 1872, and was in the service of his Master for 48 years. His first charge was at Plymouth, Devonshire, England. He was sent as a missionary to Canada in 1874, going there with three other young men and locating in Toronto. He was there for three and one half years, when he came to the United States in 1877. He was married in June 1877, his wife being recently deceased.

His first charge in the United States was at Williamstown, Dauphin county, Pa. He came to New Castle in 1880 to accept the pastorate of the Primitive Methodist church. During his pastorate a new church was erected. After 5½ years as pastor he entered the Presbyterian church in October, 1885, being called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Lectonia, O. He was pastor there for about four and one half years, when he was called to Kokomo, Ind. While pastor there he raised funds for the building of a $40,000 church, this being his second accomplishment along that line.

In 1890 he went to London, O., where he remained as pastor of a church until 1895 when he came to New Castle to assume the pastorate of St. Andrews Episcopal church. This was his second pastorate in New Castle. He remained pastor of St. Andrews for twelve years and four months, when he retired. While old in years as human life is reckoned, Rev. Roscamp is still young in spirit. He takes a keen interest in current events and is never happier than when he meets the many friends who honor and revere him as a man whose life and works have been a shining example for others to follow.

CLAIMS REWARD SANKEY'S SUICIDE

(International News Service)

DENVER, Mar. 23.—Among the many claimants for a portion of the $25,000 reward offered by Claude K. Boettcher, Denver financier, for the capture of the kidnapers of his son, Charles Boettcher II, a year ago, is L. F. Abbott of Denver.

Abbott bases his claim on the asserted fact that he sold Verne Sankey, leader of the kidnap gang, the necktie with which Sankey later hanged himself. In his application he reports that in selling Sankey the lethal cravat he saved the state more money than any one else who aided in the capture of the notorious bad man.

BERLIN, Mar. 23.—Germany is morally re-armed.

Pacificism is the No. 1 crime.

Nine million German males from 15 to 30 are too young to have been in the last war. They are the majority of all males from fifteen to fifty. They, the youth of Germany, want to live and die as heroes, not as common men.

They believe, and the entire German nation is taught today, that the Germans are a race of lords destined to rule.

These are the moral factors that point to German willingness for war.

He declares and believes that he does not want war not only today when Germany is unable to hope for victory but also tomorrow when she may think she could be victorious. Among thirty of Europe's leading statesmen, kings, dictators, foreign ministers, war ministers and chiefs of general staffs interviewed during the course of this investigation not one failed to declare that Hitler is sincere in declaring he does not want war now or in the near future. Will of the late Rev. Peter Riffer of the second ward leaves all of his property to his daughter Mary G. Riffer. The will includes a scholarship at Thiel College to which Miss Riffer will have the right to name a student. Miss Riffer is named as executrix.

In connection with the recent observance of St Patrick's day, Prothonotary R. M. Campbell recalls when it was the custom of Scott Kirk's band to dispense music at the court house on St. Patrick's day. The band would climb to the belfry, early in the morning, and play from the inclosure which surrounds it. Being located above the din and traffic the musical numbers could be heard all over the city.

John Mozesz, who was recently convicted of the murder of Rose Balogh, and the penalty fixed at life imprisonment has written to the News a letter: It is as follows:

New Castle, Pa., Mar. 22, '34.

To The New Castle News:

A few words in regard to thanking the people here in New Castle for the sympathy extended in my behalf during my court trial. And I also want to thank the sheriff and his deputies for their kind services since I have been under their care.

Let me extend my appreciation to my Attorney Samuel Clark, as I am certain that he performed a miracle against the odds he had to fight. I am sorry for the accident in which the court has found me guilty, trusting in the Maker to see me through.

Signed,
JOHN MOZESZ.

Rev. R. G. Roscamp, 89 one of the oldest ministers in this section of the state has been an interested spectator at court this week. Mr. Roscamp, despite his years is enjoying fairly good health. He is able to hear well, and while his vision is not as good as it used to be he is still able to go around without glasses, although he uses them when he reads.

Rev. Roscamp enjoys the distinction of having been pastor of churches in three countries—England, Canada and the United States. He was ordained a minister in 1872, and was in the service of his Master for 48 years. His first charge was at Plymouth, Devonshire, England. He was sent as a missionary to Canada in 1874, going there with three other young men and locating in Toronto. He was there for three and one half years, when he came to the United States in 1877. He was married in June 1877, his wife being recently deceased.

His first charge in the United States was at Williamstown, Dauphin county, Pa. He came to New Castle in 1880 to accept the pastorate of the Primitive Methodist church. During his pastorate a new church was erected. After 5½ years as pastor he entered the Presbyterian church in October, 1885, being called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Leetonia, O. He was pastor there for about four and one half years, when he was called to Kokomo, Ind. While pastor there he raised funds for the building of a $40,000 church, this being his second accomplishment along that line.

In 1890 he went to London, O., where he remained as pastor of a church until 1895 when he came to New Castle to assume the pastorate of St. Andrews Episcopal church. This was his second pastorate in New Castle. He remained pastor of St. Andrews for twelve years and four months, when he retired. While old in years, as human life is reckoned, Rev. Roscamp is still young in spirit. He takes a keen interest in current events and is never happier than when he meets the many friends who honor and revere him as a man whose life and works have been a shining example for others to follow.

CLAIMS REWARD SANKEY'S SUICIDE

(International News Service)

DENVER, Mar. 23.—Among the many claimants for a portion of the $25,000 reward offered by Claude K. Boettcher, Denver financier, for the capture of the kidnapers of his son, Charles Boettcher II, a year ago, is L. F. Abbott of Denver.

Abbott bases his claim on the asserted fact that he sold Verne Sankey, leader of the kidnap gang, the necktie with which Sankey later hanged himself. In his application he reports that in selling Sankey the lethal cravat he saved the state more money than any one else who aided in the capture of the notorious bad man.

Slayer Of Widow Is Contented In Pottsville Jail

COULDN'T SLEEP TELLS OFFICIALS

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Mar. 23—Freely admitting the slaying of Mrs. Susan Mummey, 63 year old widow, of Ferndale, Albert Shinsky, 24, of Shenandoah, today found peace in the confines of the Schuylkill county prison because, he explained, he had finally broken the woman's "spell" over him.

Shinsky has re-enacted for police the slaying which, he declared according to the practices of Hexerai was the only course left to free himself of the influence of the woman's "evil eyes." that bewitched him seven years ago.

Big Black Cat

For seven years, Shinsky asserted he suffered indescribable tortures while Mrs. Mummey had him "hexed" He told police weird stories of how the woman sent a black cat down from the skies to tear and claw at his sides as he slept.

"Often," he said "the cat grew so large that I was almost smothered by its fur."

Shinsky declared that the woman's spell robbed him of his strength. He told of his attempts to find comfort through the aid of priests and how he finally turned to "hex" doctors.

On Saturday night he went to the Mummey home on the mountainside where the woman and a niece were attending an injured boarder. Shinsky rested his gun on a window sill on the front porch. Then, he told police:

Spell Is Broken

"I raised the gun and fired. I saw her tumble over on her side, and when I turned away, I felt something soothing pass over me.

"The spell was broken."

Numerous legends had grown up about Mrs. Mummey in the " hill country" where she lived. One day almost 20 years ago as her husband was leaving for work in a powder mill, she told him.

"Something tells me you are going to die."

That day the powder mill was destroyed in an explosion and no trace of Mummey's body was ever found.

Evidencing great relief that the "spell" has finally been broken, Shinsky displayed no fear that he might yet face death in the electric chair. He sneered at any suggestions of irrationality.

Centenarian's Plans Balked

(International News Service)

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23.—Unable to leave his home due to an illness, Rev. J. M. Synder, centenarian minister who served as pastor of the Export Emanuel church for 35 years, today saw his dream of the last several months pass into oblivion.

For months the minister had counted on being able to appear in the pulpit of his former pastorate on his 100th birthday tomorrow. Now, seriously ill, the reverend will not be there.

By a rapid change in plans, a delegation of prominent churchmen, including two college presidents and the head of the generally synod of the United States Reformed church, will visit the bedside of the centenarian while an all-day service in celebration of his birthday will be held in the church.

Among those who will be in the delegation are Rev. Charles F. Miller, president Heidelberg college, Tiffin, O.; Rev. George W. Richards, president Eastern Theological seminary, Lancaster, Pa., and Rev. Henry J. Christian, president of the General synod of the Reformed church.

STUDENT HIKERS GET AUTO LIFT FROM GOVERNOR

(International News Service)

PULLMAN, Wash.—Leonard Eder and Ben Sumerall, Washington State College freshmen, are going to vote for Governor Clarence D. Martin.

While hitch-hiking home to Seattle for a brief vacation a big shiny sedan ground to a stop beside them. They were invited to ride.

The man in front said: "I am not too anxious about hauling strangers about the country when there is so much bandit business in the air."

Eder and Sumerall hastened to offer credentials but their benefactor waved them aside. A pair of W.S.C. "frosh" caps had been sufficient.

"You need not give me any credentials, boys, I am the Governor of the State of Washington," he smiled.

After a 300-mile lift, Eder and Sumerall agreed the Governor was a "swell guy."

Recreation For New Castle Citizens Will Be Better Planned This Year

"We are finding some very interesting facts" Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts, head of the recreational survey which is being conducted in the city as a CWA project, said today, "and will have a complete list of the recreational facilities in the city schools in a short time. a survey of the city-owned and publicly supported parks and buildings will immediately follow."

Mrs. Roberts is being assisted in the survey by Stanton Wettich and Miss Edna Mae Shaffer. The committees headquarters is the Administration Building, East street.

The purpose of the survey is to determine how the people of New Castle may have a greater number and more satisfactory public recreations for their physical, intellectual and amusement interests. The committee will make a study of the playgrounds, the gym facilities, the library, music possibilities, art possibilities and auditorium work.

Facts are gathered by asking questions at numerous places. The committee hits upon a possible recreational facility that could be used by the public, then determines the responsible agency. the name and address of the person in charge whether it is for physical, intellectual or amusement purposes, whether it is controlled by a public or private agency, the capital outlay the cost of operation, the cost of maintenance, wether it could be self-supporting or commercially profitable. The committee determines if local taxes are contributed to its support, or if it receives state or federal appropriations or if it gets any private donations. The number of persons said facility accommodates annually is listed (males, females and age range) then the capacity, etc. The question "Is the activity administered efficiently?" is answered as best as possible and improvements suggested. Recommendations are made for the development of the activity.

TRACTOR CARAVAN TO CROSS ROCKIES

VANCOUVER, B. C.—One of the strangest caravans to cross the Canadian Rockies since the days of railway construction is now being planned.

The author of the plan is Charles F. Bedeaux, wealthy French sportsman. Instead of using the traditional pony train, Mr. Bedeaux will attempt to cross the mountains this summer with a series of five specially constructed tractors. The route will be from Edmonton, Alberta to Fort St. John, thence across the Rockies to Telegraph Creek and down the Stikine River to Wrangell, Alaska.

PRICE FIXING IN PIONEER TIMES

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa.—"New Deal" legislation with its price-fixing provisions for certain commodities has not been unknown to America before. a study of the records of the Continental Congress which met here during the hectic days of the Revolutionary War reveals.

From September 30, 1777, when it evacuated Philadelphia, until June 27, 1778, the commissioners of the 13 states met in White's Public Inn.

As part of their work in this historic structure, which still stands today, the commissioners from time to time fixed the prices to be charged for certain commodities.

Don't Worry If You Miss Steamer

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Mar. 23.—If you happen to miss your steamboat by a day or two, don't fret and fume. advises Jose Saadi, of Guyaquail, Ecquador, South America, who was a recent visitor here.

Informed of a relative's death in New York City, Saadi found that the steamship leaving Ecquador for New York had weighed anchor a day or so before.

Saadi chartered an airplane and after many hours travel sighted the boat. Communication was established between the boat and the airplane. The skilfull pilot nosed his ship down and made a perfect three-point landing on the broad deck of the steamship. Saadi arrived in New York on time.

The World War debt amounts to $11,565,093,885 in this country alone.

Merry Supper Party Draws Host Of Workers To Columbus Hall

SPEECHES, MUSIC FEATURE PROGRAM

Employes of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company gathered in the Seventh ward last night for a gala supper and party sponsored by the New Castle Local No. 133, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The social affair, the first the employes have staged in months, was held at Columbus hall, South Liberty street.

President Mike Prescaro officiated as toastmaster for the program which followed the delicious dinner of spaghetti and meat balls. Snappy accordion music, furnished by Paul Vesco and Sam Montgieri, favored the closing moments of the dinner hour.

Speakers introduced by Toastmaster Prescaro included Harry Mehlman, who discussed the better working conditions prevailing everywhere today; Don McKee, who told the men of the benefits of organization; Alfonso Felix, who spoke of working conditions between 1908 and 1934, and the evening's chairman, who urged support for the union group.

The workmen had as their honor guest for the evening Xavier Lutton, an official of the Universal plant, and in the talk which he made he spoke of the standards of living today and the fairness existing between company and unionism. Mr. Lutton was accompanied by Harold Turner.

Another entertainment feature of the evening was the reading which Frank Dattilio gave in Italian for the benefit of the foreign brothers.

President James M. Duffy of the N. B. of O. P., East Liverpool, Ohio, who was prevented from attending by pressing business, sent his regrets in writing.

At the close of the meeting the entire group led by Rex Lutton, paid respects to the late Domenick Felix, a member of the local.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending 3:30 p. m. March 22: seven arrests, on charges as follows: drunkenness, three; violating parking law, three, and suspicion, one.

Persons who made a garden in a city-owned lot last spring can have the same lot again this year, according to Neil Williams, attache of the city engineering department, who was in charge last year and will again take charge of the city's garden plots this year. However, to continue to garden on the lot they had, the persons must register with Mr. Williams before April 10. Cunningham Park farmland has been converted into a part of the city park system and no lots will be given out there, according to Williams.

If a penny slot were attached to the scales in Inspector English's office, the city would earn probably a few dollars each month. Each morning persons step into his office, see the scales, and a moment later are finding out if they have or have not gained or lost.

Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman has presented his 1933 report to council. The department replied to 17 out-of-city alarms, having gone to Union township, Shenango township, Neshannock township, Scott township and Villa Marie convent, New Bedford. Stockman has recommended: "The city receives no remuneration for this service and it is of considerable expense to our department. Under an act of assembly the townships can organize a fire department of their own and receive a percentage of the foreign fire insurance tax with which to equip and maintain a department. They can also use this money to reimburse the city for protection." He shows fire losses on buildings and contents as $113,180.31. Insurance was carried on those buildings and contents swept by fire. However, there amounted a loss of $7,050.00 on uninsured buildings and contents. There were 25 more false alarms than in 1932. Some hydrants have been in use 40 years and need repairs. He urges those in need of repair be put in good condition. He also throws a bouquet when he says: "I want to commend my assistant, James E. Thomas, for the faithful manner in which he has performed the duties of his office and the efficient manner in which he has handled the department during my absence."

City Treasurer Louis McClung today stated that the clerks in the treasury are writing up the 1933 school taxes, which, in the near future will be filed with the treasurer of Lawrence county for collection. Efforts to collect 1933 city taxes are also under way. The tax cards, about 25,000 of them, will be mailed by the city treasurer about April 1, and incidentally those persons in a position to pay their 1934 city taxes can receive a one percent discount by paying before May 1. The city is counting heavily on the industrial plants taxes. The industries always pay their dues to receive a discount. The discount on school taxes for 1934 can be received up to August 1. The industries, it is safe to say, will pay in city and school taxes at least $200,000.

Trivial things can cause casualties, which recalls that the "rubber" on some city cars don't look healthy. . . . The "bloke" who is forever panning the "cops" got a verbal scorching by several people yesterday. . . . One more week until Clean up, Paint up, Remove Fire Cause time arrives. . . . Judging from what some firemen say they like the new civil service law. . . . City hall personals: Al Hoyland likes his cigars big and fat, D. O. Davies goes for stogies and Joe Alexander likes his cigarets. Haven't caught B. F. Butler flirting with tobacco but the mayor, Charles Mayne, likes his chewin' terbaccer. Chief Haven likes either cigar or cigarette and Health Officer Dr. W. L. Steen goes for the cork-tips. Harry Hoskins, city engineer; Earl Wimer, controller, and Lou McClung, the treasurer, like the short smoke, and Howard Phillips of the garbage department loves his pipe. Inspector of Legal Affairs Hen Dysart says "shoo shoo" when offered a smoke. Sanitary "Coo" Chauncey Davis rarely fools with smokes but Neil Williams registry clerk, always has a package as does Plumbing Inspector Dunlap. Reed English, sealer of weights and measures, likes cigars best, and Solicitor Robert White don't smoke when in his offices.

Sea shells for buttons and clips is a springtime style feature. Butterflies and bees are used for evening adornment.

"Spy Ring Brains?"

Confessions in France of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Switz, American couple, of participation in international spy ring, may reveal Mme. Lydia Stahl (above), Russian born but wed to an American, as the brains of the espionage group, French officials believe.

Pageant For Anniversary

State Teachers College To Observe 100th Anniversary Of Public School

(Special To The News)

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Mar. 23.—To commemorate the hundredth anniversary of public education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the Slippery Rock State Teachers College will present a pageant depicting various episodes in the development of the free public schools, April 6. Three performances will be given on that day: one at ten a. m. for the college students; another at three p. m. for the children; and the third at 8 p. m. for the general public.

The three episodes to be represented are: scenes picturing the appointment of the first schoolmaster of the state; the passage of the first bill for free education; and the present situation as reflected by a meeting in the state capital at Harrisburg.

Forty-three persons are included in the cast which is made up of students from all classes and pupils from the training school. The leads are taken by James Inglefield of Pittsburgh, who impersonates William Penn, and by Miss Margaretta Eisenberg of Slippery Rock, who personifies the Spirit of Education. Professor O. C. Wrigley is chairman of the general committee and Dr. R. A. Tallcott, coach.

Chief Haven likes either cigar or cigarette and Health Officer Dr. W. L. Steen goes for the cork-tips. Harry Hoskins, city engineer; Earl Wimer, controller, and Lou McClung, the treasurer, like the short smoke, and Howard Phillips of the garbage department loves his pipe. Three performances will be given on that day: one at ten a. m. for the college students; another at three p. m. for the children; and the third at 8 p. m. for the general public.

The three episodes to be represented are: scenes picturing the appointment of the first schoolmaster of the state; the passage of the first bill for free education; and the present situation as reflected by a meeting in the state capital at Harrisburg.

Forty-three persons are included in the cast which is made up of students from all classes and pupils from the training school. Banks Of Nation On Sound Footing

J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller Of Currency, Makes Statement In Pittsburgh

DEPOSITORS ARE ASSURED OF FUNDS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 23.—Declaring there is no place in this country for the careless, incompetent, or dishonest bank official, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, came forward today with flat assertion that the banking structure of the United States never was on a more sound footing.

O'Connor reviewed banking conditions of the past year before the Bond Club here last night and then remarked:

"I ask you, as bond dealers and as business men, is the great state of Pennsylvania better or worse off as a result of the fact that $1,584,074,787 of the deposits in its banks cannot be lost. That 1006 banks will not have runs, that 5,936,162 depositors are forever assured as to the safety of their funds?"

Inauguration of deposit insurance, new capital furnished by the government and banking reforms preclude the possibility of any great number of bank failures during the next few years, O'Conner believes.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it.

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Seek Method Of Ending Strike Of School Students

More Than 1500 School Students In Cambria County Out On Strike

PROTEST ACTION BY SCHOOL BOARD

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Mar. 23.—With 1,500 students in Cambria county high schools "hollidaying" because of dismissals of teachers, school authorities in three communities were considering means of ending the strike today.

More than half of the student body at Ferndale high, near here, bolted from classrooms in protest against blanket dismissal of more than 30 teachers. Pickets paraded in the streets and pupils attempted to rally sentiment against the dismissal of all high school teachers in the community.

Meanwhile, at Franklin, where 880 students revolted, the school board was deadlocked with representatives to students and a citizens' committee. Unable to end the strike, Franklin students were given a holiday until April 3 by order of the school board.

Few Students Return

Connemaugh high school students had returned to school for the most part. About 90 percent of the insurgents were back in their classrooms.

Cambria county school superintendent H. S. Bentz declined to intervene in the "strike" but indicated the matter would have to be referred to Superintendent James Rule at Harrisburg who will be asked to rule on the legality of the Ferndale's board's action in blanket cancellation of contracts.

CWA Transfer Brings Problem

Program For Work After April 1 Not As Yet Definite Here

With the CWA being transferred into the Works Division of the Emergency Relief board on April 1, some doubt exists in the local organization as to what is to be done in the way of adjusting the pay rolls to meet the requirements of the board.

The total employed personnel under the new order of things is to be 1850. The present total employed personnel is 3140. Only those who have been on the relief rolls prior to the CWA organization are to be kept on, it is said, but this order, if carried out, would wreck many of the projects now under way.

Many of the workers now employed were not on the relief rolls because they did not wish to appear in dire need, and yet they should be given employment. This is the feeling of the executive heads of the CWA here. Many skilled workers who are turning out the splendid work on CWA projects were not on relief but who really should have been. They are taxpayers and the CWA has given them an opportunity to pay back taxes.

Further instructions are awaited here for the CWA heads are uncertain as to what course should be pursued.

Mrs. Insull Plans Trip To France

Wife Of Fugitive American Financier Obtains Transit French Visa

SAMUEL INSULL REMAINS AT SEA

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, Mar. 23.—Mrs. Samuel Insull, wife of the fugitive American financier, obtained a French transit visa to her passport today after a delay of nearly a week.

The transit visa will permit Mrs. Insull to pass through France or remain there only for a limited time. It will not permit an indefinite stay.

She was expected to leave for Paris tomorrow.

Mrs. Insull, who had desired to leave Athens soon after her husband's departure into the Mediterranean aboard his chartered Greek freighter, was delayed by the French consulate's refusal to grant her a visa immediately. The consul declined to grant the visa without specific approval from Paris.

This presumably was obtained today.

Anxious For Change.

Ill and depressed, Mrs. Insull was anxious to get away from the scene of her husband's long haven from American authorities seeking his extradition to face Chicago indictment in connection with the collapse of his great utilities empire.

Meanwhile Athens remained without word of Insull himself. He presumably was biding his time somewhere in the Mediterranean, cautiously avoiding all ports, awaiting definite word from his agents as to what place he had best go for refuge.

Endeavor To Face Series Of Tests

Will Sail First Official Race Against King's Brittannia

LONDON, Mar. 23.—Endeavor, the all-steel sloop now being built for T. O. M. Sopwith's challenge for the America's cup this fall, is to be severely tested before she crosses the Atlantic for the contest against the American defender.

After undergoing her sailing tests in the Solent in May, Endeavor will sail her first official race against King George's Brittannia and other big yachts such as the Velsheda, Shamrock V, Candida and Astor at Harwick Regatta, on the east coast, on June 2.

On June 12 the Royal Thames Yacht club will promote a special trial race between Endeavor and her sister yacht, Velsheda.

After this the Endeavor will sail in regattas in the west of England and will participate in her final race before being prepared for the Transatlantic voyage at Portsmouth Regatta, on July 14.

You can't fully appreciate the farmer's advantages 'till you notice how much parking space he has.

McAdoo Scion in Toils

Charges of disorderly conduct were dropped against William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr. (A), after an argument over a check in a New York cafe which he visited with Miss Sara Lummus (B), blonde dress model, but the senator's son is now faced with a $50,000 damage suit brought against him by Mrs. Lillian Knesz, proprietor of the restaurant. FORESTERS SUCCUMB TO LURE OF PERFUME

(International News Service)

SAN LEANDRO, Cal.—The barber in the CCC camp here had so little trade that he was contemplating closing his shop.

Then he decided to advertise in the camp newspaper, giving the prices of haircuts, shaves and shampoos.

The last line of the advertisement overcame sales resistance on the part of the CCC men and now the camp barber has all the business he can handle.

The last line read:

REPORT VICE CONDITIONS IN NEW MEXICO CITY

(International News Service)

GALLUP, N. M.—Shocking vice and liquor conditions exist in Gallup, according to a report of a county grand jury to District Judge M. A. Otero, Jr. indicting 119 persons and criticising city officials for laxity.

Indications that the federal government would bring pressure to bear to assure a cleanup were contained in a report that the Indian Bureau, which has been considering Gallup as general agency for reservations of the southwest, would seek another site for its headquarters unless conditions here were improved.

Johnson Orders Boost In Price Of Foodstuffs

Six Per Cent Markup In Retail And Grocery Prices To Conform With Salary Increases

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson Thursday issued an order providing for a six per cent markup in retail food and grocery prices, and a two per cent boost for wholesale prices, effective March 31 to allow for recent wage increases.

The price boost, Johnson said, is to be based on replacement or invoice cost, whichever is lowest, "after deducting all legitimate trade discounts, exclusive of cash discounts for prompt payment of any such product."

The order was issued on recommendation of C. W. Smith, administration member of the food and grocery distributors code authority.

Seek Method Of Ending Strike Of School Students

PROTEST ACTION BY SCHOOL BOARD

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Mar. 23.—With 1,500 students in Cambria county high schools "hollidaying" because of dismissals of teachers, school authorities in three communities were considering means of ending the strike today.

More than half of the student body at Ferndale high, near here, bolted from classrooms in protest against blanket dismissal of more than 30 teachers. Pickets paraded in the streets and pupils attempted to rally sentiment against the dismissal of all high school teachers in the community.

Meanwhile, at Franklin, where 880 students revolted, the school board was deadlocked with representatives to students and a citizens' committee. Unable to end the strike, Franklin students were given a holiday until April 3 by order of the school board.

Few Students Return

Connemaugh high school students had returned to school for the most part. About 90 percent of the insurgents were back in their classrooms.

Cambria county school superintendent H. S. Bentz declined to intervene in the "strike" but indicated the matter would have to be referred to Superintendent James Rule at Harrisburg who will be asked to rule on the legality of the Ferndale's board's action in blanket cancellation of contracts.

CWA Transfer Brings Problem

Program For Work After April 1 Not As Yet Definite Here

With the CWA being transferred into the Works Division of the Emergency Relief board on April 1, some doubt exists in the local organization as to what is to be done in the way of adjusting the pay rolls to meet the requirements of the board.

The total employed personnel under the new order of things is to be 1850. The present total employed personnel is 3140. Only those who have been on the relief rolls prior to the CWA organization are to be kept on, it is said, but this order, if carried out, would wreck many of the projects now under way.

Many of the workers now employed were not on the relief rolls because they did not wish to appear in dire need, and yet they should be given employment. This is the feeling of the executive heads of the CWA here. Many skilled workers who are turning out the splendid work on CWA projects were not on relief but who really should have been. They are taxpayers and the CWA has given them an opportunity to pay back taxes.

Further instructions are awaited here for the CWA heads are uncertain as to what course should be pursued.

Mrs. Insull Plans Trip To France

Wife Of Fugitive American Financier Obtains Transit French Visa

SAMUEL INSULL REMAINS AT SEA

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, Mar. 23.—Mrs. Samuel Insull, wife of the fugitive American financier, obtained a French transit visa to her passport today after a delay of nearly a week.

The transit visa will permit Mrs. Insull to pass through France or remain there only for a limited time. It will not permit an indefinite stay.

She was expected to leave for Paris tomorrow.

Mrs. Insull, who had desired to leave Athens soon after her husband's departure into the Mediterranean aboard his chartered Greek freighter, was delayed by the French consulate's refusal to grant her a visa immediately. The consul declined to grant the visa without specific approval from Paris.

This presumably was obtained today.

Anxious For Change.

Ill and depressed, Mrs. Insull was anxious to get away from the scene of her husband's long haven from American authorities seeking his extradition to face Chicago indictment in connection with the collapse of his great utilities empire.

Meanwhile Athens remained without word of Insull himself. He presumably was biding his time somewhere in the Mediterranean, cautiously avciding all ports, awaiting definite word from his agents as to what place he had best go for refuge.

Endeavor To Face Series Of Tests

Will Sail First Official Race Against King's Britannia

LONDON, Mar. 23.—Endeavor, the all-steel sloop now being built for T. O. M. Sopwith's challenge for the America's cup this fall, is to be severely tested before she crosses the Atlantic for the contest against the American defender.

After undergoing her sailing tests in the Solent in May, Endeavor will sail her first official race against King George's Brittannia and other big yachts such as the Velsheda, Shamrock V, Candida and Astor at Harwick Regatta, on the east coast, on June 2.

On June 12 the Royal Thames Yacht club will promote a special trial race between Endeavor and her sister yacht, Velsheda.

After this the Endeavor will sail in regattas in the west of England and will participate in her final race before being prepared for the Transatlantic voyage at Portsmouth Regatta, on July 14.

McAdoo Scion in Toils

Charges of disorderly conduct were dropped against William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr. (A), after an argument over a check in a New York cafe which he visited with Miss Sara Lummus (B), blonde dress model, but the senator's son is now faced with a $50,000 damage suit brought against him by Mrs. Lillian Knesz, proprietor of the restaurant. FORESTERS SUCCUMB TO LURE OF PERFUME

(International News Service)

SAN LEANDRO, Cal.—The barber in the CCC camp here had so little trade that he was contemplating closing his shop.

Then he decided to advertise in the camp newspaper, giving the prices of haircuts, shaves and shampoos.

The last line of the advertisement overcame sales resistance on the part of the CCC men and now the camp barber has all the business he can handle.

The last line read:

REPORT VICE CONDITIONS IN NEW MEXICO CITY

(International News Service)

GALLUP, N. M.—Shocking vice and liquor conditions exist in Gallup, according to a report of a county grand jury to District Judge M. A. Otero, Jr. indicting 119 persons and criticising city officials for laxity.

Indications that the federal goverment would bring pressure to bear to assure a cleanup were contained in a report that the Indian Bureau, which has been considering Gallup as general agency for reservations of the southwest, would seek another site for its headquarters unless conditions here were improved.

Johnson Orders Boost In Price Of Foodstuffs

Six Per Cent Markup In Retail And Grocery Prices To Conform With Salary Increases

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson Thursday issued an order providing for a six per cent markup in retail food and grocery prices, and a two per cent boost for wholesale prices, effective March 31 to allow for recent wage increases.

The price boost, Johnson said, is to be based on replacement or invoice cost, whichever is lowest, "after deducting all legitimate trade discounts, exclusive of cash discounts for prompt payment of any such product."

The order was issued on recommendation of C. W. Smith, administration member of the food and grocery distributors code authority.

Declares Hitler Holds Key To European Peace More Than Any Other Person

(Editor's Note— Adolf Hitler, more than any other man, holds the key to European peace, H. R. Knickerbocker declares in this article of his series, "Will War Come?" What his attitude will be when Germany is sufficiently rearmed to make victory probable is the question not even Hitler himself can answer at the moment, Knickerbocker writes.)

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service. Reproduction In Whole Or Part Forbidden.

BERLIN, Mar. 23.—Germany is morally re-armed.

Pacificism is the No. 1 crime.

Nine million German males from 15 to 30 are too young to have been in the last war. They are the majority of all males from fifteen to fifty. They, the youth of Germany, want to live and die as heroes, not as common men.

They believe, and the entire German nation is taught today, that the Germans are a race of lords destined to rule.

These are the moral factors that point to German willingness for war.

But Germany also is rearming especially in the air and eventually may recover the military superiority she had on the continent in 1914. Germany, too, has driven a wedge between France and Poland and has successfully prevented a "preventive war."

These are the instruments of German willingness for war.

Wants To Recover

Finally Germany wants to unite in the third Reich the eighty to eighty-five million Germans in Europe of whom fifteen to twenty million live outside present day Germany. She wants to recover everything she lost in the last war. She wants to win, in addition, sufficient territory either continental or colonial to provide the space she considers necessary for her prosperity. In the end the Germans hope to replace the French as masters of the continent.

These are the German aims. Most of them are incapable of realization without war. These moral factions, these instruments and these aims of Germany point to eventual war.

All this is not decisive for the question, "will war come in Europe?" The most serious consideration must be paid to factors which speak against German willingness, preparedness and aims for war.

Not Yet Prepared

Germany is not yet prepared for war. The vast majority of neutral, as well as anti-German technical, military opinion in Europe believes that Germany cannot against become as strong absolutely as she was in 1914 in less than three years, even if she had a completely free hand to rearm. She may never become so strong again relative to her potential enemies because while Germany rearms, others, according to every indication today, will arm upward with equal if not greater speed.

These are instruments against Germany's willingness for war.

But not less important at the moment is the fact that Adolf Hitler himself does not want war. This is reported not because he has said it so often, but because he had made nearly all Europe believe it, because he has made his own people believe it and because according to the best qualified observers who ought to know he has made himself believe it.

Does Not Want War

He declares and believes that he does not want war not only today when Germany is unable to hope for victory but also tomorrow when she may think she could be victorious. Among thirty of Europe's leading statesmen, kings, dictators, foreign ministers, war ministers and chiefs of general staffs interviewed during the course of this investigation not one failed to declare that Hitler is sincere in declaring he does not want war now or in the near future. Almost every one of them, however, qualified that not even Hitler himself in his own heart is able to say today what his attitude toward war will be when Germany is sufficiently rearmed to make victory probable.

When that time comes Hitler will probably be, as he certainly is now, the one man in Europe who will be decisive for the question, "will war come?" He is today more nearly omnipotent in Germany than ever. His power, based on Germany's mystical concept of him as a prophet of the German blood brotherhood, is almost absolute. He controls the thoughts and feelings of his countrymen to a degree most difficult for a non-German to understand. He can do with Germans as he likes.

Has Authority.

He is the first German chancellor since the war with sufficient authority to make all the concessions necessary to ensure peace as long as he wants it. What other German statesmen could have made the non-aggression pact with Poland giving up the corridor for ten years? Bruening, had he done it, would have been crucified. Hitler controlled his storm troops in Danzig. He can control them in the Saar and in Austria if he will.

This is the moral factor that controls Germany's willingness for war and for the moment speaks against it.

Finally, though Germany aims at a great many goals that could only be achieved by war they could be achieved, of course, only by a victorious war. And in contemplating war Germany, too, must contemplate what might be the result of a lost war.

A lost war, Germany as a whole is convinced, would mean first of all the end of modern Germany as a united state. No pacifist propaganda could be more effective than the maps just published by National Socialists pointing out "what the enemies of Germany want." France, according to this forecast, would take the entire left-bank of the Rhine; Poland would get a great slice of North Germany including most of her Baltic seacoast; Czechoslovakia would get most of Saxony, and the rest of Germany would be divided into independent German states, a tiny Prussia around Berlin, and states of Hannover, Saxony, Westfalia, Wurttemberg and Rhineland.

End Of National Socialism.

But a lost war would mean the inevitable end of National Socialism. Germany would have tried within one generation, the Hohenzollerns, the Republic, and the Nazis. After all these had failed, only Communism would remain. The next war, lost by Germany, would mean reduction to a condition only a little better perhaps than her condition after the thirty years war.

These are the counter-balancing considerations to Germany's national aims. They speak against war at least until Germany is absolutely confident of winning.

How soon could Germany be confident of winning? This is the one all-important factor in the question "will war come?" Without a dissenting voice every military authority consulted in the course of this investigation has declared that to organize, train and equip an army comparable to Germany's army of 4,000,000 in 1914 she would require at least three years starting from today, and that it would cost her around forty billion dollars. And she could only do that if she could work without fear or restriction. Considering the fact that she still suffers from fears, though from fewer and fewer restrictions, it is the opinion of the majority of these experts that five to ten years would be necessary. These opinions gain weight by the fact that ninety percent of them are from anti-German sources.

To specify, as one expert put it:

Germany could put in the field tomorrow a superb force of 100,000 men, the Reichswehr; in three months from Reichswehr reserves, police and storm troops, she could have another 200,000, making 300,000. In a year, with a free hand she could have 500,000 to 600,000; in 18 months 750,000; in two years a million first-class soldiers. But even German ingenuity and efficiency could not go higher than that."

Nobody of authority believes the German land army equipment in heavy guns, tanks, machine guns is as yet anything like enough to supply such forces. But as the modern formula now has it, 'the decision lies in the air." Here the observations of experts are incredibly divergent but there is enough positive material to make German air armaments the chief cause of European anxiety today.

Air Strength.

A French military aviation journal declares Germany has 42,000 pilots of whom most are militarily qualified. A neutral military expert who has spent years observing Germany told me on the other hand he did not believe Germany had 12 militarily qualified pilots. A French major of aviation put the figure at 200.

A French general of great authority told me he considered the German bombing air fleet already superior to the French. Captain Guest in the British House of Commons declared Germany had 1,099 civil airplanes capable of being turned to military service. In this city it has become known that the Government has just purchased from an American firm for $75,000 apiece three large passenger airplanes obviously capable of transformation into bombers.

General Hermann Goering, air minister of Germany, has publicly avowed the minimum demand for 30 to 40 per cent as many military airplanes as those possessed by France, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia, the countries bordering on Germany. The official Nazi "Voelkischer Beobachter" reckons French planes 4,546, Belgian 500, Polish 1,000 and Czech 700, a total of around 7,000, "with around 3,000 reserve planes in the background." On this reckoning the German demands would be for at least 2,100 to 2,800 military airplanes. On the conservative reckoning Goering is said to have asked for 1,200 planes.

This is the principal reason why Europe is pessimistic. If Germany's official airfleet numbered from 1,200 to 2,800, how many would the others build? Soon the skies of Europe may be dark with warplanes. In the balance of forces for and against war, the weightiest arguments speak for peace during three, five, ten or perhaps more years. But the armaments race has already begun. No armaments race in history ever ended in anything but war. Can this one be checked. With Great Britain lies the answer.

"Washing done by 10 a.m. . . couldn't look nicer" says mother who uses Chipso to save labor and keep clothes new

"Sometimes there are as many as thirty-five boys' blouses on my line—to say nothing of sweaters, socks, pajamas, shorts, household linens and my own dresses and underwear!" says Mrs. Charles C. Forster.

"The neighbors are amazed that I can get through so early. And—I don't want to boast—but no one of them puts out whiter white clothes, nor better looking colored clothes than mine.

"I wash everything with Chipso. Chipso makes such good rich suds that I don't have to waste time, nor wear the clothes out, with hard rubbing. Just let them SOAK a few minutes, then swish in those deep suds, and the dirt is out.

"Yet Chipso is perfectly safe even for silks and woolens. It doesn't take the color out of anything. And it agrees with my hands. That is why I like Chipso so much for washing dishes, too."

Chipso is not adulterated with harsh, "dirt-cutting" ingredients contained in inferior soaps which gradually weaken fabrics and fade colors. Chipso is SOAPIER. It loosens dirt harmlessly with RICHER SUDS. That is why Chipso-washed clothes stay new-looking for years.

This Fish Story Out Of Season

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Mar. 23.—Here's an out-of-season fish story which Warden Joel Young asserts is true to the last detail—or last fish.

Young reports that Eugene Bruder of Allentown caught 300 suckers from the Little Lehigh river during the two coldest months of last winter. Fishing near Bogert's bridge, Bruder often had caught 25 large ones before mid-morning.

Warden Young, in his report of the unusual catch to the fish commission, suggested Bruder must have toasted his bait.

VENDOL GAVE QUICK RELIEF IN LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLES

"I have been suffering for some time with stomach and liver disorders, and it seemed that Vendol was exactly what I needed. It made a big change in my feelings, in only two weeks' time," said Mr. Hugh J. Miller, residing on Route No. 7, New Castle, who is employed by the State Highway Department.

"While I was not what you call really sick, I was not feeling my best. My stomach would feel upset if I ate certain kinds of food; I would fill up with gas, a sour liquid would rise up into my throat, and my breath would be short. I was constipated all the time and my liver acted sluggishly. Sometimes I would feel dizzy and little spots would dance before my vision. Every morning I would wake with a coated tongue and a bad taste in my mouth.

"Reading in the newspapers how Vendol was helping so many people around here, I bought a couple bottles and now I am entirely free of gas, sourness and heart burn, my liver has been stimulated so that I am entirely free of the dizziness, headaches, and my tongue has cleared up.

"I had also suffered from a little Catarrhal condition during the cold weather, but I notice this has disappeared since taking Vendol.

"I plan to take several bottles of Vendol during the Spring as I am a great believer in root and herb medicines to purify the blood and get the system in good condition after the winter weather, Vendol is good, and I do not hesitate to give it my endorsement.

MR. HUGH J. MILLER

Make up your mind to begin taking Vendol and put yourself on the road to better health. Come to the New Castle Drug Company, 31 East Washington Street, ask for me, the Vendol Man, and I'll explain all about my grand medicine that is helping so many people right here in town and tell you honestly what you may expect it to do for you—so come today if possible. Vendol is sold also at the New Castle Drug Co., 24 North Mill Street store.

On Court House Hill

The will of the late William H. Kleckner, of this city has been admitted to probate at the office of Register and Recorder, William R. Hanna. Mr. Kleckner left all of his property to his wife, Catherine Kleckner.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late J. G. Barnes of New Castle have been issued to Rose Barnes.

W. D. Jones has taken out letters of administration in the estate of the late Jonathan Jones.

In the will of the late David I. John, all of decedents' property is left to his wife, Mary A. John, who is also named executrix.

Will of the late Rev. Peter Riffer of the second ward leaves all of his property to his daughter Mary G. Riffer. The will includes a scholarship at Thiel College to which Miss Riffer will have the right to name a student. Miss Riffer is named as executrix.

In connection with the recent observance of St. Patrick's day, Prothonotary R. M. Campbell recalls when it was the custom of Scott Kirk's band to dispense music at the court house on St. Patrick's day. The band would climb to the belfry, early in the morning, and play from the inclosure which surrounds it. Being located above the din and traffic the musical numbers could be heard all over the city.

John Mozesz, who was recently convicted of the murder of Rose Balogh, and the penalty fixed at life imprisonment has written to the News a letter: It is as follows:

New Castle, Pa., Mar. 22, '34.

To The New Castle News:

A few words in regard to thanking the people here in New Castle for the sympathy extended in my behalf during my court trial. And I also want to thank the sheriff and his deputies for their kind services since I have been under their care.

Let me extend my appreciation to my Attorney Samuel Clark, as I am certain that he performed a miracle against the odds he had to fight. I am sorry for the accident in which the court has found me guilty, trusting in the Maker to see me through.

Signed,
JOHN MOZESZ.

Rev. R. G. Roscamp, 89 one of the oldest ministers in this section of the state has been an interested spectator at court this week. Mr. Roscamp, despite his years is enjoying fairly good health. He is able to hear well, and while his vision is not as good as it used to be he is still able to go around without glasses, although he uses them when he reads.

Rev. Roscamp enjoys the distinction of having been pastor of churches in three countries—England, Canada and the United States. He was ordained a minister in 1872, and was in the service of his Master for 48 years. His first charge was at Plymouth, Devonshire, England. He was sent as a missionary to Canada in 1874, going there with three other young men and locating in Toronto. He was there for three and one half years, when he came to the United States in 1877. He was married in June 1877, his wife being recently deceased.

His first charge in the United States was at Williamstown, Dauphin county, Pa. He came to New Castle in 1880 to accept the pastorate of the Primitive Methodist church. During his pastorate a new church was erected. After 5½ years as pastor he entered the Presbyterian church in October, 1885, being called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Leetonia, O. He was pastor there for about four and one half years, when he was called to Kokomo, Ind. While pastor there he raised funds for the building of a $40,000 church, this being his second accomplishment along that line.

In 1890 he went to London, O., where he remained as pastor of a church until 1895 when he came to New Castle to assume the pastorate of St. Andrews Episcopal church. This was his second pastorate in New Castle. He remained pastor of St. Andrews for twelve years and four months, when he retired. While old in years, as human life is reckoned, Rev. Roscamp is still young in spirit. He takes a keen interest in current events and is never happier than when he meets the many friends who honor and revere him as a man whose life and works have been a shining example for others to follow.

CLAIMS REWARD SANKEY'S SUICIDE

(International News Service)

DENVER, Mar. 23.—Among the many claimants for a portion of the $25,000 reward offered by Claude K. Boettcher, Denver financier, for the capture of the kidnapers of his son, Charles Boettcher II, a year ago, is L. F. Abbott of Denver.

Abbott bases his claim on the asserted fact that he sold Verne Sankey, leader of the kidnap gang, the necktie with which Sankey later hanged himself. In his application he reports that in selling Sankey the lethal cravat he saved the state more money than any one else who aided in the capture of the notorious bad man.

Board Plans To Free More Trout

Two Million Fish Will Be Distributed In State Streams This Spring

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Plans for the distribution of approximately two million fingerling trout to smaller trout waters this spring by the Fish Commission were announced today by Oliver M. Deibler, Commissioner of Fisheries. In announcing the program, Commissioner Deibler stressed the fact that this distribution will be a sportsmen's program.

It is planned to have local sportsmen in each county where the distribution will be made, send in a list of smaller trout streams in their county, which in their judgment will be suitable for stocking with the fingerling trout. These streams should be tributaries to larger approved trout waters, and not, in any instance, tributary to polluted waters. They should also be of the type trout streams that prior to the drought were considered good fishing water.

When the lists have been received, proper allocation of fingerlings to each county will be made. Trucks of the Fish Commission will then be sent to central points in each county, where they will be met by sportsmen who will in turn distribute them to suitable waters.

The fingerling program, as outlined, offers fine possibilities for improvement of trout fishing in Pennsylvania, and within two years definite progress in this respect is hoped for by the Fish Commission.

'Gretna Green' Elopements Echo In Divorce Courts, Says Judge

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J.—Don't be too hasty to elope to Elkton, "Gretna Green" of Maryland. Most of these elopements wind up in the divorce court. This was the advice handed down to young couples by Advisory Master of Chancery William J. Craft, who has presided over divorce cases in Camden courts for many years.

Judge Craft assailed the Maryland marriage mill as the cause of domestic discord.

"The trouble with young married couples of today is that they are too high strung. They have petty quarrels, and are too stubborn to 'kiss and make up' and I find that all hasty elopements to Elkton by youngsters have ended dismally on the rocks of failure," Judge Craft asserted.

He added: "Their's is nothing but infatuation; they do not know the meaning of true love. As the infatuation wears off they head straight for the divorce court.

"I recall that in two days in my court I heard 13 divorce cases; 11 of them were Elkton elopements.

"As long as there is an open mart for "kids" to obtain licenses and get married, just so long will we have long lists of divorce cases."

Japanese Girl Students Merge East With West

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal.—Though they study "men's subjects" and dress and talk lige Occidental women, Japanese co-eds at the University of California can recross at will the chasm to the ancient customs of the Orient.

They demonstrated this recently when they dropped their economics books, doffed their modern garb, and celebrated Girls' day, the traditional holiday set apart for women in Japan.

In kimonos, with chrysanthemums in their hair, they executed mincing dances to weird string music at International House here, while in Japan their cloistered sisters were doing thhe same thing.

Elaborate dolls, perfect in every detail, decked the celebration rooms, just as they do in Japan on Girls' Day.

Flowers were arranged in traditional Japanese manner, in which each flower and each bend of the stems has an abstract meaning.

"I think it is because Japan is such a little country that small things have big meanings for us," said Miss Noriko Ikeda, mistress of ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23—The department of justice has reported to senate and house judiciary committees that evidence against Federal District Judge Johnson of the middle Pennsylvania district does not justify impeachment, the attorney general had stated today.

This report, based on a long investigation made by the department, "disclosed practices in bankruptcy court that are hardly satisfactory," said Attorney General Cummings.

Complaints against Johnson have been made frequently in the press and in speeches on the floor of the house.

Propose Establishment Of Two National Competitive Agencies To Handle Freight

WOULD BE OWNED BY RAILROADS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23—Establishment of two national competitive agencies to collect and deliver at the door merchandise of less than carload freight moved by rail was recommended to the railroads today as a means of recouping much of this traffic from the motor truck companies.

Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, who made the proposal, said it would save upwards from $100,000,000 annually increase the railroads' volume of this type of business and expediate its transportation.

Owned By Railroads

Each of the competing agencies would have comparable traffic and financial strength. They would be owned by the railroads which serve them but operated by an independent management in which the public would be represented.

He admitted highway transportation of such freight for distances less than 75 miles would continue to be the more economical with the agency plan in force.

Alexander Agricola was one of the most famous composers of the School of Netherlands.

Find School Record Nearly Century Old

School teachers received humble salaries back in 1845, the minute book of the old Perry township school district reveals. An entry in the book, shortly after the school district was organized revealed that female school teachers were paid at the rate of $5, $6 and $7 per month, depending on what the board thought they were worth.

The old minute book was found by William Van Gorder of Slippery Rock township, among the effects of his great grandfather, James A. VanGorder, who was a school director and also served in other official capacities.

It was turned over to County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, who is gathering up interesting documents of this nature in Lawrence county for the Pennsylvania Department of Education, in connection with the hundredth anniversary of the Free Public School system.

It is doubtful if any earlier history of Lawrence county schools, although Perry township at that time was a part of Beaver county, the records show.

The earliest entry in the book is dated March 29, 1845, when the board met and organized by electing Alex Morrison president. Among the first teachers in the district were Eliza Jane Armstrong and Manda Morrison, who received the munificent sum of $6 per month.

In 1848, the records show, a new school house was erected, which cost the school district the sum of $135. Shingles for the building cost $1, and the 32 lights of glass for the windows came to $1.28.

Money evidently had depreciated in value in those days for one of the entries in the book showing tax receipts, revealed a credit of $1.24 on depreciated money. The school tax amounted to 2 mills on the dollar and in the succeeding 15 years was never greater than 3 mills. Total tax receipts for the district for one year amounted to $245.49, and the amount of state aid was very small, entries showing $9.94 and like sums.

One sub-district in the township expended $200.24 for school purposes in five years, the receipts for the period being $201.47.

An interesting insight into the customs of the day showed that the board met frequently for the examination of teachers and certified those who were qualified to teach. These meetings were held during the morning and afternoon.

British Chancellor Writes To Himself

(International News Service)

LONDON, —Being compelled to write two letters to himself is the unique situation that befell Lord Sankey, Lord Chancellor of England.

One was when he, as Lord Justice of Appeal, had to write to himself as Lord Chancellor resigning his office.

Then he had to write back to himself thanking himself for the great service he had rendered to the State. He said in the letter that his services had been appreciated by the public, and then wish himself many happy and successful years as Lord Chancellor.

Lord Sankey was made a judge of King's Bench by a Liberal premier, a Lord Justice of Appeal by a Conservative, and was appointed as Lord Chancellor by a Labor prime minister.

Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, who made the proposal, said it would save upwards from $100,000,000 annually increase the railroads' volume of this type of business and expediate its transportation.

Owned By Railroads

Each of the competing agencies would have comparable traffic and financial strength. They would be owned by the railroads which serve them but operated by an independent management in which the public would be represented.

He admitted highway transportation of such freight for distances less than 75 miles would continue to be the more economical with the agency plan in force.

Alexander Agricola was one of the most famous composers of the School of Netherlands.

Find School Record Nearly Century Old

School teachers received humble salaries back in 1845, the minute book of the old Perry township school district reveals. An entry in the book, shortly after the school district was organized revealed that female school teachers were paid at the rate of $5, $6 and $7 per month, depending on what the board thought they were worth.

The old minute book was found by William Van Gorder of Slippery Rock township, among the effects of his great grandfather, James A. VanGorder, who was a school director and also served in other official capacities.

It was turned over to County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, who is gathering up interesting documents of this nature in Lawrence county for the Pennsylvania Department of Education, in connection with the hundredth anniversary of the Free Public School system.

It is doubtful if any earlier history of Lawrence county schools, although Perry township at that time was a part of Beaver county, the records show.

The earliest entry in the book is dated March 29, 1845, when the board met and organized by electing Alex Morrison president. Among the first teachers in the district were Eliza Jane Armstrong and Manda Morrison, who received the munificent sum of $6 per month.

In 1848, the records show, a new school house was erected, which cost the school district the sum of $135. Shingles for the building cost $1 and the 32 lights of glass for the windows came to $1.28.

Money evidently had depreciated in value in those days for one of the entries in the book showing tax receipts, revealed a credit of $1.94 on depreciated money. The school tax amounted to 2 mills on the dollar and in the succeeding 15 years was never greater than 3 mills. Total tax receipts for the district for one year amounted to $245.49, and the amount of state aid was very small, entries showing $9.94 and like sums.

One sub-district in the township expended $200.24 for school purposes in five years, the receipts for the period being $201.47.

An interesting insight into the customs of the day showed that the board met frequently for the examination of teachers and certified those who were qualified to teach. These meetings were held during the morning and afternoon.

British Chancellor Writes To Himself

(International News Service)

LONDON, — Being compelled to write two letters to himself is the unique situation that befell Lord Sankey, Lord Chancellor of England.

One was when he, as Lord Justice of Appeal, had to write to himself as Lord Chancellor resigning his office.

Then he had to write back to himself thanking himself for the great service he had rendered to the State. He said in the letter that his services had been appreciated by the public, and then wish himself many happy and successful years as Lord Chancellor.

Lord Sankey was made a judge of King's Bench by a Liberal premier, a Lord Justice of Appeal by a Conservative, and was appointed as Lord Chancellor by a Labor prime minister.

Universal Plant Employes Rally

Merry Supper Party Draws Host Of Workers To Columbus Hall

SPEECHES, MUSIC FEATURE PROGRAM

Employes of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company gathered in the Seventh ward last night for a gala supper and party sponsored by the New Castle Local No. 133, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The social affair, the first the employes have staged in months, was held at Columbus hall, South Liberty street.

President Mike Prescaro officiated as toastmaster for the program which followed the delicious dinner of spaghetti and meat balls. Snappy accordion music, furnished by Paul Vesco and Sam Montgieri, favored the closing moments of the dinner hour.

Speakers introduced by Toastmaster Prescaro included Harry Mehlman, who discussed the better working conditions prevailing everywhere today; Don McKee, who told the men of the benefits of organization; Alfonso Felix, who spoke of working conditions between 1908 and 1934, and the evening's chairman, who urged support for the union group.

The workmen had as their honor guest for the evening Xavier Lutton, an official of the Universal plant, and in the talk which he made he spoke of the standards of living today and the fairness existing between company and unionism. Mr. Lutton was accompanied by Harold Turner.

Another entertainment feature of the evening was the reading which Frank Dattilio gave in Italian for the benefit of the foreign brothers.

President James M. Duffy of the N. B. of O. P., East Liverpool, Ohio, who was prevented from attending by pressing business, sent his regrets in writing.

At the close of the meeting the entire group led by Rex Lutton, paid respects to the late Domenick Felix, a member of the local.

The following committees served for last night's supper affair:

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending 8:30 p. m. March 22: seven arrests, on charges as follows: drunkenness, three; violating parking law, three, and suspicion, one.

Persons who made a garden in a city-owned lot last spring can have the same lot again this year, according to Neil Williams, attache of the city engineering department, who was in charge last year and will again take charge of the city's garden plots this year. However, to continue to garden on the lot they had, the persons must register with Mr. Williams before April 10. Cunningham Park farmland has been converted into a part of the city park system and no lots will be given out there, according to Williams.

If a penny slot were attached to the scales in Inspector English's office, the city would earn probably a few dollars each month. Each morning persons step into his office, see the scales, and a moment later are finding out if they have or have not gained or lost.

Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman has presented his 1933 report to council. The department replied to 17 out-of-city alarms, having gone to Union township, Shenango township, Neshannock township, Scott township and Villa Marie convent, New Bedford. Stockman has recommended: "The city receives no remuneration for this service and it is of considerable expense to our department. Under an act of assembly the townships can organize a fire department of their own and receive a percentage of the foreign fire insurance tax with which to equip and maintain a department. They can also use this money to reimburse the city for protection." He shows fire losses on buildings and contents as $113,-180.31. Insurance was carried on those buildings and contents swept by fire. However, there amounted a loss of $7,050.00 on uninsured buildings and contents. There were 25 more false alarms than in 1932. Some hydrants have been in use 40 years and need repairs. He urges those in need of repair be put in good condition. He also throws a bouquet when he says: "I want to commend my assistant, James E. Thomas, for the faithful manner in which he has performed the duties of his office and the efficient manner in which he has handled the department during my absence."

City Treasurer Louis McClung today stated that the clerks in the treasury are writing up the 1933 school taxes, which, in the near future will be filed with the treasurer of Lawrence county for collection. Efforts to collect 1933 city taxes are also under way. The tax cards, about 25,000 of them, will be mailed by the city treasurer about April 1, and incidentally those persons in a position to pay their 1934 city taxes can receive a one percent discount by paying before May 1. The city is counting heavily on the industrial plants taxes. The industries always pay their dues to receive a discount. The discount on school taxes for 1934 can be received up to August 1. The industries, it is safe to say, will pay in city and school taxes at least $200,-000.

Trivial things can cause casualties, which recalls that the "rubber" on some city cars don't look healthy. ....The "bloke" who is forever panning the "cops" got a verbal scorching by several people yesterday.... One more week until Clean up, Paint up, Remove Fire Cause time arrives....Judging from what some firemen say they like the new civil service law....City hall personals: Al Hoyland likes his cigars big and fat, D. O. Davies goes for stogies and Joe Alexander likes his cigarets. Haven't caught B. F. Butler flirting with tobacco but the mayor, Charles Mayne, likes his chewin' terbaccer. Chief Haven likes either cigar or cigarette and Health Officer Dr. W. L. Steen goes for the cork-tips. Harry Hoskins, city engineer; Earl Wimer, controller, and Lou McClung, the treasurer, like the short smoke, and Howard Phillips of the garbage department loves his pipe. Inspector of Legal Affairs Hen' Dysart says "shoo shoo" when offered a smoke. Sanitary "Coo" Chauncey Davis rarely fools with smokes but Neil Williams registry clerk, always has a package as does Plumbing Inspector Dunlap. Reed English, sealer of weights and measures, likes cigars best, and Solicitor Robert White don't smoke when in his offices.

Sea shells for buttons and clips is a springtime style feature. Butterflies and bees are used for evening adornment.

Safety Awards Given To Local Cement Plants

Lehigh And Medusa Plants Go Through 1933 Without Accidents

REPEAT RECORDS OF FORMER YEARS

Operating throughout 1933 without a single lost time accident, the Lehigh Portland Cement plant in New Castle and the Medusa Portland Cement plant at Wampum have again won the safety trophies awarded annually by the Portland Cement association, it was announced today by J. B. John, chairman of the committee on accident prevention and insurance of the association.

Previous awards were won by the Lehigh plant in the years of 1927 and 1930, and the Medusa plant in 1930. The superintendents of the two plants in the county will be notified of the new awards shortly.

The two plants join with 36 others throughout the United States and Canada in repeating no-accident records achieved in previous years.

The permanent trophies, eighteen sculptured monuments, which were given to the plants as the original award, will be fittingly inscribed with the date and record of the 1933 safety achievement.

GIRL STARVES TO DEATH AFTER JOINING SECT

(International News Service)

DERBRECEN, East Hungary—Rosie Kiss, 14-year-old daughter of a rich farmer of this locality, whose name seemed to predestine her to a better fate, has just died of starvation as a result of joining a religious sect whose main belief is "mortifying the flesh."

"The Starvers," as the fanatics are known, have hundreds of disciples throughout this, the richest pig-raising region of Hungary. They believe that the famishing process purifies their souls.

Rosie went without eating for 12 days and died. Her parents and several other members of the sect have been arrested.

Herd Of Cows Pays Tuition For Collegian

(International News Service)

BOSTON.—A herd of Jersey cows is paying the college tuition for Carmi Squires, promising young baritone, at Boston University's School of Music.

Squires, son of a Lyndonville, Vermont, started earning his college funds while a fifth grade student.

The young student said he first began singing while milking the two cows his father gave him as the nucleus for the herd.

During the summer time he cares for the herd himself, milking the cows, churning butter and delivering the finished product. In the winter a younger brother handles the dairy "route" for a fair amount of the profit.

Last Christmas Squires said he was a little "short" of ready cash. "So I killed a steer, cut it up turned my father's old fliver into a wagon and peddled the meat. I did pretty well."

Plan Reception For Senator Reed

Tentative arrangements have been made for a reception for United States Senator David A. Reed for Friday, April 13, it was stated today. The plans as they are now drawn will include a reception in the Castleton Hotel and possibly a dinner given him by a few friends with a public reception in the evening.

SEVERE WINTER MEANS RICHES TO TRAPPERS

(International News Service)

WINNIPEG, Man.—The fur trade in the far north of Canada is booming. Cold weather and heavy snows which have been just a pain in the neck to civilization has meant money in the bank to the fur trapper.

A Fort Chipewyan, Alberta, trader already has 3,000 fox pelts and it is said that no trader in the district has less than 1,000. Similar reports have been received from the trapping districts of northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, indicating that the winter will prove an unusually rich one for the trap line operators.

Says Railroads Would Be Hard Hit By Canal

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Construction of the Beaver-Mahoning canal would strike a serious blow at the railroads engaging in transporting bituminous coal through that region, Roy S. Kern of Pittsburgh, representing the Central Freight Association, today told the House Rivers and Harbors committee.

The principal traffic on the projected waterway would be bituminous coal, he said.

"Sincethe Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Bessemer and Lake Erie and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads derive a major portion of their revenue from hauling coal, any transportation diversion from these roads will threaten them seriously," Kern said.

He denied charges made before the committee that freight rates in this area were high and discriminatory. He cited the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission which approved the present charges.

ENGINEERS UNEARTH OLD COLONIAL FORT

(International News Service)

CANTON, O.—An interesting page from Ohio's early history was brought to light near here by engineers marking off the proposed site for the Sandy Valley dam, one of the units in the $35,000,000 Muskingum flood control and water conservation plan.

A row of pits, joined by trenches, was found on the site of the old Indian village that overlooked the Tuscarawas valley. Similar earthworks were found near Coshocton.

The diggings, students of Ohio history believe, are the remains of fortifications built by Colonel Henry Bouquet when he led his army of 1,000 soldiers down Sandy Valley 170 years ago to rescue 200 white men, women and children held captive by the Indians.

PREVENT FORMATION OF ICE ON ROADS

(International News Service)

BERLIN—A new medium for preventing ice forming on automotive highways is being tried out in Germany. The process involves the addition of cattle salt to the surface of a highway. Experiments conducted on tar highways in Hessen showed that the layer of ice formed during frosty weather was loose and could be readily removed.

The salt is added to the highway during construction, being sprayed on the surface before the second coat of tar is added. About 700 grams of salt are used per square meter of the highway surface. It is covered with hot tar and rolled in with crushed stones.

CUT OFF WIFE'S NOSE FULFILLING THREAT

(International News Service)

SCHIEFFERSTADT, Germany.—"Here is the nose of my unfaithful wife!" said Joseph Knoll, 33, laborer, stepping into the police station and plunking the bleeding object down on the sergeant's desk.

Knoll was seperated from his wife for some time, and had several times threatened he would cut her nose off if he should ever catch her with another man. When he recently saw her leaving a house in which he suspected her lover lived, he dragged her to a nearby field and performed the operation.

Knoll was sentenced to two and a quarter years in jail.

Lehigh And Medusa Plants Go Through 1933 Without Accidents

REPEAT RECORDS OF FORMER YEARS

Operating throughout 1933 without a single lost time accident, the Lehigh Portland Cement plant in New Castle and the Medusa Portland Cement plant at Wampum have again won the safety trophies awarded annually by the Portland Cement association, it was announced today by J. B. John, chairman of the committee on accident prevention and insurance of the association.

Previous awards were won by the Lehigh plant in the years of 1927 and 1930, and the Medusa plant in 1930. The superintendents of the two plants in the county will be notified of the new awards shortly.

The two plants join with 36 others throughout the United States and Canada in repeating no-accident records achieved in previous years.

The permanent trophies, eighton sculptured monuments, which were given to the plants as the original award, will be fittingly inscribed with the date and record of the 1933 safety achievement.

GIRL STARVES TO DEATH AFTER JOINING SECT

(International News Service)

DERBRECEN, East Hungary—Rosie Kiss, 14-year-old daughter of a rich farmer of this locality, whose name seemed to predestine her to a better fate, has just died of starvation as a result of joining a religious sect whose main belief is "mortifying the flesh."

"The Starvers," as the fanatics are known, have hundreds of disciples throughout this, the richest pig-raising region of Hungary. They believe that the famishing process purifies their souls.

Rosie went without eating for 12 days and died. Her parents and several other members of the sect have been arrested.

Herd Of Cows Pays Tuition For Collegian

(International News Service)

BOSTON.—A herd of Jersey cows is paying the college tuition for Carmi Squires, promising young baritone, at Boston University's School of Music.

Squires, son of a Lyndonville, Vermont, started earning his college funds while a fifth grade student.

The young student said he first began singing while milking the two cows his father gave him as the nucleus for the herd.

During the summer time he cares for the herd himself, milking the cows, churning butter and delivering the finished product. In the winter a younger brother handles the dairy "route" for a fair amount of the profit.

Last Christmas Squires said he was a little "short" of ready cash. "So I killed a steer, cut it up turned my father's old fliver into a wagon and peddled the meat. I did pretty well."

Plan Reception For Senator Reed

Tentative arrangements have been made for a reception for United States Senator David A. Reed for Friday, April 13, it was stated today. The plans as they are now drawn will include a reception in the Castleton Hotel and possibly a dinner given him by a few friends with a public reception in the evening.

SEVERE WINTER MEANS RICHES TO TRAPPERS

(International News Service)

WINNIPEG, Man.—The fur trade in the far north of Canada is booming. Cold weather and heavy snows which have been just a pain in the neck to civilization has meant money in the bank to the fur trapper.

A Fort Chipewyan, Alberta, trader already has 3,000 fox pelts and it is said that no trader in the district has less than 1,000. Similar reports have been received from the trapping districts of northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, indicating that the winter will prove an unusually rich one for the trap line operators.

Says Railroads Would Be Hard Hit By Canal

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Construction of the Beaver-Mahoning canal would strike a serious blow at the railroads engaging in transporting bituminous coal through that region, Roy S. Kern of Pittsburgh, representing the Central Freight Association, today told the House Rivers and Harbors committee.

The principal traffic on the projected waterway would be bituminous coal, he said.

"Sincethe Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Bessemer and Lake Erie and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads derive a major portion of their revenue from hauling coal, any transportation diversion from these roads will threaten them seriously," Kern said.

He denied charges made before the committee that freight rates in this area were high and discriminatory. He cited the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission which approved the present charges.

ENGINEERS UNEARTH OLD COLONIAL FORT

(International News Service)

CANTON, O.—An interesting page from Ohio's early history was brought to light near here by engineers marking off the proposed site for the Sandy Valley dam, one of the units in the $35,000,000 Muskingum flood control and water conservation plan.

A row of pits, joined by trenches, was found on the site of the old Indian village that overlooked the Tuscarawas valley. Similar earthworks were found near Coshocton.

The diggings, students of Ohio history believe, are the remains of fortifications built by Colonel Henry Bouquet when he led his army of 1,000 soldiers down Sandy Valley 170 years ago to rescue 200 white men, women and children held captive by the Indians.

PREVENT FORMATION OF ICE ON ROADS

(International News Service)

BERLIN—A new medium for preventing ice forming on automotive highways is being tried out in Germany. The process involves the addition of cattle salt to the surface of a highway. Experiments conducted on tar highways in Hessen showed that the layer of ice formed during frosty weather was loose and could be readily removed.

The salt is added to the highway during construction, being sprayed on the surface before the second coat of tar is added. About 700 grams of salt are used per square meter of the highway surface. It is covered with hot tar and rolled in with crushed stones.

Seek Method Of Ending Strike Of School Students

More Than 1500 School Students In Cambria County Out On Strike

PROTEST ACTION BY SCHOOL BOARD

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Mar. 23.—With 1,500 students in Cambria county high schools "holidaying" because of dismissals of teachers, school authorities in three communities were considering means of ending the strike today.

More than half of the student body at Ferndale high, near here, bolted from classrooms in protest against blanket dismissal of more than 30 teachers. Pickets paraded in the streets and pupils attempted to rally sentiment against the dismissal of all high school teachers in the community.

Meanwhile, at Franklin, where 880 students revolted, the school board was deadlocked with representatives to students and a citizens' committee. Unable to end the strike, Franklin students were given a holiday until April 3 by order of the school board.

Few Students Return

Conemaugh high school students had returned to school for the most part. About 90 percent of the insurgents were back in their classrooms.

Cambria county school superintendent H. S. Bentz declined to intervene in the "strike" but indicated the matter would have to be referred to Superintendent James Rule at Harrisburg who will be asked to rule on the legality of the Ferndale's board's action in blanket cancellation of contracts.

CWA Transfer Brings Problem

Program For Work After April 1 Not As Yet Definite Here

With the CWA being transferred into the Works Division of the Emergency Relief board on April 1, some doubt exists in the local organization as to what is to be done in the way of adjusting the pay rolls to meet the requirements of the board.

The total employed personnel under the new order of things is to be 1850. The present total employed personnel is 3140. Only those who have been on the relief rolls prior to the CWA organization are to be kept on, it is said, but this order, if carried out, would wreck many of the projects now under way.

Many of the workers now employed were not on the relief rolls because they did not wish to appear in dire need, and yet they should be given employment. This is the feeling of the executive heads of the CWA here. Many skilled workers who are turning out the splendid work on CWA projects were not on relief but who really should have been. They are taxpayers and the CWA has given them an opportunity to pay back taxes.

Further instructions are awaited here for the CWA heads are uncertain as to what course should be pursued.

Mrs. Insull Plans Trip To France

Wife Of Fugitive American Financier Obtains Transit French Visa

SAMUEL INSULL REMAINS AT SEA

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, Mar. 23.—Mrs. Samuel Insull, wife of the fugitive American financier, obtained a French transit visa to her passport today after a delay of nearly a week.

The transit visa will permit Mrs. Insull to pass through France or remain there only for a limited time. It will not permit an indefinite stay.

She was expected to leave for Paris tomorrow.

Mrs. Insull, who had desired to leave Athens soon after her husband's departure into the Mediterranean aboard his chartered Greek freighter, was delayed by the French consulate's refusal to grant her a visa immediately. The consul declined to grant the visa without specific approval from Paris.

This presumably was obtained today.

Anxious For Change.

Ill and depressed, Mrs. Insull was anxious to get away from the scene of her husband's long haven from American authorities seeking his extradition to face Chicago indictment in connection with the collapse of his great utilities empire.

Meanwhile Athens remained without word of Insull himself. He presumably was biding his time somewhere in the Mediterranean, cautiously avoiding all ports, awaiting definite word from his agents as to what place he had best go for refuge.

Endeavor To Face Series Of Tests

Will Sail First Official Race Against King's Brittannia

LONDON, Mar. 23.—Endeavor, the all-steel sloop now being built for T. O. M. Sopwith's challenge for the America's cup this fall, is to be severely tested before she crosses the Atlantic for the contest against the American defender.

After undergoing her sailing tests in the Solent in May, Endeavor will sail her first official race against King George's Brittannia and other big yachts such as the Velsheda, Shamrock V, Candida and Astor at Harwick Regatta, on the east coast, on June 2.

On June 12 the Royal Thames Yacht club will promote a special trial race between Endeavor and her sister yacht, Velsheda.

After this the Endeavor will sail in regattas in the west of England and will participate in her final race before being prepared for the Transatlantic voyage at Portsmouth Regatta, on July 14.

FORESTERS SUCCUMB TO LURE OF PERFUME

SAN LEANDRO, Cal.—The barber in the CCC camp here had so little trade that he was contemplating closing his shop.

Then he decided to advertise in the camp newspaper, giving the prices of haircuts, shaves and shampoos.

The last line of the advertisement overcame sales resistance on the part of the CCC men and now the camp barber has all the business he can handle.

The last line read:

REPORT VICE CONDITIONS IN NEW MEXICO CITY

(International News Service)

GALLUP, N. M.—Shocking vice and liquor conditions exist in Gallup, according to a report of a county grand jury to District Judge M. A. Otero, Jr. indicting 119 persons and criticising city officials for laxity.

Indications that the federal government would bring pressure to bear to assure a cleanup were contained in a report that the Indian Bureau, which has been considering Gallup as general agency for reservations of the southwest, would seek another site for its headquarters unless conditions here were improved.

"Face Is Fortune" To Hollywood Actresses

By DAVID P. SENTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Mar. 23—It is still a man's world in Hollywood and it is the woman who has "to take it."

So declared Helen Vinson, pretty movie actress, who estimated mathematically today that a screen actress has to undergo three times more "high pressure" in the film capital than a male.

"A girl in Hollywood has to worry about her figure, her clothes, her hair and a hundred other things if she wants to stick around," said Miss Vinson. "The male actor doesn't have to give a hang about these things.

"A screen actress has to get up three hours before she is due on the picture set to go over her makeup. An actress is used nine times as much as an actor for closeup camera shots and she has to take care of that face like a baby.

"In addition, the competition among feminine screen performers is much keener than among masculine performers. Every young girl in the nation dreams of Hollywood and about half of them try their luck.

"The young American male only thinks of Hollywood, generally speaking, if he is already in the acting profession. Most film actors come directly from the Broadway stage. Many actresses or so-called ones, frequently come from other fields.

A resolution recently issued by the Medellin municipal council decrees traveling salesmen, with or without samples of merchandise, who remain in Medellin less than 30 days, will be taxed at the rate of 50 centavos per day during their stay in the city.

The resolution provides that the rate of tax to be assessed against salesmen remaining more than 30 days shall be determined by the municipal advisory board with the approval of the city council and fixed under one of the classifications contained in the tariff which ranges from 50 centavos to 10,000 pesos a month.

Find Foreigners Are Best Servants

(International News Service)

TUCSON, Ariz.—Foreigners make the best servants, Chicago matrons believe.

That was the consensus of 233 society dowagers whom Dr. Eleanor Johnson, home economics department head for the University of Arizona, interviewed for the U. S. Department of Labor. Her report was made public here.

Foreign-born servants are particular in their work and are not familiar with the members of the family, the employers reported. Negroes are second on the list, with native white Americans at the bottom.

Chicagoans demand honesty above everything else in their servants, with dependability and willingness to work as second and third choices. The average salary paid during 1933 was a little less than $20.

Mothers-In-Law Make Best Dish —For Cannibals

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—The old-age problem is solved in New Guinea. But the plan would hardly work out in the states where the quaint custom of eating a stranger's mother-in-law is not considered the best of manners, according to Amos Burg, Portland explorer, who recently returned home from a visit to the East Indies.

"We enjoyed our stay in New Guinea very much, there being no old ladies in our party," Burg said. "Had there been, we might have been a bit nervous. You see, the New Guineans are still cannibals, and instead of having fried chicken for Sunday dinner they enjoy boiled old lady. But they never devour a lady of their own tribe. There are plenty of tribes, so the matter has been arranged like this:

"A man might have a mother-in-law or a grandmother who has grown too old to work. He may know a fellow in another tribe who has an ancient aunt who can no longer till the soil. The two men will meet and arrange a trade, so that both may have a real feast, and yet not violate the tribal laws. When the supply of old ladies runs low, the old men are made into soup, but the gourmands of New Guinea prefer cooked woman to stewed man."

A writer tells us that people know too little about South America. Not those who bought bonds.

Fisher Found Guilty On Driving Charge

In the case of George Fisher, in which he was tried for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, which was tried at court before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Fisher was arrested on the Wampum-Chewton road. He claimed that he had not been drinking anything but 3.2 beer which was not supposed to be intoxicating. He also asserted that he had been driving a 1926 car, which was acting badly and caused him to get into the ditch.

Residents See 1934 La Salle Here Today

New Castle got its first glimpse of the attractive 1934 La Salle car when the Lawrence Automobile company, South Mercer street, placed one of the models on display in its public salesroom this morning.

"There are sufficient actual sales orders for new La Salle cars at the Cadillac factory to keep the big Cadillac plant in Detroit operating constantly for the next three months on La Salle production alone" Jesse Gibson, sales manager for the firm, quoted a La Salle official as saying. For this reason production schedules are to be speeded up.

Found Not Guilty; Costs Are Divided

In the case of Edward Shaffer, charged with malicious mischief by Ben Seaborn, which was tried before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. One-third of the costs were placed on the defendant and two-thirds on the prosecutor. It was claimed that Shaffer had broken a cash register belonging to Seaborn at Ellwood City. At the trial he maintained that it was not done maliciously, but that it was an accident.

Uncle Sam To Share Winning On Steeplechase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 23.—Uncle Sam stepped in today to claim some of the happiness experienced by J. T. Burton, Bradford, winner of approximately $100,000 when Delaneige on whom he held a ticket placed in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England.

Although winner of the $100,000, Burton will be forced to pay the federal government between $30,000 and $40,000 in taxes.

Officials of the internal revenue department here said the normal tax on $100,000 is $7,840 while the surtax is $22,460, making a total of $30,300 Burton would have to pay under the revenue bill of 1932.

If congress approves proposed amendments to that act, Burton will be taxed approximately $40,000, they estimated.

It was a common saying among the Puritans, "Brown bread and the Gospel is good fare."—Matthew Henry.

Mothers-In-Law Make Best Dish —For Cannibals

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—The old-age problem is solved in New Guinea. But the plan would hardly work out in the states where the quaint custom of eating a stranger's mother-in-law is not considered the best of manners, according to Amos Burg, Portland explorer, who recently returned home from a visit to the East Indies.

"We enjoyed our stay in New Guinea very much, there being no old ladies in our party," Burg said. "Had there been, we might have been a bit nervous. You see; the New Guineans are still cannibals, and instead of having fried chicken for Sunday dinner they enjoy boiled old lady. But they never devour a lady of their own tribe. There are plenty of tribes, so the matter has been arranged like this:

"A man might have a mother-in-law or a grandmother who has grown too old to work He may know a fellow in another tribe who has an ancient aunt who can no longer till the soil. The two men will meet and arrange a trade, so that both may have a real feast, and yet not violate the tribal laws. When the supply of old ladies runs low, the old men are made into soup, but the gourmands of New Guinea prefer cooked woman to stewed man."

Fisher Found Guilty On Driving Charge

In the case of George Fisher, in which he was tried for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, which was tried at court before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Fisher was arrested on the Wampum-Chewton road. He claimed that he had not been drinking anything but 3.2 beer which was not supposed to be intoxicating. He also asserted that he had been driving a 1926 car, which was acting badly and caused him to get into the ditch.

Residents See 1934 La Salle Here Today

New Castle got its first glimpse of the attractive 1934 La Salle car when the Lawrence Automobile company, South Mercer street, placed one of the models on display in its public salesroom this morning.

"There are sufficient actual sales orders for new La Salle cars at the Cadillac factory to keep the big Cadillac plant in Detroit operating constantly for the next three months on La Salle production alone" Jesse Gibson, sales manager for the firm, quoted a La Salle official as saying. For this reason production schedules are to be speeded up.

Found Not Guilty; Costs Are Divided

In the case of Edward Shaffer, charged with malicious mischief by Ben Seaborn, which was tried before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. One-third of the costs were placed on the defendant and two-thirds on the prosecutor. It was claimed that Shaffer had broken a cash register belonging to Seaborn at Ellwood City. At the trial he maintained that it was not done maliciously, but that it was an accident.

Uncle Sam To Share Winning On Steeplechase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 23.—Uncle Sam stepped in today to claim some of the happiness experienced by J. T. Burton, Bradford, winner of approximately $100,000 when Delaneige on whom he held a ticket placed in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England.

Although winner of the $100,000, Burton will be forced to pay the federal government between $30,000 and $40,000 in taxes.

Officials of the internal revenue department here said the normal tax on $100,000 is $7,840 while the surtax is $22,460, making a total of $30,300 Burton would have to pay under the revenue bill of 1932.

If congress approves proposed amendments to that act, Burton will be taxed approximately $40,000, they estimated.

It was a common saying among the Puritans, "Brown bread and the Gospel is good fare."—Matthew Henry.

Board Plans To Free More Trout

Two Million Fish Will Be Distributed In State Streams This Spring

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Plans for the distribution of approximately two million fingerling trout to smaller trout waters this spring by the Fish Commission were announced today by Oliver M. Deibler, Commissioner of Fisheries. In announcing the program, Commissioner Deibler stressed the fact that this distribution will be a sportsmen's program.

It is planned to have local sportsmen in each county where the distribution will be made, send in a list of smaller trout streams in their county, which in their judgment will be suitable for stocking with the fingerling trout. These streams should be tributaries to larger approved trout waters, and not, in any instance, tributary to polluted waters. They should also be of the type trout streams that prior to the drought were considered good fishing water.

When the lists have been received, proper allocation of fingerlings to each county will be made. Trucks of the Fish Commission will then be sent to central points in each county, where they will be met by sportsmen who will in turn distribute them to suitable waters.

The fingerling program, as outlined, offers fine possibilities for improvement of trout fishing in Pennsylvania, and within two years definite progress in this respect is hoped for by the Fish Commission.

'Gretna Green' Elopements Echo In Divorce Courts, Says Judge

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J.—Don't be too hasty to elope to Elkton, "Gretna Green" of Maryland. Most of these elopements wind up in the divorce court. This was the advice handed down to young couples by Advisory Master of Chancery William J. Craft, who has presided over divorce cases in Camden courts for many years.

Judge Craft assailed the Maryland marriage mill as the cause of domestic discord.

"The trouble with young married couples of today is that they are too high strung. They have petty quarrels, and are too stubborn to "kiss and make up" and I find that all hasty elopements to Elkton by youngsters have ended dismally on the rocks of failure," Judge Craft asserted.

He added: "Their's is nothing but infatuation, they do not know the meaning of true love. As the infatuation wears off they head straight for the divorce court.

"I recall that in two days in my court I heard 13 divorce cases; 11 of them were Elkton elopements.

"As long as there is an open mart for "kids" to obtain licenses and get married, just so long will we have long lists of divorce cases."

This Crooner Made Serious Mistake

(International News Service)

LEBANON, Pa., Mar. 23.—Robert Fraziere, colored, made the cardinal error of crooning to a pair of dusky damsels instead of only one.

The generous apportionment of his melodious attempts between the girls precipitated a free-for-all in which each demonstrated adeptness at carving. The women, Dorothy White and Dorothy Davis, landed in the hospital for repairs while Fraziere took to his heels with the police behind him.

Japanese Girl Students Merge East With West

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal.—Though they study "men's subjects" and dress and talk like Occidental women, Japanese co-eds at the University of California can recross at will the chasm to the ancient customs of the Orient.

They demonstrated this recently when they dropped their economics books, doffed their modern garb, and celebrated Girls' day, the traditional holiday set apart for women in Japan.

In kimonos, with chrysanthemums in their hair, they executed mincing dances to weird string music at International House here, while in Japan their cloistered sisters were doing thhe same thing.

Elaborate dolls, perfect in every detail, decked the celebration rooms, just as they do in Japan on Girls' Day.

Flowers were arranged in traditional Japanese manner, in which each flower and each bend of the stems has an abstract meaning.

"I think it is because Japan is such a little country that small things have big meanings for us," said Miss Noriko Ikeda, mistress of ceremonies.

High School Will Meet Finishing 1 For Title In City

Faculty Cagers To Play Cold Draw In Preliminary Game At Shelby

TO PLAY GAME NEXT TUESDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23—The much talked about game for the city title between Finishing No. 1 champions of the Shelby Inter-department basketball league and the Ellwoodians, which is identical with the Ellwood City High team of this year, has become a reality.

Final arrangements for the game were completed this morning with Dewey Cunningham, manager of the Finishing team and Fred Robuck and Joe Navolio, who represented the Ellwoodians. As an added attraction the crack Faculty passers of the local high school who have split with the Shelby champs in recent games, will play the Cold draws in the preliminary game. The Cold Draw who were runners-up to the champs hold a victory over the Faculty who is anxious to even the score. This is to occur next Tuesday night at Shelby Auditorium.

Playing independent basketball the Ellwoodians have been an altogether different team. They have won eight consecutive games, which includes victories over the best teams in this section. Valuable Advice Given Rotary By Howard Johnson

Local Rotarians Observe Financial Independence Week At Meet Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23—Members of the Ellwood City Rotary club heard an interesting address at their weekly meeting last night in the First Presbyterian church when they heard Howard Johnson of this city. A program in keeping with the observance of Financial Independence Week was carried out and Mr. Johnson was the principal speaker.

The gist of Mr. Johnson's talk was the stabilizing of our estates through life insurance. He declared that one-fifth of all estates in this country have been wiped out entirely and the dollar value of at least half the remainder has been cut in two. With this serious depletion in estate values it is natural that the average man wants to provide as much family income as possible through insurance. "Aside from the stability of life insurance," said Mr. Johnson, "a reason for its phenominal record during the depression years has been its adaptability in meeting existing financial needs.

Next week's program will be in charge of Dr. W. H. Shields of this city, who will speak on "Eugenics".

Valuable Advice Given Rotary By Howard Johnson

Local Rotarians Observe Financial Independence Week At Meet Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23—Members of the Ellwood City Rotary club heard an interesting address at their weekly meeting last night in the First Presbyterian church when they heard Howard Johnson of this city. A program in keeping with the observance of Financial Independence Week was carried out and Mr. Johnson was the principal speaker.

The gist of Mr. Johnson's talk was the stabilizing of our estates through life insurance. He declared that one-fifth of all estates in this country have been wiped out entirely and the dollar value of at least half the remainder has been cut in two. With this serious depletion in estate values it is natural that the average man wants to provide as much family income as possible through insurance. "Aside from the stability of life insurance," said Mr. Johnson, "a reason for its phenominal record during the depression years has been its adaptability in meeting existing financial needs.

Next week's program will be in charge of Dr. W. H. Shields of this city, who will speak on "Eugenics".

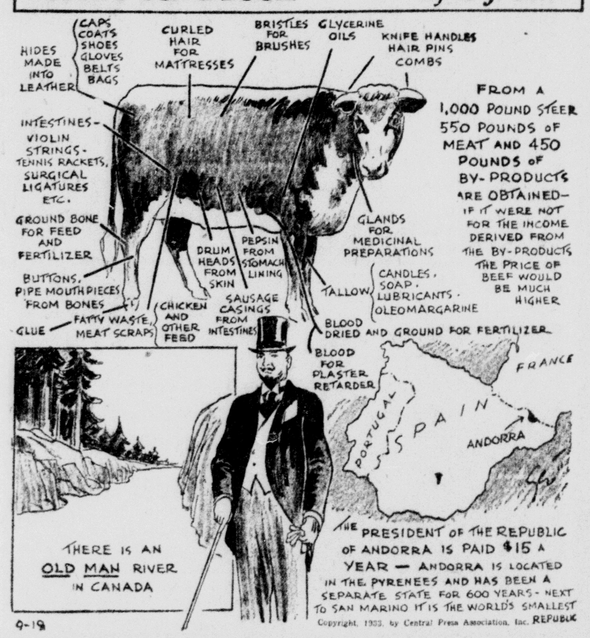
SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK - - By R. J. Scott



J. W. COX WRITES MORE ABOUT U. S. HOG TAX

I have received congratulations and favorable comments from so many people on my newspaper article published on January 12th, on Hog Tax and Farm Relief that I feel encouraged to make more protests against the payment of this unjust and exhorbitant tax. I also feel encouraged to continue my efforts in behalf of the Penna. farmer.

Recently I received a letter from the Revenue Collector which reads as follows:

March 13, 1934.

J. W. Cox,
New Castle, Pa., R. 5

You have been listed by this office as a processor of hogs under the Agricultural Adjustment Act which became effective as to that commodity on Nov. 25, 1933.

Our records fail to indicate any return as a processor of hogs has been filed by you with this office. If you have slaughtered any hogs for market since the effective date of this Act, return should be made on P. T. Form 4 for each month any slaughtering was done.

The rates of tax for the various months, per hundred pounds live weight are as follows:

November, 50 cents; December and January, $1.00, Feb. $1.50 and beginning March 1, $2.25.

P. T. Forms 4 and 29 have been previously furnished you.

Producers

If you are a producer (that is, owner of the hog at the time of farrowing,) no return is required until your sales or exchanges of pork products, for the marketing year which began Nov. 5, 1933 exceed 300 lbs. dressed weight.

In case your sales during the marketing year exceed 1,000 lbs. dressed pork, you thereby lost the credit of 300 lbs. exemption and must include the 300 lbs. for which exemption was taken, in your return for the month that your sales exceed 1000 pounds and pay on same.

If no processing has been done or if you are a producer and your sales and exchanges of pork products have not exceeded 300 lbs., please so advise using the enclosed envelope without postage for making such reply.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Collector of Internal Revenue

This newspaper article is my reply to this letter.

In my former article I used the soft pedal but it is out of order now and I will use the medium one. I do not believe that the hog tax is constitutional. If the Government only took four or five pigs out of every hundred it would be a tax, but when they confiscate from 20 to 35 out of every hundred it would constitute wholesale robbery and that never was favored by the Government until recently, when they commenced to collect the hog tax.

You may think that I am Scotch. It is enough to make a Scotchman out of a spendthrift to buy western feed, pay a high freight rate, feed it into hogs and then have the government confiscate 35 per cent of them, without giving anything in return, and hand it over to the western farmers.

The Western farmers had their balmy days when many of them worked during the summer time and spent the winters in Florida while the Eastern farmers were working.

At the present time the tax is two and one fourth cents per 100 lbs. live weight. The tax on a 400 lb. hog would be $9.00. A 400 lb. hog will dress about 320 lbs. At 8c the top market price per lb. dressed it would bring $25.66. Tax $9.00. Balance left after paying tax $16.60. Tax 35 per cent for a hog that cost about $30.00 for feed and labor at ten cents per hour.

Mr. Reader—Suppose that you had a herd of 100 nice fat hogs and some government official would come around and drive 35 of them away: what would you think? You would probably want to send for that Mercer county man.

A New Castle merchant told me that if he was a farmer he would go to jail before he would pay any hog tax. I said that I did not think that it would be much disgrace to go to jail for that. "No" he said, "I think that it would be an honor."

We have been accustomed to saving some hams to sell to our customers in the summer but we did not save any this winter, except for our own use. We ground them into sausage and sold it before the price got as high as it is now. When our customers come around next summer and want to get one of those country cured hickory smoked hams they will be disappointed.

Farmers take courage. We have the sympathy of the professional and business men who I think will render financial aid if necessary. We also have the consumers on our side.

Even the most ardent Democrat if honest and intelligent will admit that the Agricultural Adjustment Act will work a hardship on the Eastern farmer. If he does not admit it he automatically puts himself into another class.

The administration leaders will tell us that the Eastern farmers will profit in the higher prices that they will receive for their pork next year but how can they profit if they do not have any for sale? The Eastern farmers are dependent on the west for much of their feed and the corn reduction program, which is a detriment to many of the Eastern farmers, will force the price of grain up to where the farmers cannot afford to buy it and feed it into pigs with the possibility of a high tax on the pork. Instead of accepting some of the governments easy money to decrease his crop acreage he is going to be forced to increase his grain acreage wherever possible or go short on feed.

The majority of the Eastern farmers cannot share in the wheat reduction program as they need all the straw that they can produce for bedding for their stock. The Southern cotton growers received $112,000,000.00 last year to destroy their cotton and are to receive $125,000,000.00 in 1934 to reduce the acreage, $237,000,000.00. That seems like an immense sum to hand to those cotton growers so that they can sit around and enjoy themselves.

If we don't make a strong protest we will be taxed on our cows, calves, chickens, eggs and everything that we produce. I am opposed to the destruction of property and strikes such as the Western farmers pulled off but they succeeded in inducing the administration leaders to tax the Eastern farmers and hand the money over to them. Something must be done and done soon to relieve this situation.

I quote from a bulletin issued by the Secretary of Agriculture: "Hog Regulations Made by the Secretary of Agriculture with the approval of the president Under the Agricultural Adjustment Act." I think that President Roosevelt is sincere in trying to be helpful and on account of not being familiar with farm conditions is an innocent party to this Adjustment Act. It is not too late to remedy this situation and we are hoping that President Roosevelt will give it consideration soon. He promised that if he made mistakes that he would correct them.

Nearly all of the hog producers in this locality are hog processors as there is very little demand for live hogs.

A farmer from a neighboring township came to see me a few evenings ago to get some information regarding the hog tax. He regretted that he had sent to the Revenue office for informator and gave them possession of his name. He thinks that the only farmers that they will collect from are the ones whose names they now have.

They may create a lot of new jobs and put a man into every county in the United State, a high salary to check on every farmer who raised a hog and make him swear what he did with every pound of the meat.

I quote from the Pennsylvania Farmer the experience of a Northampton County farmer. "I did not know to whom to pay the tax and figure the exemption, so I wrote to our County Agent. He wrote me giving me what knowledge he had and referred me to a collector for our county. I wrote him for blanks and information. None came. So I wrote to our representative in Washington who sent me bulletins and amendments thereto. About three weeks later the collector came in person to me to "fix up my tax." I had my reports ready, but here is where the joker comes in. Because of ignorance of the law in this case I owed a penalty besides of 25 per cent for November and December, by the time that I knew what and where and who and how. Another pleasant surprise because I could not get around to the right party in time, who wanted my dollars."

"It isn't high time—the time is just about past doing any good for us Eastern farmers to wake up and plan our course or else we take the course of least resistance. The more we think over this sudden over production scare the more it seems nothing more than an excuse to tax everything we buy or sell to the limit of our endurance, and yet our public school history teaches us to honor the noble heroes of pioneer days when they staged the Boston Tea Party.

This farmer surely has a grievance and he expresses it in a mild way. Our administration leaders tell us that the way to bring back prosperity is to relieve the farmer, and increase his purchasing power.

If one listens to the talks over the radio, by the government officials it sounds rosy, but if you want to learn the true situation ask some farmer.

I do not want to be so pessimistic but I am driven to it. While I am in the proper mood I want to take a whack at our Penna. State Legislature. While the taxpayers have been demanding economy they have continued squandering the states money. At one of the recent sessions a bill was passed creating a Milk Control Board consisting of three members with an annual salary of $6,000.00 each. Total $18,000 for salaries and $100,000 for operating expenses. All Legislative members who voted for that bill should be left at home the next session. Tax payers wake up. Talk will not get you very far. Get into action and do something. Comments on this letter, both favorable and unfavorable will be appreciated. If the necessity exists and I get sufficient encouragement I will write again using the hard pedal.

YOUNG MATRON MUCH ENTHUSED

Smilingly Tells Of Amazing Manner In Which World's Tonic Banished Catarrh

Men and women in various sections of this country are using World's Tonic and highly praise it for the surprising results it is bringing.

A young matron of this city is one of those who are highly enthusiastic about World's Tonic. A little over a week ago this young woman purchased a bottle of World's Tonic. Yesterday she returned and bought her second bottle. Then she smilingly told the man:

"Your treatment proved to be what I had long been looking for.

"My catarrh had become very bad and it seemed like I couldn't find anything that would help it. It was really getting serious. I'd been troubled for five years and had got to a point where I had headaches constantly, hawked and spit mucous all the time, had ringing in my ears, dry scales in my nose, watery eyes and just felt bad and disagreeable all over.

"Well(as I said, the World's Tonic Treatment was just what I needed. I haven't had a headache since I started using it and the mucous in my nose and throat also disappeared almost at once. The ringing in my ears and all the other distress of the catarrh has left and I'm feeling better all over than for a long time."

World's Tonic is made to help fight catarrh and to relieve liver, kidney and bladder trouble. It not only helps combat catarrh in the head, nose and throat, but also at its source—within the system, and that is why it is able to bring such amazing benefit.

Get World's Tonic today, at Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's or any other reliable druggists. (A-156)

Largest Bounty For Wild Game

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—To R. N. Jury of Leconte's Mills in Clearfield county, goes the distinction of having presented the largest bounty claims the game commission has received in many months.

For his five wildcat, five grey fox and sixteen weasel pelts, Jury asked the commission for a check totaling $111, and got it. Officials said scores of game birds and mammals owed their lives to the deaths of these 26 predatory creatures.

REJECTED MOTORISTS.

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Over a period of one month the Highway Patrol, in the enforcement of the Motor Vehicle Code, rejected 1558 vehicles found operating on the highways. Of this number, 843 rejections were caused by poor lights, 109 had defective brakes, 203 did not have 1934 license plates and 403 were rejected for miscellaneous reasons.

Getting Too Lazy To Vote By Hand

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—By the time of the May 15 primary election, Pennsylvania will have more than 5,000 voting machines on hand although only about 3500 of them may be in use.

Allegheny county's 1100 machines are at present being repaired and improved to overcome certain deficiencies while use of 245 machines in Schuylkill county and 70 in Northumberland county is prevented because of court litigation arising from their purchase.

Ten counties in the state have voted for machines on a county-wide basis while voters in various communities in 16 other counties have authorized their use.

DIRT PARTICLES MADE THREE CONFESS THEFT

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Mar. 23.—Minute particles of steel and little pieces of earth found in the trouser cuffs of William W. Bell, Vernon Campbell and Patsy Gentile proved their undoing after Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, Vancouver crime specialist, began probing a jewelry store robbery.

Vance swore the particles of steel and dirt were identical with other material in and around the safe. His evidence, presented after painstaking work in his laboratory, was so conclusive that the three prisoners pleaded guilty.

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Final report on the January check of motor vehicles made by the Highway Patrol show 2576 cars were ordered to the station because the owners failed to produce registration and license cards. In addition, patrolmen issued 707 warnings on registrations.

Producers

If you are a producer (that is, owner of the hog at the time of farrowing,) no return is required until your sales or exchanges of pork products, for the marketing year which began Nov. 5, 1933 exceed 300 lbs. dressed weight.

In case your sales during the marketing year exceed 1,000 lbs. dressed pork, you thereby lost the credit of 300 lbs. exemption and must include the 300 lbs. for which exemption was taken, in your return for the month that your sales exceed 1000 pounds and pay on same.

If no processing has been done or if you are a producer and your sales and exchanges of pork products have not exceeded 300 lbs., please so advise using the enclosed envelope without postage for making such reply.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Collector of Internal Revenue

This newspaper article is my reply to this letter.

In my former article I used the soft pedal but it is out of order now and I will use the medium one. I do not believe that the hog tax is constitutional. If the Government only took four or five pigs out of every hundred it would be a tax, but when they confiscate from 20 to 35 out of every hundred it would constitute wholesale robbery and that never was favored by the Government until recently, when they commenced to collect the hog tax.

You may think that I am Scotch. It is enough to make a Scotchman out of a spendthrift to buy western feed, pay a high freight rate, feed it into hogs and then have the government confiscate 35 per cent of them, without giving anything in return, and hand it over to the western farmers.

The Western farmers had their balmy days when many of them worked during the summer time and spent the winters in Florida while the Eastern farmers were working.

At the present time the tax is two and one fourth cents per 100 lbs. live weight. The tax on a 400 lb. hog would be $9.00. A 400 lb. hog will dress about 320 lbs. At 8c the top market price per lb. dressed it would bring $25.60. Tax $9.00. Balance left after paying tax $16.60. Tax 35 per cent for a hog that cost about $30.00 for feed and labor at ten cents per hour.

Mr. Reader—Suppose that you had a herd of 100 nice fat hogs and some government official would come around and drive 35 of them away: what would you think? You would probably want to send for that Mercer county man.

A New Castle merchant told me that if he was a farmer he would go to jail before he would pay any hog tax. I said that I did not think that it would be much disgrace to go to jail for that. "No" he said, "I think that it would be an honor."

We have been accustomed to saving some hams to sell to our customers in the summer but we did not save any this winter, except for our own use. We ground them into sausage and sold it before the price got as high as it is now. When our customers come around next summer and want to get one of those country cured hickory smoked hams they will be disappointed.

Farmers take courage. We have the sympathy of the professional and business men who I think will render financial aid if necessary. We also have the consumers on our side.

Even the most ardent Democrat if honest and intelligent will admit that the Agricultural Adjustment Act will work a hardship on the Eastern farmer. If he does not admit it he automatically puts himself into another class.

The administration leaders will tell us that the Eastern farmers will profit in the higher prices that they will receive for their pork next year but how can they profit if they do not have any for sale? The Eastern farmers are dependent on the west for much of their feed and the corn reduction program, which is a detriment to many of the Eastern farmers, will force the price of grain up to where the farmers cannot afford to buy it and feed it into pigs with the possibility of a high tax on the pork. Instead of accepting some of the governments easy money to decrease his crop acreage he is going to be forced to increase his grain acreage wherever possible or go short on feed.

The majority of the Eastern farmers cannot share in the wheat reduction program as they need all the straw that they can produce for bedding for their stock. The Southern cotton growers received $112,000,000.00 last year to destroy their cotton and are to receive $125,000,000.00 in 1934 to reduce the acreage, $237,000,000.00. That seems like an immense sum to hand to those cotton growers so that they can sit around and enjoy themselves.

If we don't make a strong protest we will be taxed on our cows, calves, chickens, eggs and everything that we produce. I am opposed to the destruction of property and strikes such as the Western farmers pulled off but they succeeded in inducing the administration leaders to tax the Eastern farmers and hand the money over to them. Something must be done and done soon to relieve this situation.

I quote from a bulletin issued by the Secretary of Agriculture: "Hog Regulations Made by the Secretary of Agriculture with the approval of the president Under the Agricultural Adjustment Act." I think that President Roosevelt is sincere in trying to be helpful and on account of not being familiar with farm conditions is an innocent party to this Adjustment Act. It is not too late to remedy this situation and we are hoping that President Roosevelt will give it consideration soon. He promised that if he made mistakes that he would correct them.

Nearly all of the hog producers in this locality are hog processors as there is very little demand for live hogs.

A farmer from a neighboring township came to see me a few evenings ago to get some information regarding the hog tax. He regretted that he had sent to the Revenue office for informator and gave them possession of his name. He thinks that the only farmers that they will collect from are the ones whose names they now have.

They may create a lot of new jobs and put a man into every county in the United State, a high salary to check on every farmer who raised a hog and make him swear what he did with every pound of the meat.

I quote from the Pennsylvania Farmer the experience of a Northampton County farmer. "I did not know to whom to pay the tax and figure the exemption, so I wrote to our County Agent. He wrote me giving me what knowledge he had and referred me to a collector for our county. I wrote him for blanks and information. None came. So I wrote to our representative in Washington who sent me bulletins and amendments thereto. About three weeks later the collector came in person to me to "fix up my tax." I had my reports ready, but here is where the joker comes in. Because of ignorance of the law in this case I owed a penalty besides of 25 per cent for November and December, by the time that I knew what and where and who and how. Another pleasant surprise because I could not get around to the right party in time, who wanted my dollars."

"It isn't high time—the time is just about past doing any good for us Eastern farmers to wake up and plan our course or else we take the course of least resistance. The more we think over this sudden over production scare the more it seems nothing more than an excuse to tax everything we buy or sell to the limit of our endurance, and yet our public school history teaches us to honor the noble heroes of pioneer days when they staged the Boston Tea Party.

This farmer surely has a grievance and he expresses it in a mild way. Our administration leaders tell us that the way to bring back prosperity is to relieve the farmer and increase his purchasing power.

If one listens to the talks over the radio, by the government officials it sounds rosy, but if you want to learn the true situation ask some farmer.

I do not want to be so pessimistic but I am driven to it. While I am in the proper mood I want to take a whack at our Penna. State Legislature. While the taxpayers have been demanding economy they have continued squandering the states money. At one of the recent sessions a bill was passed creating a Milk Control Board consisting of three members with an annual salary of $6,000.00 each. Total $18,000 for salaries and $100,000 for operating expenses. All Legislative members who voted for that bill should be left at home the next session. Tax payers wake up. Talk will not get you very far. Get into action and do something. Comments on this letter, both favorable and unfavorable will be appreciated. If the necessity exists and I get sufficient encouragement I will write again using the hard pedal.

YOUNG MATRON MUCH ENTHUSED

Smilingly Tells Of Amazing Manner In Which World's Tonic Banished Catarrh

Men and women in various sections of this country are using World's Tonic and highly praise it for the surprising results it is bringing.

A young matron of this city is one of those who are highly enthusiastic about World's Tonic. A little over a week ago this young woman purchased a bottle of World's Tonic. Yesterday she returned and bought her second bottle. Then she smilingly told the man:

"Your treatment proved to be what I had long been looking for.

"My catarrh had become very bad and it seemed like I couldn't find anything that would help it. It was really getting serious. I'd been troubled for five years and had got to a point where I had headaches constantly, hawked and spit mucous all the time, had ringing in my ears, dry scales in my nose, watery eyes and just felt bad and disagreeable all over.

"Well(as I said, the World's Tonic Treatment was just what I needed. I haven't had a headache since I started using it and the mucous in my nose and throat also disappeared almost at once. The ringing in my ears and all the other distress of the catarrh has left and I'm feeling better all over than for a long time."

World's Tonic is made to help fight catarrh and to relieve liver, kidney and bladder trouble. It not only helps combat catarrh in the head, nose and throat, but also at its source—within the system, and that is why it is able to bring such amazing benefit.

Get World's Tonic today at Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's or any other reliable druggists. (A-156)

Largest Bounty For Wild Game

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—To R. N. Jury of Leconte's Mills in Clearfield county, goes the distinction of having presented the largest bounty claims the game commission has received in many months.

For his five wildcat, five grey fox and sixteen weasel pelts, Jury asked the commission for a check totaling $111, and got it. Officials said scores of game birds and mammals owed their lives to the deaths of these 26 predatory creatures.

REJECTED MOTORISTS.

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Over a period of one month the Highway Patrol, in the enforcement of the Motor Vehicle Code, rejected 1558 vehicles found operating on the highways. Getting Too Lazy To Vote By Hand

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—By the time of the May 15 primary election, Pennsylvania will have more than 5,000 voting machines on hand although only about 3500 of them may be in use.

Allegheny county's 1100 machines are at present being repaired and improved to overcome certain deficiencies while use of 245 machines in Schuylkill county and 70 in Northumberland county is prevented because of court litigation arising from their purchase.

Ten counties in the state have voted for machines on a county-wide basis while voters in various communities in 16 other counties have authorized their use.

DIRT PARTICLES MADE THREE CONFESS THEFT

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Mar. 23.—Minute particles of steel and little pieces of earth found in the trouser cuffs of William W. Bell, Vernon Campbell and Patsy Gentile proved their undoing after Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, Vancouver crime specialist, began probing a jewelry store robbery.

Vance swore the particles of steel and dirt were identical with other material in and around the safe. His evidence, presented after painstaking work in his laboratory, was so conclusive that the three prisoners pleaded guilty.

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Final report on the January check of motor vehicles made by the Highway Patrol show 2576 cars were ordered to the station because the owners failed to produce registration and license cards. In addition, patrolmen issued 707 warnings on registrations.

See Signs Of Spring In Pelicans' Arrival

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. — Pelicans, sure harbingers of spring, have been sighted on Klamath Lake two months in advance of the general spring opening.

The huge-beaked birds were reported by H. M. Worchester, federal game protector, who declares he has never known these birds to arrive until winter was definitely over. The winter season has been unusually open this year.

Klamath lake, which is generally ice locked at this time of the year, is free of ice, and it is here that the majority of the pelicans nest during the spring and early summer months.

Freight Plan Is Suggested

WOULD BE OWNED BY RAILROADS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23—Establishment of two national competitive agencies to collect and deliver at the door merchandise of less than carload freight moved by rail was recommended to the railroads today as a means of recouping much of this traffic from the motor truck companies.

Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, who made the proposal, said it would save upwards from $100,000,000 annually increase the railroads' volume of this type of business and expediate its transportation.

Owned By Railroads

Each of the competing agencies would have comparable traffic and financial strength. They would be owned by the railroads which serve them but operated by an independent management in which the public would be represented.

He admitted highway transportation of such freight for distances less than 75 miles would continue to be the more economical with the agency plan in force.

Alexander Agricola was one of the most famous composers of the School of Netherlands.

Find School Record Nearly Century Old

School teachers received humble salaries back in 1845, the minute book of the old Perry township school district reveals. An entry in the book, shortly after the school district was organized revealed that female school teachers were paid at the rate of $5, $6 and $7 per month, depending on what the board thought they were worth.

The old minute book was found by William Van Gorder of Slippery Rock township, among the effects of his great grandfather, James A. VanGorder, who was a school director and also served in other official capacities.

It was turned over to County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, who is gathering up interesting documents of this nature in Lawrence county for the Pennsylvania Department of Education, in connection with the hundredth anniversary of the Free Public School system.

It is doubtful if any earlier history of Lawrence county schools, although Perry township at that time was a part of Beaver county, the records show.

The earliest entry in the book is dated March 29, 1845, when the board met and organized by electing Alex Morrison president. Among the first teachers in the district were Eliza Jane Armstrong and Manda Morrison, who received the munificent sum of $6 per month.

In 1848, the records show, a new school house was erected, which cost the school district the sum of $135. Shingles for the building cost $1 and the 32 lights of glass for the windows came to $1.28.

Money evidently had depreciated in value in those days for one of the entries in the book showing tax receipts, revealed a credit of $1.24 on depreciated money. The school tax amounted to 2 mills on the dollar and in the succeeding 15 years was never greater than 3 mills. Total tax receipts for the district for one year amounted to $245.49, and the amount of state aid was very small, entries showing $9.94 and like sums.

One sub-district in the township expended $200.24 for school purposes in five years, the receipts for the period being $201.47.

An interesting insight into the customs of the day showed that the board met frequently for the examination of teachers and certified those who were qualified to teach. These meetings were held during the morning and afternoon.

British Chancellor Writes To Himself

(International News Service)

LONDON. — Being compelled to write two letters to himself is the unique situation that befell Lord Sankey, Lord Chancellor of England.

One was when he, as Lord Justice of Appeal, had to write to himself as Lord Chancellor resigning his office.

Then he had to write back to himself thanking himself for the great service he had rendered to the State. He said in the letter that his services had been appreciated by the public, and then wish himself many happy and successful years as Lord Chancellor.

Lord Sankey was made a judge of King's Bench by a Liberal premier, a Lord Justice of Appeal by a Conservative, and was appointed as Lord Chancellor by a Labor prime minister.

Wife Of Wealthy Broker Is Found Dead Beside Bed

Mystery Surrounds Death Of Mrs. Mary Brisbane Sauers, 28, In Philadelphia Suburb

HUSBAND FINDS BODY OF WIFE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 23.—A perplexing death mystery confronted police of Suburban Whitemarsh Thursday with discovery of the body of Mrs. Mary Brisbane Sauers, 28-year-old wife of a wealthy broker, lying beside her bed.

The young woman's jaw and neck were broken.

The body was found by her husband, Harry Sauers, well-to-do member of a Philadelphia brokerage firm, shortly after he returned from a bridge party at a club.

Whether the woman had been murdered or died as the result of a fall was to be determined by a coroner's inquest, Chief of Police Harry Steinmetz of Whitemarsh ordered the body removed to the morgue at Ambler.

The Golden Text

Isaiah 9:6—"Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulders: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace."

(The International Uniform Lesson for March 25 is the Quarterly Review covering Matt. 1:1 to 16:12; the Golden Text being Isaiah 9:6, "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace".)

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Reviewing this gospel of Christ's Kingship we might indicate its contents in three words, viz., (1) His Person, 1:1-4:11; (2) His Preaching, 4:12-16:20, and (3) His Passion, 16:21-28:20. The eleven lessons of the past three months have dealt with the Person of the King and his Preaching of the Kingdom. The lessons of the next three months following Easter will deal with the Passion of the King.

The section of the gospel dealing with the King's Person, establishes (1) his ancestry, 1:1-17, as a descendent of the great King David and his ancestral father Abraham, head of the Jewish race; (2) his Advent is recorded in 1:18-2:23, recounting the supernatural circumstances of his birth as the Son of God "conceived of the Holy Ghost and born of the Virgin Mary" as revealed to Joseph by the angel of the Lord; (3) the King's Ambassador and his ministry are spoken of in 3:1-12; (4) the King's Anointing at his baptism, in which John witnesses the Holy Spirit coming upon him and heaven's attestation in the voice of God, "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased", are told us in 3:13-17; this section closes with the account of the King's Adversary, the devil, "tempting him in all points like as we are tempted, yet without sin", 4:1-11. This section of Matthew's gospel dealing with the personality of the King might be summarized by saying that in it is established the unique Personality of the King: (1) in relation to earth in his assumption of humanity through the royal line of David; (2) in relation to heaven as witnesses in his anointing by the Holy Spirit and the Father's testimony to his sonship and perfection, and (3) his relation to hell in his victory over Satan in the wilderness temptation. In every respect the unique perfection of the King's personality is established and he is ready to announce his program in the preaching of his Kingdom.

The Preaching Of The Kingdom.

In the Sermon on the Mount the King enunciated the principles of his Kingdom as follows: (1) its nature is spiritual; (2) its purpose is the salvation of the world; (3) its policy is the fulfillment of the law not its nullification; (4) its spirit is that of genuine sincerity not outward show; (5) its rewards are heavenly and abiding, not material and perishing; (6) its atmosphere is love as summarized in the Golden Rule, and (7) its goal is life as the fruit and justifying proof of all doctrine and teaching.

This doctrine of the Kingdom taught with such authority is now demonstrated by the King with the same amazing authority in the realms of disease and demons as he commands and they depart; in the realm of the deep as he authoritatively address wind and wave and they obey him; in the realm of deity as he demonstrates his divine authority to forgive sin; in the realm of death as he raises the child of Jairus from the dead.

Opposition To The King.

Having demonstrated his kingly authority the King sent out his 12 disciples to promulgate his principles. He prepares them for the opposition with which they are to meet and predicted in his parables of the Kingdom (Chap. 13) the ultimate results of this opposition. Subsequent events demonstrate these predictions in the rapidly increasing opposition which leads the King to announce the certainty of his crucifixion and prepare himself and them for the journey to the cross.

GIRL STARVES TO DEATH AFTER JOINING SECT

(International News Service)

DERBRECEN, East Hungary—Rosie Kiss, 14-year-old daughter of a rich farmer of this locality, whose name seemed to predestine her to a better fate, has just died of starvation as a result of joining a religious sect whose main belief is "mortifying the flesh."

"The Starvers," as the fanatics are known, have hundreds of disciples throughout this, the richest pig-raising region of Hungary. They believe that the famishing process purifies their souls.

Rosie went without eating for 12 days and died. Her parents and several other members of the sect have been arrested.

Herd Of Cows Pays Tuition For Collegian

(International News Service)

BOSTON.—A herd of Jersey cows is paying the college tuition for Carmi Squires, promising young baritone, at Boston University's School of Music.

Squires, son of a Lyndonville, Vermont, started earning his college funds while a fifth grade student.

The young student said he first began singing while milking the two cows his father gave him as the nucleus for the herd.

During the summer time he cares for the herd himself, milking the cows, churning butter and delivering the finished product. In the winter a younger brother handles the dairy "route" for a fair amount of the profit.

Last Christmas Squires said he was a little "short" of ready cash. "So I killed a steer, cut it up turned my father's old fliver into a wagon and peddled the meat. I did pretty well."

Plan Reception For Senator Reed

Tentative arrangements have been made for a reception for United States Senator David A. Reed for Friday, April 13, it was stated today. The plans as they are now drawn will include a reception in the Castleton Hotel and possibly a dinner given him by a few friends with a public reception in the evening.

SEVERE WINTER MEANS RICHES TO TRAPPERS

(International News Service)

WINNIPEG, Man.—The fur trade in the far north of Canada is booming. Cold weather and heavy snows which have been just a pain in the neck to civilization has meant money in the bank to the fur trapper.

A Fort Chipewyan, Alberta, trader already has 3,000 fox pelts and it is said that no trader in the district has less than 1,000. Similar reports have been received from the trapping districts of northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, indicating that the winter will prove an unusually rich one for the trap line operators.

Says Railroads Would Be Hard Hit By Canal

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Construction of the Beaver-Mahoning canal would strike a serious blow at the railroads engaging in transporting bituminous coal through that region, Roy S. Kern of Pittsburgh, representing the Central Freight Association, today told the House Rivers and Harbors committee.

The principal traffic on the projected waterway would be bituminous coal, he said.

"Since the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Bessemer and Lake Erie and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads derive a major portion of their revenue from hauling coal, any transportation diversion from these roads will threaten them seriously," Kern said.

He denied charges made before the committee that freight rates in this area were high and discriminatory. He cited the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission which approved the present charges.

ENGINEERS UNEARTH OLD COLONIAL FORT

(International News Service)

CANTON, O.—An interesting page from Ohio's early history was brought to light near here by engineers marking off the proposed site for the Sandy Valley dam, one of the units in the $35,000,000 Muskingum flood control and water conservation plan.

A row of pits, joined by trenches, was found on the site of the old Indian village that overlooked the Tuscarawas valley. Similar earthworks were found near Coshocton.

The diggings, students of Ohio history believe, are the remains of fortifications built by Colonel Henry Bouquet when he led his army of 1,000 soldiers down Sandy Valley 170 years ago to rescue 200 white men, women and children held captive by the Indians.

PREVENT FORMATION OF ICE ON ROADS

(International News Service)

BERLIN—A new medium for preventing ice forming on automotive highways is being tried out in Germany. The process involves the addition of cattle salt to the surface of a highway. Experiments conducted on tar highways in Hessen showed that the layer of ice formed during frosty weather was loose and could be readily removed.

The salt is added to the highway during construction, being sprayed on the surface before the second coat of tar is added. About 700 grams of salt are used per square meter of the highway surface. It is covered with hot tar and rolled in with crushed stones.

First Aid Class Of Red Cross To Open On Monday

Dr. Eugene E. Williamson Will Be Present To Instruct Large Group

COURSE TO LAST FOR TWO WEEKS

DR. EUGENE WILLISON

Under the direction of Dr. Eugene Er Willison, field representative, first aid service, of the American Red Cross, 40 students will begin a two-week course in first aid work in the city council chambers Monday evening at 7 o'clock. The class will represent 28 organizations and industries in the county, including police and firemen of this city.

The loss of nearly 100,000 lives a year in this country as a result of accidents first turned the attention of Dr. Willison to preventive measures. He believes, after a study of the question, that approximately 85 per cent of accidents are due to carelessness and could be prevented.

With this aim in mind, Dr. Willison wrote the standard text book, which is followed by the American Red Cross in its first aid instruction work.

It is a simple matter, Dr. Willison has stated, to apply a tourniquet to a severed artery, or artificial respiration to an unconscious victim of gas or electric shock, which may save their lives. But one must know how. It is for this reason that the Red Cross is bringing this knowledge within the reach of everyone possible.

Dr. Willison will be in New Castle for a period of two weeks, and during that time will address service clubs and other organizations on first aid work.

Easter Program Is Given Today At Ben Franklin

The chorus will be heard at the First Christian church on Sunday evening. The slides were reproductions of famous paintings and were most interesting and educational.

Woman Is Holder Of Lucky Ticket

Mrs. Margaret Meriner, Of Woodside, Long Island, Wins Sum Of $150,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Undreamed of fortunes dropped from the skies on a handful of Americans today when Golden Miller thundered across the finish line the winner in the Grand National Steeplechase, with Delaneige and Thomond II behind him.

For of the $9,400,00 which the 30 runners carried on their backs in prize money in the Irish hospitals sweepstakes, a fair-sized fraction was won by American ticket-holders, some of them as yet not completely identified.

On Golden Miller, the fleet-footed British horse which won the classic, the only ticket in the whole United States, however, was held by Mrs. Margaret Meriner, middle-aged housewife of Woodside, L. I., who thereby fell heiress to a $150,000 fortune.

"The whole world is upset," Mrs. Meriner cried as she heard that Golden Miller had won.

"I'm so excited I dont know what to do."

"Face Is Fortune" To Hollywood Actresses

By DAVID P. SENTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Mar. 23—It is still a man's world in Hollywood and it is the woman who has "to take it."

So declared Helen Vinson, pretty movie actress, who estimated mathematically today that a screen actress has to undergo three times more "high pressure" in the film capital than a male.

"A girl in Hollywood has to worry about her figure, her clothes, her hair and a hundred other things if she wants to stick around," said Miss Vinson. "The male actor doesn't have to give a hang about these things.

"A screen actress has to get up three hours before she is due on the picture set to go over her makeup. An actress is used nine times as much as an actor for closeup camera shots and she has to take care of that face like a baby.

"In addition, the competition among feminine screen performers is much keener than among masculine performers. Every young girl in the nation dreams of Hollywood and about half of them try their luck.

"The young American male only thinks of Hollywood, generally speaking, if he is already in the acting profession. Most film actors come directly from the Broadway stage. Many actresses or so-called ones, frequently come from other fields.

The car will be used by street department officials.

Motorists Can Inspect Park

In order that the public may see what is being done in Cunningham Park, CWA Administrator Round has arranged to have enough roadway space clear through the park on Sunday for motorists to go through. The roads are not completed but passage will be possible, with here and there turnouts to permit cars to pass each other.

Motorists who have not seen what has been done are invited to drive through on Sunday, using the Staunton Avenue entrance. This entrance is reached from Wilson avenue, which in turn runs off Arlington avenue.

Find Foreigners Are Best Servants

(International News Service)

TUCSON, Ariz.—Foreigners make the best servants, Chicago matrons believe.

That was the consensus of 233 society dowagers whom Dr. Eleanor Johnson, home economics department head for the University of Arizona, interviewed for the U. S. Department of Labor. Her report was made public here.

Foreign-born servants are particular in their work and are not familiar with the members of the family, the employers reported. Negroes are second on the list, with native white Americans at the bottom.

Chicagoans demand honesty above everything else in their servants, with dependability and willingness to work as second and third choices. The average salary paid during 1933 was a little less than $20.

Mothers-In-Law Make Best Dish –For Cannibals

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—The old-age problem is solved in New Guinea. But the plan would hardly work out in the states where the quaint custom of eating a stranger's mother-in-law is not considered the best of manners, according to Amos Burg, Portland explorer, who recently returned home from a visit to the East Indies.

"We enjoyed our stay in New Guinea very much, there being no old ladies in our party," Burg said. "Had there been, we might have been a bit nervous. You see; the New Guineans are still cannibals, and instead of having fried chicken for Sunday dinner they enjoy boiled old lady. But they never devour a lady of their own tribe. There are plenty of tribes, so the matter has been arranged like this:

"A man might have a mother-in-law or a grandmother who has grown too old to work. He may know a fellow in another tribe who has an ancient aunt who can no longer till the soil. The two men will meet and arrange a trade, so that both may have a real feast, and yet not violate the tribal laws. When the supply of old ladies runs low, the old men are made into soup, but the gourmands of New Guinea prefer cooked woman to stewed man."

A writer tells us that people know too little about South America. Not those who bought bonds.

Fisher Found Guilty On Driving Charge

In the case of George Fisher, in which he was tried for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, which was tried at court before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Fisher was arrested on the Wampum-Chewton road. He claimed that he had not been drinking anything but 3.2 beer which was not supposed to be intoxicating. He also asserted that he had been driving a 1926 car, which was acting badly and caused him to get into the ditch.

Residents See 1934 La Salle Here Today

New Castle got its first glimpse of the attractive 1934 La Salle car when the Lawrence Automobile company, South Mercer street, placed one of the models on display in its public salesroom this morning.

"There are sufficient actual sales orders for new La Salle cars at the Cadillac factory to keep the big Cadillac plant in Detroit operating constantly for the next three months on La Salle production alone" Jesse Gibson, sales manager for the firm, quoted a La Salle official as saying. For this reason production schedules are to be speeded up.

Found Not Guilty; Costs Are Divided

In the case of Edward Shaffer, charged with malicious mischief by Ben Seaborn, which was tried before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. One-third of the costs were placed on the defendant and two-thirds on the prosecutor. It was claimed that Shaffer had broken a cash register belonging to Seaborn at Ellwood City. At the trial he maintained that it was not done maliciously, but that it was an accident.

Uncle Sam To Share Winning On Steeplechase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 23.—Uncle Sam stepped in today to claim some of the happiness experienced by J. T. Burton, Bradford, winner of approximately $100,000 when Delaneige on whom he held a ticket placed in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England.

Although winner of the $100,000, Burton will be forced to pay the federal government between $30,000 and $40,000 in taxes.

Officials of the internal revenue department here said the normal tax on $100,000 is $7,840 while the surtax is $22,460, making a total of $30,300 Burton would have to pay under the revenue bill of 1932.

If congress approves proposed amendments to that act, Burton will be taxed approximately $40,000, they estimated.

It was a common saying among the Puritans, "Brown bread and the Gospel is good fare."—Matthew Henry.

INJURED PEACH TREES REQUIRE SPECIAL CARE

Serious injury to peach trees caused by low temperatures during the winter or late spring frosts has been experienced during the past few years. Damages inflicted during the past few weeks, however, have been more serious than just the killing of fruit buds.

In numerous orchards leaf buds also have been killed and the cambium injured by the low temperatures. This situation demands a different procedure from that usually followed when only the fruit buds are injured.

A thorough examination should be made of both fruit and leaf buds and the pruning of peach trees delayed until all other pruning has been completed. This delay in pruning will offer a better opportunity to determine the extent of the damage and indicate the management of the peach orchard for the coming season.

If only fruit buds are injured the trees can be pruned as in the past. Old trees can be headed back and young trees spread and thinned out. Where both fruit and leaf buds are injured it is advisable not to prune at all because the potential leaf surface has been greatly reduced by the winter injury and heavy pruning will further decrease the leaf surface. If any pruning is done on such trees it should be very light.

During years when buds have not been injured the amount of fertilizer applied has been based upon the amount of wood produced during the previous season as well as the severity of the pruning. Where both leaf and blossom buds have been injured, no pruning and an increase in the amount of nitrate will probably be needed to obtain the desirable amount of growth this year. The best fertilizer practice, however, will be to apply the same amount as used last year. If the trees respond satisfactorily to this treatment an additional amount will not be necessary.

IMPROVE FLOCK RATION TO CHECK EGG EATING

Egg eating by hens is a double-barreled proposition which involves both cause and effect.

When the hens are not getting enough grit or vitamin D they lay weak-shelled eggs. These are easily broken and the hens which crave the materials lacking in the diet start eating the eggs.

To prevent the occurrence of this vice in the poultry flock oyster shells or limestone grit should be kept before the birds all the time. Since they eat off the coarse particles and leave the dust the grit or oyster shells should be stirred occasionally so that the hens are not faced by mere dust when they go to the hopper.

Vitamin D. is supplied in cod liver oil. If the flock is not receiving enough of this substance an additional supply should be allowed, and where none has been fed the omission should be corrected. An eighth of a pint a day for 100 birds is recommended. This can be fed on the grain or in the mash.

Occasionally, even after the deficiencies in the ration have been corrected the offending hens will continue to eat eggs. If they can be detected they should be removed promptly from the flock.

Good nesting material and frequent gathering of the eggs also are helpful practices in preventing or checking the egg-eating trouble.

PUT HORSES IN SHAPE FOR HARD SPRING WORK

Are the farm horses in training for heavy spring work or are they standing in the barn eating timothy hay or grain straws?

Horses expected to do hard work later need conditioning. They can be prepared through exercise, good care, and proper feed. Too many horses are put into the field every spring without extra care or feed previously. As a result, they lose in weight and efficiency.

Rations for the horse should be reasonably balanced in protein, carbonhydrates, and fats as for other classes of livestock. A horse engaged in heavy work needs about twice as much protein as the same horse doing light work. If the work is severe, the nutrients must be increased. Home-grown feeds are the most economical. The grains most commonly fed are oats, corn, barley, and wheat, while the usual roughages are timothy, clover, and alfalfa hay, corn fodder, oat straw, and silage. By-products fed include bran, oil meal, and cottonseed meal.

Generally, it is a good practice to feed one pound of grain or grain mixture and one pound of hay for 100 pounds of liveweight. This varies somewhat, however, with the work and speed, as well as the temperament of the horse.

The standard ration of concentrates consists of two parts of oats and one part of ear corn by weight. Every Saturday night bran is substituted for the oats. Oats are keenly relished by all classes and ages of horses and are the safest of all feeds for them. With timothy hay and some oil meal, a satisfactory combination is thus formed.

There are other combinations, however, which will keep the horse in good condition. Corn or barley, with a leguminous hay, has been found valuable in some localities. In all cases, balance of nutrients should be maintained even when cheaper feeds are utilized. While a variety of feeds is a good feature, sudden changes and extremes must be avoided to prevent digestive disorders.

EXPERIMENT STATION OFFERS NEW RHUBARB

Rhubarb, pie-plant, or wine plant, as it is sometimes called, is popular during the spring months because it is one of the first crops ready for market.

There are several so-called varieties listed by most seedsmen and nurserymen, but they are not clearly defined. Attempts to establish a planting from seed usually are disappointing since the plants will not be uniform. The only known way to obtain a uniform plot is to plant "roots." These are divisions of the old crown which contain at least one bud each.

Twenty years ago the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station made a study of the then existing varieties and their adaptation to the needs of the grower and consumer. As a result of this study, improvement work was undertaken. Seed of nine different lots, representing four varieties, was secured from American and foreign seedsmen. From these, 1,333 seedlings were grown and studied for two years. These showed a great variation and in general ranged from plants which closely resembled common burdock in appearance to a few plants which appeared especially promising. Fourteen of these were selected for further study and the other were discarded.

In subsequeint years further tests have been made and all but four of the lots have been discarded as being unworthy of further study or propagation.

These four have since been propagated and have shown their superiority to the generally grown varieties. They are distinct in type and produce large, long stalks which are quite well colored.

Within recent years a number of requests have been made for them, but with few exceptions the varieties have not been disseminated. However, sufficient tests have been made to establish their superiority to ordinary varieties and to justify their introduction the present season at a nominal charge. Persons interested may obtain information by addressing the Department of Horticulture at State College.

INJURED PEACH TREES REQUIRE SPECIAL CARE

Serious injury to peach trees caused by low temperatures during the winter or late spring frosts has been experienced during the past few years. Damages inflicted during the past few weeks, however, have been more serious than just the killing of fruit buds.

In numerous orchards leaf buds also have been killed and the cambium injured by the low temperatures. This situation demands a different procedure from that usually followed when only the fruit buds are injured.

A thorough examination should be made of both fruit and leaf buds and the pruning of peach trees delayed until all other pruning has been completed. This delay in pruning will offer a better opportunity to determine the extent of the damage and indicate the management of the peach orchard for the coming season.

If only fruit buds are injured the trees can be pruned as in the past. Old trees can be headed back and young trees spread and thinned out. Where both fruit and leaf buds are injured it is advisable not to prune at all because the potential leaf surface has been greatly reduced by the winter injury and heavy pruning will further decrease the leaf surface. If any pruning is done on such trees it should be very light.

During years when buds have not been injured the amount of fertilizer applied has been based upon the amount of wood produced during the previous season as well as the severity of the pruning. Where both leaf and blossom buds have been injured, no pruning and an increase in the amount of nitrate will probably be needed to obtain the desirable amount of growth this year. The best fertilizer practice, however, will be to apply the same amount as used last year. If the trees respond satisfactorily to this treatment an additional amount will not be necessary.

IMPROVE FLOCK RATION TO CHECK EGG RATING

Egg eating by hens is a double-barreled proposition which involves both cause and effect.

When the hens are not getting enough grit or vitamin D they lay weak-shelled eggs. These are easily broken and the hens which crave the materials lacking in the diet start eating the eggs.

To prevent the occurrence of this vice in the poultry flock oyster shells or limestone grit should be kept before the birds all the time. Since they eat off the coarse particles and leave the dust the grit or oyster shells should be stirred occasionally so that the hens are not faced by mere dust when they go to the hopper.

Vitamin D. is supplied in cod liver oil. If the flock is not receiving enough of this substance an additional supply should be allowed, and where none has been fed the omission should be corrected. An eighth of a pint a day for 100 birds is recommended. This can be fed on the grain or in the mash.

Occasionally, even after the deficiencies in the ration have been corrected the offending hens will continue to eat eggs. If they can be detected they should be removed promptly from the flock.

Good nesting material and frequent gathering of the eggs also are helpful practices in preventing or checking the egg-eating trouble.

PUT HORSES IN SHAPE FOR HARD SPRING WORK

Are the farm horses in training for heavy spring work or are they standing in the barn eating timothy hay or grain straws?

Horses expected to do hard work later need conditioning. They can be prepared through exercise, good care, and proper feed. Too many horses are put into the field every spring without extra care or feed previously. As a result, they lose in weight and efficiency.

Rations for the horse should be reasonably balanced in protein, carbonhydrates, and fats as for other classes of livestock. A horse engaged in heavy work needs about twice as much protein as the same horse doing light work. If the work is severe, the nutrients must be increased. Home-grown feeds are the most economical. The grains most commonly fed are oats, corn, barley, and wheat, while the usual roughages are timothy, clover, and alfalfa hay, corn fodder, oat straw, and silage. By-products fed include bran, oil meal, and cottonseed meal.

Generally, it is a good practice to feed one pound of grain or grain mixture and one pound of hay for 100 pounds of liveweight. This varies somewhat, however, with the work and speed, as well as the temperament of the horse.

The standard ration of concentrates consists of two parts of oats and one part of ear corn by weight. Every Saturday night bran is substituted for the oats. Oats are keenly relished by all classes and ages of horses and are the safest of all feeds for them. With timothy hay and some oil meal, a satisfactory combination is thus formed.

There are other combinations, however, which will keep the horse in good condition. Corn or barley, with a leguminous hay, has been found valuable in some localities. In all cases, balance of nutrients should be maintained even when cheaper feeds are utilized. While a variety of feeds is a good feature, sudden changes and extremes must be avoided to prevent digestive disorders.

EXPERIMENT STATION OFFERS NEW RHUBARB

Rhubarb, pie-plant, or wine plant, as it is sometimes called, is popular during the spring months because it is one of the first crops ready for market.

There are several so-called varieties listed by most seedsmen and nurserymen, but they are not clearly defined. Attempts to establish a planting from seed usually are disappointing since the plants will not be uniform. The only known way to obtain a uniform plot is to plant "roots." These are divisions of the old crown which contain at least one bud each.

Twenty years ago the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station made a study of the then existing varieties and their adaptation to the needs of the grower and consumer. As a result of this study, improvement work was undertaken. Seed of nine different lots, representing four varieties, was secured from American and foreign seedsmen. From these, 1,333 seedlings were grown and studied for two years. These showed a great variation and in general ranged from plants which closely resembled common burdock in appearance to a few plants which appeared especially promising. Fourteen of these were selected for further study and the other were discarded.

In subsequent years further tests have been made and all but four of the lots have been discarded as being unworthy of further study or propagation.

These four have since been propagated and have shown their superiority to the generally grown varieties. They are distinct in type and produce large, long stalks which are quite well colored.

Within recent years a number of requests have been made for them, but with few exceptions the varieties have not been disseminated. However, sufficient tests have been made to establish their superiority to ordinary varieties and to justify their introduction the present season at a nominal charge. Persons interested may obtain information by addressing the Department of Horticulture at State College.

High School Will Meet Finishing 1 For Title In City

Faculty Cagers To Play Cold Draw In Preliminary Game At Shelby

TO PLAY GAME NEXT TUESDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23—The much talked about game for the city title between Finishing No. 1 champions of the Shelby Inter-department basketball league and the Ellwoodians, which is identical with the Ellwood City High team of, this year, has become a reality.

Final arrangements for the game were completed this morning with Dewey Cunningham, manager of the Finishing team and Fred Robuck and Joe Navollo, who represented the Ellwoodians. As an added attraction the crack Faculty passers of the local high school who have split with the Shelby champs in recent games, will play the Cold draws in the preliminary game. The Cold Draw who were runners-up to the champs hold a victory over the Faculty who is anxious to even the score. This is to occur next Tuesday night at Shelby Auditorium.

Playing independent basketball the Ellwoodians have been an altogether different team. They have won eight consecutive games, which includes victories over the best teams in this section. They have practically forced recognition and the game for the city title. In view of the showing of both contenders with the Faculty passers, it promises to be one fast and lively basketball game. The fast passing Ellwoodians line up of Robuck, Latiano., Lamenzo, Bunny and McFadden will be pitted against such an all star aggregation of Barnes, Cavalier, Ursu, Justine and Zeigler.

The Faculty will endeavor to present its best line-up of Lloyd, Benedict, King, Ferrare and, Caplan, in an effort to avenge a defeat given by the Cold Draw composed of Clyde, Ferucci, Mayne, Leyda and Lloyd. The Ellwoodians have defeated the Faculty in a close game and think they can take the measure of the Shelby champs.

The schedule differs little from the one recently printed in these columns. The chief changes were as follows: An extra desk clerk was dropped, the salary of the two remaining was raised from $92 to $100 per month. The Borough manager's salary, which was set at $240 by the finance committee, was raised to $250. An effort was made to make it $265. The original salary was $285.

It was decided to leave the rates of the electric light department as before, but decrease the hours. This will mean a 48-hour week at 67 cents an hour.

The proposed cuts for the fire department employes were abolished. They will receive their original amount. The remainder of the schedule as recommended by the Finance committee composed of A. J. Howell, chairman, Thomas Wilson and Russell Sitler, went through as presented.

Valuable Advice Given Rotary By Howard Johnson

Local Rotarians Observe Financial Independence Week At Meet Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23—Members of the Ellwood City Rotary club heard an interesting address at their weekly meeting last night in the First Presbyterian church when they heard Howard Johnson of this city. A program in keeping with the observance of Financial Independence Week was carried out and Mr. Johnson was the principal speaker.

The gist of Mr. Johnson's talk was the stabilizing of our estates through life insurance. He declared that one-fifth of all estates in this country have been wiped out entirely and the dollar value of at least half the remainder has been cut in two. With this serious depletion in estate values it is natural that the average man wants to provide as much family income as possible through insurance. "Aside from the stability of life insurance," said Mr. Johnson, "a reason for its phenominal record during the depression years has been its adaptability in meeting existing financial needs.

Next week's program will be in charge of Dr. W. H. Shields of this city, who will speak on "Eugenics".

FIRST WESTMINSTER PUBLICATION PRINTED ON BEN FRANKLIN'S PRESS

Westminster Herald, Forerunner Of The United Presbyterian, Started In 1855

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23—Westminster college's first publication, which appeared in 1855 as the Westminster Herald, was printed for a time on Benjamin Franklin's old press which college authorities had brought from Philadelphia to New Wilmington.

This is revealed in an account of the early days of the college as written by Ellen Dickey Gamble, daughter of William Dickey, one of the founders of the college, and appearing in the New Wilmington Globe in July, 1908.

Shortly after the Rev. Dr. James Patterson was inaugurated president at the start of the fall term in 1855, and just before the first Old Main building was completed, the Westminster Herald was started as a weekly newspaper, according to early historical notes. The Rev. George C. Vincent and the Rev. D. H. A. McLean were the first editors, both being members of the faculty.

Speaking of this first Westminster college publication, which was also one of the early publications of the church, Mrs. Gamble relates: "It was published in the first college building, which was known as the printing office for years after. The publishers brought Benjamin Franklin's old press from Philadelphia and for a time the Herald was printed on it until a new cylinder press was purchased."

The first college building of which Mrs. Gamble spoke was located near the present United Presbyterian church Sabbath school wing. It was a two-story structure, with two rooms in the second story and a large room on the first floor. Dr. Robert Gracey Ferguson, president from 1884 to 1906, states that this structure was a temporary one, first occupied in 1853, and was merely used until the first Old Main was completed in 1855.

The present United Presbyterian, official organ of the United Presbyterian church owes its start to the ambitions and hard work of the Rev. Mr. Vincent and the Rev. Mr. McLean. Mrs. Gamble's article goes on to say:

"After the union of the churches (Associate church and Associate Reformed church) in 1858, the Herald was united with the other leading organs of the church, 'The Preacher' and 'Presbyterian Witness', took the name of 'The United Presbyterian.'"

The Herald first appeared as a weekly newspaper in which form, also, the United Presbyterian was printed for many years. A copy of the United Presbyterian dated Pittsburgh, January 7, 1863, carries under the front-page flag: "Continuation of The Preacher and Westminster Herald." The United Presbyterian was then published at 74 Third street, Pittsburgh, in the old Singerly building.

So the Westminster Herald, first started as both the official organ of Westminster college and of the church, became in the course of years The United Presbyterian, official organ of the combined churches. For a number of years after the printing of the publications was transferred to Pittsburgh, Westminster had no newspaper. It was not until Dr. R. J. Love, professor of Bible at Westminster from 1921 until recently, joined with fellow students in 1884 that another publication was started. This was the Holcad, student weekly newspaper, which is this year celebrating its 50th anniversary.

Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be thus regulated to suit individual need.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may often do more harm than good.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is at all druggists. Member N. R. A.

Rigid Liquor Laws Help Bootleggers

(International News Service)

BUTTE, Mont.—Montana's state-owned liquor distribution system has been a boon to bootleggers, a recent survey revealed. Instead of driving them out of business as many anticipated, the new set-up has brought added prosperity State liquor stores are opened only during business hours, leaving the sale of liquor after hours entirely in the hands of bootleggers. The fact that liquor is now legal has also given the 'leggers an excuse for raising their prices.

Butte speakeasies are running more openly than before repeal, with local officials too busy with other matters to interfere. At least two new "speaks" have opened here since repeal.

Rigid Liquor Laws Help Bootleggers

(International News Service)

BUTTE, Mont.—Montana's state-owned liquor distribution system has been a boon to bootleggers, a recent survey revealed. Instead of driving them out of business as many anticipated, the new set-up has brought added prosperity State liquor stores are opened only during business hours, leaving the sale of liquor after hours entirely in the hands of bootleggers. The fact that liquor is now legal has also given the 'leggers an excuse for raising their prices.

Butte speakeasies are running more openly than before repeal, with local officials too busy with other matters to interfere. At least two new "speaks" have opened here since repeal.

J. W. COX WRITES MORE ABOUT U. S. HOG TAX

I have received congratulations and favorable comments from so many people on my newspaper article published on January 12th. on Hog Tax and Farm Relief that I feel encouraged to make more protests against the payment of this unjust and exhorbitant tax. I also feel encouraged to continue my efforts in behalf of the Penna. farmer.

Recently I received a letter from the Revenue Collector which reads as follows:

March 13, 1934.

J. W. Cox,
New Castle, Pa., R. 5

You have been listed by this office as a processor of hogs under the Agricultural Adjustment Act which became effective as to that commodity on Nov. 25, 1933.

Our records fail to indicate any return as a processor of hogs has been filed by you with this office. If you have slaughtered any hogs for market since the effective date of this Act, return should be made on P. T. Form 4 for each month any slaughtering was done.

The rates of tax for the various months, per hundred pounds live weight are as follows:

November, 50 cents; December and January, $1.00, Feb. $1.50 and beginning March 1, $2.25.

P. T. Forms 4 and 29 have been previously furnished you.

Producers

If you are a producer (that is, owner of the hog at the time of farrowing,) no return is required until your sales or exchanges of pork products, for the marketing year which began Nov. 5, 1933 exceed 300 lbs. dressed weight.

In case your sales during the marketing year exceed 1,000 lbs. dressed pork, you thereby lost the credit of 300 lbs. exemption and must include the 300 lbs. for which exemption was taken, in your return for the month that your sales exceed 1000 pounds and pay on same.

If no processing has been done or if you are a producer and your sales and exchanges of pork products have not exceeded 300 lbs., please so advise using the enclosed envelope without postage for making such reply.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Collector of Internal Revenue

This newspaper article is my reply to this letter.

In my former article I used the soft pedal but it is out of order now and I will use the medium one. I do not believe that the hog tax is constitutional. If the Government only took four or five pigs out of every hundred it would be a tax, but when they confiscate from 20 to 35 out of every hundred it would constitute wholesale robbery and that never was favored by the Government until recently, when they commenced to collect the hog tax.

You may think that I am Scotch. It is enough to make a Scotchman out of a spendthrift to buy western feed, pay a high freight rate, feed it into hogs and then have the government confiscate 35 per cent of them, without giving anything in return, and hand it over to the western farmers.

The Western farmers had their balmy days when many of them worked during the summer time and spent the winters in Florida while the Eastern farmers were working.

At the present time the tax is two and one fourth cents per 100 lbs. live weight. The tax on a 400 lb. hog would be $9.00. A 400 lb. hog will dress about 320 lbs. At 8c the top market price per lb. dressed it would bring $25.60. Tax $9.00. Balance left after paying tax $16.60. Tax 35 per cent for a hog that cost about $30.00 for feed and labor at ten cents per hour.

Mr. Reader—Suppose that you had a herd of 100 nice fat hogs and some government official would come around and drive 35 of them away: what would you think? You would probably want to send for that Mercer county man.

A New Castle merchant told me that if he was a farmer he would go to jail before he would pay any hog tax. I said that I did not think that it would be much disgrace to go to jail for that. "No" he said, "I think that it would be an honor."

We have been accustomed to saving some hams to sell to our customers in the summer but we did not save any this winter, except for our own use. We ground them into sausage and sold it before the price got as high as it is now. When our customers come around next summer and want to get one of those country cured hickory smoked hams they will be disappointed.

Farmers take courage. We have the sympathy of the professional and business men who I think will render financial aid if necessary. We also have the consumers on our side.

Even the most ardent Democrat if honest and intelligent will admit that the Agricultural Adjustment Act will work a hardship on the Eastern farmer. If he does not admit it he automatically puts himself into another class.

The administration leaders will tell us that the Eastern farmers will profit in the higher prices that they will receive for their pork next year but how can they profit if they do not have any for sale? The Eastern farmers are dependent on the west for much of their feed and the corn reduction program, which is a detriment to many of the Eastern farmers, will force the price of grain up to where the farmers cannot afford to buy it and feed it into pigs with the possibility of a high tax on the pork. Instead of accepting some of the governments easy money to decrease his crop acreage he is going to be forced to increase his grain acreage wherever possible or go short on feed.

The majority of the Eastern farmers cannot share in the wheat reduction program as they need all the straw that they can produce for bedding for their stock. The Southern cotton growers received $112,000,000.00 last year to destroy their cotton and are to receive $125,000,000.00 in 1934 to reduce the acreage, $237,000,000.00. That seems like an immense sum to hand to those cotton growers so that they can sit around and enjoy themselves.

If we don't make a strong protest we will be taxed on our cows, calves, chickens, eggs and everything that we produce. I am opposed to the destruction of property and strikes such as the Western farmers pulled off but they succeeded in inducing the administration leaders to tax the Eastern farmers and hand the money over to them. Something must be done and done soon to relieve this situation.

I quote from a bulletin issued by the Secretary of Agriculture: "Hog Regulations Made by the Secretary of Agriculture with the approval of the president Under the Agricultural Adjustment Act." I think that President Roosevelt is sincere in trying to be helpful and on account of not being familiar with farm conditions is an innocent party to this Adjustment Act. It is not too late to remedy this situation and we are hoping that President Roosevelt will give it consideration soon. He promised that if he made mistakes that he would correct them.

Nearly all of the hog producers in this locality are hog processors as there is very little demand for live hogs.

A farmer from a neighboring township came to see me a few evenings ago to get some information regarding the hog tax. He regretted that he had sent to the Revenue office for informator and gave them possession of his name. He thinks that the only farmers that they will collect from are the ones whose names they now have.

They may create a lot of new jobs and put a man into every county in the United State, a high salary to check on every farmer who raised a hog and make him swear what he did with every pound of the meat.

I quote from the Pennsylvania Farmer the experience of a Northampton County farmer. "I did not know to whom to pay the tax and figure the exemption, so I wrote to our County Agent. He wrote me giving me what knowledge he had and referred me to a collector for our county. I wrote him for blanks and information. None came. So I wrote to our representative in Washington who sent me bulletins and amendments thereto. About three weeks later the collector came in person to me to "fix up my tax." I had my reports ready, but here is where the joker comes in. Because of ignorance of the law in this case I owed a penalty besides of 25 per cent for November and December, by the time that I knew what and where and who and how. Another pleasant surprise because I could not get around to the right party in time, who wanted my dollars."

"It isn't high time—the time is just about past doing any good for us Eastern farmers to wake up and plan our course or else we take the course of least resistance. The more we think over this sudden over production scare the more it seems nothing more than an excuse to tax everything we buy or sell to the limit of our endurance, and yet our public school history teaches us to honor the noble heroes of pioneer days when they staged the Boston Tea Party.

This farmer surely has a grievance and he expresses it in a mild way. Our administration leaders tell us that the way to bring back prosperity is to relieve the farmer and increase his purchasing power.

If one listens to the talks over the radio, by the government officials it sounds rosy, but if you want to learn the true situation ask some farmer.

I do not want to be so pessimistic but I am driven to it. While I am in the proper mood I want to take a whack at our Penna. State Legislature. While the taxpayers have been demanding economy they have continued squandering the states money. At one of the recent sessions a bill was passed creating a Milk Control Board consisting of three members with an annual salary of $6,000.00 each. Total $18,000 for salaries and $100,000 for operating expenses. All Legislative members who voted for that bill should be left at home the next session. Tax payers wake up. Talk will not get you very far. Get into action and do something. Comments on this letter, both favorable and unfavorable will be appreciated. If the necessity exists and I get sufficient encouragement I will write again using the hard pedal.

YOUNG MATRON MUCH ENTHUSED

Smilingly Tells Of Amazing Manner In Which World's Tonic Banished Catarrh

Men and women in various sections of this country are using World's Tonic and highly praise it for the surprising results it is bringing.

A young matron of this city is one of those who are highly enthusiastic about World's Tonic. A little over a week ago this young woman purchased a bottle of World's Tonic. Yesterday she returned and bought her second bottle. Then she smilingly told the man:

"Your treatment proved to be what I had long been looking for.

"My catarrh had become very bad and it seemed like I couldn't find anything that would help it. It was really getting serious. I'd been troubled for five years and had got to a point where I had headaches constantly, hawked and spit mucous all the time, had ringing in my ears, dry scales in my nose, watery eyes and just felt bad and disagreeable all over.

"Well(as I said, the World's Tonic Treatment was just what I needed. I haven't had a headache since I started using it and the mucous in my nose and throat also disappeared almost at once. The ringing in my ears and all the other distress of the catarrh has left and I'm feeling better all over than for a long time."

World's Tonic is made to help fight catarrh and to relieve liver, kidney and bladder trouble. It not only helps combat catarrh in the head, nose and throat, but also at its source—within the system, and that is why it is able to bring such amazing benefit.

Get World's Tonic today at Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's or any other reliable druggists. (A-156)

Largest Bounty For Wild Game

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—To R. N. Jury of Leconte's Mills in Clearfield county, goes the distinction of having presented the largest bounty claims the game commission has received in many months.

For his five wildcat, five grey fox and sixteen weasel pelts, Jury asked the commission for a check totaling $111, and got it. Officials said scores of game birds and mammals owed their lives to the deaths of these 26 predatory creatures.

REJECTED MOTORISTS.

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Over a period of one month the Highway Patrol, in the enforcement of the Motor Vehicle Code, rejected 1558 vehicles found operating on the highways. Of this number, 843 rejections were caused by poor lights, 100 had defective brakes, 203 did not have 1934 license plates and 403 were rejected for miscellaneous reasons.

Getting Too Lazy To Vote By Hand

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—By the time of the May 15 primary election, Pennsylvania will have more than 5,000 voting machines on hand although only about 3500 of them may be in use.

Allegheny county's 1100 machines are at present being repaired and improved to overcome certain deficiencies while use of 245 machines in Schuylkill county and 70 in Northumberland county is prevented because of court litigation arising from their purchase.

Ten counties in the state have voted for machines on a county-wide basis while voters in various communities in 16 other counties have authorized their use.

DIRT PARTICLES MADE THREE CONFESS THEFT

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Mar. 23.—Minute particles of steel and little pieces of earth found in the trouser cuffs of William W. Bell, Vernon Campbell and Patsy Gentile proved their undoing after Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, Vancouver crime specialist, began probing a jewelry store robbery.

Vance swore the particles of steel and dirt were identical with other material in and around the safe. His evidence, presented after painstaking work in his laboratory, was so conclusive that the three prisoners pleaded guilty.

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Final report on the January check of motor vehicles made by the Highway Patrol show 2578 cars were ordered to the station because the owners failed to produce registration and license cards. In addition, patrolmen issued 707 warnings on registrations.

ANCIENT ROYAL COACH PLACED IN USE ANEW

(International News Service)

HERMOSILLO, Mexico.—Made for the Spanish viceroys of Mexico before the French revolution had flared forth, a carriage in which the rulers of the southern republic have ridden in pomp has again been placed in use.

Paris craftsmen shipped the silver decorated coach to Mexico City in 1784. Since then, it has carried kings and queens, bloodthirsty bandits and humble peon revolutionists.

General Plutarco Elias Calles recently sent the carriage to his son, Rodolfo, governor of Sonora, and the historic conveyance, drawn by three span of horses, is again being used.

Review Lesson

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Isaiah 9:6—"Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulders: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace."

(The International Uniform Lesson for March 25 is the Quarterly Review covering Matt. 1:1 to 16:12, the Golden Text being Isaiah 9:6, "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace".)

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Reviewing this gospel of Christ's Kingship we might indicate its contents in three words, viz., (1) His Person, 1:1-4:11; (2) His Preaching, 4:12-16:20, and (3) His Passion, 16:21-28:20. The eleven lessons of the past three months have dealt with the Person of the King and his Preaching of the Kingdom. The lessons of the next three months following Easter will deal with the Passion of the King.

The section of the gospel dealing with the King's Person, establishes (1) his ancestry, 1:1-17, as a descendent of the great King David and his ancestral father Abraham, head of the Jewish race; (2) his Advent is recorded in 1:18-2:23, recounting the supernatural circumstances of his birth as the Son of God "conceived of the Holy Ghost and born of the Virgin Mary" as revealed to Joseph by the angel of the Lord; (3) the King's Ambassador and his ministry are spoken of in 3:1-12; (4) the King's Anointing at his baptism, in which John witnesses the Holy Spirit coming upon him and heaven's attestation in the voice of God, "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased", are told us in 3:13-17; this section closes with the account of the King's Adversary, the devil, "tempting him in all points like as we are tempted, yet without sin", 4:1-11. This section of Matthew's gospel dealing with the personality of the King might be summarized by saying that in it is established the unique Personality of the King: (1) in relation to earth in his assumption of humanity through the royal line of David; (2) in relation to heaven as witnesses in his anointing by the Holy Spirit and the Father's testimony to his sonship and perfection, and (3) his relation to hell in his victory over Satan in the wilderness temptation. In every respect the unique perfection of the King's personality is established and he is ready to announce his program in the preaching of his Kingdom.

The Preaching Of The Kingdom.

In the Sermon on the Mount the King enunciated the principles of his Kingdom as follows: (1) Its nature is spiritual; (2) its purpose is the salvation of the world; (3) its policy is the fulfillment of the law not its nullification; (4) its spirit is that of genuine sincerity not outward show; (5) its rewards are heavenly and abiding, not material and perishing; (6) its atmosphere is love as summarized in the Golden Rule, and (7) its goal is life as the fruit and justifying proof of all doctrine and teaching.

This doctrine of the Kingdom taught with such authority is now demonstrated by the King with the same amazing authority in the realms of disease and demons as he commands and they depart; in the realm of the deep as he authoritatively address wind and wave and they obey him; in the realm of deity as he demonstrates his divine authority to forgive sin; in the realm of death as he raises the child of Jairus from the dead.

Opposition To The King.

Having demonstrated his kingly authority the King sent out his 12 disciples to promulgate his principles. He prepares them for the opposition with which they are to meet, and predicted in his parables of the Kingdom (Chap. 13) the ultimate results of this opposition. Subsequent events demonstrate these predictions in the rapidly increasing opposition which leads the King to announce the certainty of his crucifixion and prepare himself and them for the journey to the cross.

Male Color-Blind Of England Number One-Tenth Of Population

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 23.—According to the Committee on the Physiology of Vision, one man in every ten of the male population of Great Britain is color-blind.

The committee's findings are based on tests among 30,000 naval ratings, and they disclosed a serious danger to navigation in the prevalence of what is known as anomalous trichromatic vision.

People who suffer from this defect see color differently from the normal, and require the mixture of three fundamental colors to match other colors.

Seamen in this class may be safe at 100 yards, but very dangerous at half a mile. They interpret navigation lights by difference in brightness.

The committee stated that he anomalous trichromat is rarely aware that he is defective.

Weaker Sex Stronger To Resist Ills

Physician States Male More Susceptible To Disease

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

There seems to be no question that it is a great disadvantage to be a male, so far as the possibility of serious disease is concerned.

This startling conclusion is based upon very careful studies that have recently been reported from one of the large clinics of the country in the official bulletin of the American College of Physicians.

Considering those diseases which are common to both sexes, the male is afflicted far oftener than the female, and that it is not entirely due to the bad habits that man acquires. I am happy to be able to report that it applies also to diseases which cause death before birth. "Venery, alcoholism, exposure, overwork and various other factors, may influence the susceptibility to disease and the greater mortality of the adult male, but they are only straws placed on the greater burden of his sex-linked weakness.

There seems to be no doubt that, speaking comparatively, the price of maleless is weakness. How ironical, therefore seems the precept of the apostle: "Give honor unto the wife as unto the weaker vessel."

Says Grasshoppers Are Seen In Snow

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Mar. 23.—Mother Nature's freakish pranks reached some sort of an extremity here recently when swarms of grasshoppers were reported seen in a valley where two inches of snow covered the ground.

New Football Coach Named At Westminster; Is Former Brown Star

Lawther Relinquishes Duties As Football Coach For Titans

Newly Selected Coach Star Player Under McLaughry At Eastern School

(Special To The News.)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23 Bill Gilbane, Brown university football star during the 1930, 1931 and 1932 seasons, has been appointed head football coach at Westminster college for the coming year, President Robert F. Galbreath announced this morning. Gilbane will succeed John D. Lawther, who has been head grid coach as well as athletic director and basketball coach.

Gilbane was captain and fullback on Tuss McLaughry's 1932 team at Brown, and played on the All-North team which Dr. John B. Sutherland of Pitt took to Baltimore following the 1932 season. His brother Tom played center on the Brown team, and also played for Andy Kerr on the All-East team in California. Tom intimates that he may visit his brother at Westminster next fall to see how the team is progressing.

The athletic council announced that Lawther has been re-elected basketball coach for a three-year term, and that he has been relieved of the football coaching duties at his own request. Lawther has also been appointed head of the department of psychology and education for next year. He has been acting head of this department since the death of Dr. J. A. Shott on September 21. The added duties as departmental head made it seem advisable to drop football.

The committee to select the new grid coach included Lawther as a member in appreciation of his services to Westminster athletics. Others on the committee were President R. F. Galbreath and Attorney James A. Stranahan.

Lawther has been head grid coach at Westminster since 1931. For four seasons, 1926 through 1929, Lawther was assistant football coach under Dike Beede, new Geneva mentor. Lawther has been basketball coach at Westminster since 1926, having taken over the court squad toward the end of the 1926 campaign, and running the team for the full season in 1927. Since that time Westminster has won 126 basketball games and lost only 25.

The Westminster athletic council announced, at the same time the name of the new grid mentor was revealed, that an exceedingly difficult schedule awaits Gilbane this fall and that there will be but a small squad with which to work. Ten contests, three or four of which are with major elevens, means that Westminster authorities are not looking for sensational success. For the 1935 season a shorter card of six or seven games, will be carded with district small colleges. The future policy will be to have short schedules with colleges of the same size as Westminster.

Union-Alumni Play Tonight In Final Game

Union High School, Championship Quintet, Will Battle Alumni At The Union Floor

GIRLS TO PLAY IN PRELIMINARY

Union High school basketball team will play its final game of the 1933-34 floor season tonight at the Union High floor with the Alumni quintet furnishing the opposition. The Union High girls will play the Yellow Jacket girls in the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock. This is a gala night for Union High in basketball. It will mean the farewell of such well known stars as Wayne White, Paul Morrison, "Red" Boron, Dom Monico, and Walter Hughes.

Coach Dave "Pop" Boyd will send his varsity team out tonight to take the measure of the Alumni team. The stars of other years have been boasting of their prowess and that they can take the W. P. I. A. I. Section 18 champions and County league champions into camp.

Expect Big Crowd

In event of good weather the Union High gym will no doubt be packed to the doors tonight. Faculty Manager W. L. Burkhart has made all of the necessary arrangements for handling the biggest crowd of the year.

The Union A. A. will be out in full force to cheer for the varsity boys against the Alumni and to give the departing members of this year's great Union quintet a rousing ovation.

The Alumni will probably lineup, with representations from all of the teams for the past several years, including:

1926—W. Rech.
1927—Walter Kielar, Lawrence Gibson.
1928—Hoffmaster, Eckles.
1929—Ralph Lannigan, Frances Rech, Jack Mottinger.
1930—Bill Critchlow.
1931—Casimer Zarembo, Rocco Monico.
1932—Joe Augustyn, Joe Jaworski, Don Lannigan, Casimer Matejs.
1933—Walter Snitesek, Ralph Phillips.

Ne-Ca-Ros Win From Busy Bees

Functioning with clock-like precision the Ne-Ca-Ro basketball team of New Castle captured a well earned 17-16 triumph over the Ellwood City Busy Bees Thursday night in Ellwood City.

M. Kulick and Duncho featured for the winners; Ott was outstanding for the losers. This Saturday the Ne-Ca-Ros meet the strong Ambridge "R" club, city champions, here. The Cleveland "R" club and Ellwood City Scholastics will meet the strong Ne-Ca-Ro passers later.

Detroit Tigers Hope To Be In Flag Race

Manager Mickey Cochrane Has Instilled New Fighting Spirit In Bengals

Good Pitching Staff, Fast Infield And Fairly Hard Hitting Outfield

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla., Mar. 23—The man eyed me narrowly for a moment, then seemed to make up his mind.

"Do you want a good tip?" he asked suddenly. "Well, then, don't go overboard on the Detroit Tigers. They just haven't got it."

But that was some days ago in another baseball camp quite a few miles from here and the man was and is running a rival American League club. So much for that.

"That Cochrane, now. He's excitable. He rushes in, does things and then wonders why he did them. He's upsettin'. You know what I mean? Yeh, that's it. He's upsettin.'"

Can't Ride Cochrane

And then there was this bit of gratuitous philosophy from a third gentleman of the profession who claims to know the said Cochrane better than Cochrane could possibly know himself.

"Don't ever kid that guy" said he, earnestly. "If you ride him, he gets mad and pops one right off the property. The idea is to be nice to him get him feeling mellow and a little sorry for himself. Pepper Martin and the Cardinals did that in the 1932 series and all they left him was his college diploma."

So it's very simply and obviously the way to beat the Detroit Tigers and make Mickey Cochrane, the manager, hit. 148 is to go right up to him like a man and start sympathizing in a loud, firm voice, only, it's going to be difficult this year. My idea, in fact, of the only man in the American League who is liable to be in a position to do that will be manager of the club that wins the pennant. In other words, I've listened to baseball's story about Cochrane and the Tigers and am now going to tell mine, which is to the effect that the Tigers will finish not better than second nor worse than fourth.

Tigers Are Good

It rather suddenly occurred to me out there t[o]day that this was liable to be a p[re]tty good base ball club, whether I [a]greed at it or not. It has plenty of [pi]tching. It can put eight men in the regular positions who will average .297—Cochrane .322; Gehringer, .325; Greenberg, .301; Goslin, .297; Rogell, .295; Gerald Walker, .290; Fox, .288 and Owen, .262. They may get another guy to improve on Owen. As a matter of fact, the law clearly says that Owen can even improve on himself. Moreover, with the pitching Cochrane behind the plate, Gehringer at second base and a fair outfield, the defense is no grade a sieve.

Cochrane, Gehringer, Greenberg, and Goslin are not only the top hitters of the outfit but they hit for distance. Without seeming to be insistent about it, I'm merely attempting to make the point that the Tigers ought to have a few runs to work on this year.

Fortunately, they seen to have the kind of pitchers who only need a few. There's Tom Bridges, the one hit champion, who won 14 games last year; Fred Marberry, who won 16; and Vic Sorrell and Carl Fischer who won 11 each.

NEW YORK, Mar. 23—The official stamp of the Davis cup selection committee is all that is needed today to give the United States team a couple of Giants, as far as singles play is concerned.

Lester R. Stoefen and Frank X. Shields again gave evidence last night that they are the leading candidates for the team.

Combatting the improved play of the Frenchmen, Stoefen defeated Jean Borota, 16-14, 6-4, 9-7 and Shields dowled Andrew Merlin, 7-5, 7-5, 6-1 in the final international series matches at the seventh regiment armory to give the United States team a clean sweep of the five matches.

Believe Eastman Could Set Record

Track Coaches Believe Ben Eastman Could Negotiate Mile In Four Minutes

(International News Service)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. Mar. 23—Can Ben Eastman run a mile in four minutes?

"He can with proper training," Lawson Robertson was quoted in dispatches from the East.

"He can if he wants to," answered R. L. (Dink) Templeton, Stanford track coach.

Needs Training

The usual peppery Templeton refused to become irate at the dispatches emphasizing that Robertson, University of Pennsylvania, and America Olympic team mentor said Ben could negotiate a four-minute mile, nearly eight seconds under the present world record, with "proper training."

"I think Robbie is right" said Templeton serenely. "Ben could do a mile in four minutes, or right close to it, if trained properly. I mean trained for a miler. He had been properly trained for the quarter and half mile but never at all for the mile."

Union High Football Schedule Announced

Union High School Grid Team Will Play Eleven Games This Fall

Three Games At Home And Six Away Have So Far Been Carded

Union High School football schedule for the 1934 campaign was announced by Coach Dave Boyd and Faculty Manager W. L. Burkhart today and it looks like an impressive program for the Unionites. There are six games away and three at home arranged so far. Union will attempt 11 games this fall. There are two open dates left.

New Castle Off

The same teams will be met in 1934 as were met in 1933 with the exception of New Castle High. The Unionites will tangle with only two county league teams, Bessemer and Shenango. The rest of the games outside of Grove City and Sandy Lake are with W. P. I. A. L. teams. Union will try to add two more Class B, W. P. I. A. L. teams to the card.

The season will be opened at Ellwood City on Saturday, September 15. Evans City and Bridgeville follow in succession and then comes an open date. Starting October 13 with Grove City, the Boydmen will face Mars, Zellenople, Bessemer, Shenango and Sandy Lake in rotation. Quite a healthy sized assignment.

Two Veterans

The first home game will be with Evans City on September 21, and the game will inaugurate the newly created athletic field at Union High which will be opened with appropriate ceremonies.

Coach "Pop" Boyd will have to build an entirely new Union team next fall, having but two lettermen Schaas and Rudesill back in harness. There was a dearth of fine looking reserves last year and from this group Boyd expects to select eleven winners. It looks as if young Wallace will be the quarterback. He is being groomed for the job already.

Spring Training

Union expects to have a couple of weeks of spring football this year, according to Coach Boyd. It will give the popular young coach a chance to see what his material looks like, and to start the boys on the fundementals of the game.

Union is looking forward to a great football season, and nothing short of the county and W. P. I. A. L. championship in Class B seems to satisfy the Unionites.

The Union High football program for 1934:

Sept. 15: Ellwood City; away.
Sept. 21: Evans City; home.
Sept. 29: Bridgeville; away.
Oct. 6: open.
Oct. 13: Grove City; away.
Oct. 19: Mars; home.
Oct. 26: Zellenople; away.
Nov. 3: Bessemer; away.
Nov. 10: Shenango; away.
Nov. 17: Sandy Lake; home.
Nov. 24: open.

New Football Coach Named At Westminster; Is Former Brown Star

Lawther Relinquishes Duties As Football Coach For Titans

Newly Selected Coach Star Player Under McLaughry At Eastern School

(Special To The News.)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23 Bill Gilbane, Brown university football star during the 1930, 1931 and 1932 seasons, has been appointed head football coach at Westminster college for the coming year, President Robert F. Galbreath announced this morning. Gilbane will succeed John D. Lawther, who has been head grid coach as well as athletic director and basketball coach.

Gilbane was captain and fullback on Tuss McLaughry's 1932 team at Brown, and played on the All-North team which Dr. John B. Sutherland of Pitt took to Baltimore following the 1932 season. His brother Tom played center on the Brown team, and also played for Andy Kerr on the All-East team in California. Tom intimates that he may visit his brother at Westminster next fall to see how the team is progressing.

The athletic council announced that Lawther has been re-elected basketball coach for a three-year term, and that he has been relieved of the football coaching duties at his own request. Lawther has also been appointed head of the department of psychology and education for next year. He has been acting head of this department since the death of Dr. J. A. Shott on September 21. The added duties as departmental head made it seem advisable to drop football.

The committee to select the new grid coach included Lawther as a member in appreciation of his services to Westminster athletics. Others on the committee were President R. F. Galbreath and Attorney James A. Stranahan.

Lawther has been head grid coach at Westminster since 1931. For four seasons, 1926 through 1929, Lawther was assistant football coach under Dike Beede, new Geneva mentor. Lawther has been basketball coach at Westminster since 1926, having taken over the court squad toward the end of the 1926 campaign, and running the team for the full season in 1927. Since that time Westminster has won 126 basketball games and lost only 25.

The Westminster athletic council announced, at the same time the name of the new grid mentor was revealed, that an exceedingly difficult schedule awaits Gilbane this fall and that there will be but a small squad with which to work. Ten contests, three or four of which are with major elevens, means that Westminster authorities are not looking for sensational success. For the 1935 season a shorter card of six or seven games, will be carded with district small colleges. The future policy will be to have short schedules with colleges of the same size as Westminster.

It can put eight men in the regular positions who will average .297—Cochrane .322; Gehringer, .325; Greensberb, .301; Goslin, .297; Rogell, .295; Gerald Walker. .290; Fox, .288 and Owen, .262. They may get another guy to improve on Owen. As a matter of fact, the law clearly says that Owen can even improve on himself. Moreover, with the pitching Cochrane behind the plate, Gehringer at second base and a fair outfield, the defense is no grade a sieve.

Cochrane, Gehringer, Greenberg, and Goslin are not only the top hitters of the outfit but they hit for distance. Without seeming to be insistent about it, I'm merely attempting to make the point that the Tigers ought to have a few runs to work on this year.

Fortunately, they seen to have the kind of pitchers who only need a few. There's Tom Bridges, the one hit champion, who won 14 games last year: Fred Marberry, who won 16; and Vic Sorrell and Carl Fischer who won 11 each.

Stoeffen-Shields Leading Field For Davis Cup Berths

NEW YORK, Mar. 23—The official stamp of the Davis cup selection committee is all that is needed today to give the United States team a couple of Giants, as far as singles play is concerned.

Lester R. Stoefen and Frank X. Shields again gave evidence last night that they are the leading candidates for the team.

Combatting the improved play of the Frenchmen, Stoefen defeated Jean Borota, 16-14, 6-4, 9-7 and Shields dowled Andrew Merlin, 7-5, 7-5, 6-1 in the final international series matches at the seventh regiment armory to give the United States team a clean sweep of the five matches.

Believe Eastman Could Set Record

Track Coaches Believe Ben Eastman Could Negotiate Mile In Four Minutes

(International News Service)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. Mar. 23—Can Ben Eastman run a mile in four minutes?

" He can with proper training," Lawson Robertson was quoted in dispatches from the East.

"He can if he wants to," answered R. L. (Dink) Templeton, Stanford track coach.

Needs Training

The usual peppery Templeton refused to become irate at the dispatches emphasizinz that Robertson, University of Pennsylvania and America Olympic team mentor said Ben could negotiate a four-minute mile, nearly eight seconds under the present world record, with "proper training."

"I think Robbie is right" said Templeton serenely. "Ben could do a mile in four minutes, or right close to it, if trained properly. I mean trained for a miler. He had been properly trained for the quarter and half mile but never at all for the mile."

Union High Football Schedule Announced

Union High School Grid Team Will Play Eleven Games This Fall

Three Games At Home And Six Away Have So Far Been Carded

Union High School football schedule for the 1934 campaign was announced by Coach Dave Boyd and Faculty Manager W. L. Burkhart today and it looks like an impressive program for the Unionites. There are six games away and three at home arranged so far. Union will attempt 11 games this fall. There are two open dates left.

New Castle Off

The same teams will be met in 1934 as were met in 1933 with the exception of New Castle High. The Unionites will tangle with only two county league teams, Bessemer and Shenango. The rest of the games outside of Grove City and Sandy Lake are with W. P. I. A. L. teams. Union will try to add two more Class B, W. P. I. A. L. teams to the card.

The season will be opened at Ellwood City on Saturday, September 15. Evans City and Bridgeville follow in succession and then comes an open date. Starting October 13 with Grove City, the Boydmen will face Mars, Zelienople, Bessemer, Shenango and Sandy Lake in rotation. Quite a healthy sized assignment.

Two Veterans

The first home game will be with Evans City on September 21, and the game will inaugurate the newly created athletic field at Union High which will be opened with appropriate ceremonies.

Coach "Pop" Boyd will have to build an entirely new Union team next fall, having but two lettermen Schaas and Rudesill back in harness. There was a dearth of fine looking reserves last year and from this group Boyd expects to select eleven winners. It looks as if young Wallace will be the quarterback. He is being groomed for the job already.

Spring Training

Union expects to have a couple of weeks of spring football this year, according to Coach Boyd. It will give the popular young coach a chance to see what his material looks like, and to start the boys on the fundementals of the game.

Union is looking forward to a great football season, and nothing short of the county and W. P. I. A. L., championship in Class B seems to satisfy the Unionites.

The Union High football program for 1934:

Sept. 15: Ellwood City; away.
Sept. 21: Evans City; home.
Sept. 29: Bridgeville; away.
Oct. 6: open.
Oct. 13: Grove City; away.
Oct. 19: Mars; home.
Oct. 26: Zelienople; away.
Nov. 3: Bessemer; away.
Nov. 10: Shenango; away.
Nov. 17: Sandy Lake; home.
Nov. 24: open.

(International News Service)

First Aid Class Of Red Cross To Open On Monday

Dr. Eugene E. Williamson Will Be Present To Instruct Large Group

COURSE TO LAST FOR TWO WEEKS

DR. EUGENE WILLISON

Under the direction of Dr. Eugene E. Willison, field representative, first aid service, of the American Red Cross, 40 students will begin a two-week course in first aid work in the city council chambers Monday evening at 7 o'clock. The class will represent 28 organizations and industries in the county, including police and firemen of this city.

The loss of nearly 100,000 lives a year in this country as a result of accidents first turned the attention of Dr. Willison to preventive measures. He believes, after a study of the question, that approximately 85 per cent of accidents are due to carelessness and could be prevented.

With this aim in mind, Dr. Willison wrote the standard text book, which is followed by the American Red Cross in its first aid instruction work.

It is a simple matter, Dr. Willison has stated, to apply a tourniquet to a severed artery, or artificial respiration to an unconscious victim of gas or electric shock, which may save their lives. But one must know how. It is for this reason that the Red Cross is bringing this knowledge within the reach of everyone possible.

Dr. Willison will be in New Castle for a period of two weeks, and during that time will address service clubs and other organizations on first aid work.

Easter Program Is Given Today At Ben Franklin

Religious music and the showing of colored slides were features of the program. A number of selections were rendered by a special chorus of voices under the direction of Miss Esther Gibbons. The chorus will be heard at the First Christian church on Sunday evening. The slides were reproductions of famous paintings and were most interesting and educational.

Woman Is Holder Of Lucky Ticket

Mrs. Margaret Meriner, Of Woodside, Long Island, Wins Sum Of $150,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Undreamed of fortunes dropped from the skies on a handful of Americans today when Golden Miller thundered across the finish line the winner in the Grand National Steeplechase, with Delaneige and Thomond II behind him.

For of the $9,400,00 which the 30 runners carried on their backs in prize money in the Irish hospitals sweepstakes, a fair-sized fraction was won by American ticket-holders, some of them as yet not completely identified.

On Golden Miller, the fleet-footed British horse which won the classic, the only ticket in the whole United States, however, was held by Mrs. Margaret Meriner, middle-aged housewife of Woodside, L. I., who thereby fell heiress to a $150,000 fortune.

"The whole world is upset," Mrs. Meriner cried as she heard that Golden Miller had won.

"I'm so excited I dont' know what to do."

Jones Shoots 76 In Comeback Try

Bobby Jones Tours Augusta Course Of 18 Holes And Fails To Impress Crowd

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Sports Writer.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Mar. 23.—All through this historic southern river town, where they have hauled out the black-bordered cards of condolence and a pall of grief hangs over a stricken populace as from the visitation of a great tragedy, grave faced citizens gathered in clusters today, wagged their heads dolefully and spoke in hushed tones.

If you edged in close and listened attentively you could hear a colonel with spruce Van Dyke and bronzed face incongrous in checked tweed golf clothes when you expected to see long-tailed coat and black slouch Stetson, murmur: "The emperor is dead. The emperor is dead," while his brother mourners echoed "Amen, Amen."

Turns In 76.

We admit that when Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., shoots a 76 on anybodys' golf course that it is a thing to wonder at and to marvel that it could happen.

But the thing that sticks out like a sore toe on a bare foot country boy to us is that today, tomorrow and Sunday are other days, that the battle of Bobby's courageous comeback is but begun, that only 18 holes, after all, have been played and there are 54 more holes to go.

Bobby has done an amazing and courageous—it may prove fool-hardy—thing in subjecting the record of his 14 years of golf, which he climaxed so brilliantly by winning the British and American open and amateur championships in 1930, to the onslaughts of a battery of campaign-hardened veterans, but even with yesterday's unfortunate debacle it seems too early yet to shout "I told you so, they never come back."

FIND SLAVE KILLER USED BY INDIANS

(International News Service)

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—An ancient Indian implement identified as a "slave killer" has been found near the Oregon-Nevada border and is now in the collection of G. C. Friel of Gerlach, Nev. It is a stone implement shaped like a dog, fox or coyote with the forepart of the body and front legs sharpened to a cutting edge. The elongated tail is formed for a handle. This weird weapon was used in killing slaves who violated terms of their enslavement.

Tod Plotkin Is Milk Fed Champ

Once Stripling, Brookline, Mass., Boy Now Stalwart

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass. Mar. 23—A school boy track champion whose diet consists almost exclusively of milk and who weighs 170 pounds—a milk fed champ—is Theodore "Tod" Plotkin, of Brookline.

"Tod" set a new record for the interscholastic broad jump at the Andover games when he jumped 10 feet 9 3-4 inches.

He is now 16 years old. When he started in high school Plotkin was only a puny little fellow but under the instructions at Brookline and with the help of his milk diet he managed to spread 170 over his 5 feet 11 inches of height.

It seems that Popeye and his spinach diet are not the only things that will make a boy big and strong.

SNAKE BITE KILLS AFTER SEVEN YEARS

(International News Service)

LEBANON, Pa., Mar. 23.—Septacemia, an ailment which physicians traced to the bite of a poisonous snake, more than seven years ago, has claimed the life of George Phillip Hottenstein, 25, Lebanon's most outstanding boy scout.

The youth was bitten by a copperhead snake while engaging in activities at Camp Strause in the Monroe Valley. A serum was administered at that time and he experienced no ill effects.

Miners Confer On New Wages

Wage Scales In Appalachian Region Will Expire On April 1

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Bituminous miners and operators of the Appalachian region gathered here late Thursday to continue efforts toward negotiating a new wage agreement to replace that expiring April 1.

A sub-committee of the operators has been considering a statistical study of the industry's operation under the bituminous coal code, but has reached no conclusion.

The miners, according to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, are seeking an increase in wages which would be based on a $5 a day figure. The present base, Lewis said, is $4.60 in the north and $4.20 in the south. The miners also asked for a shorter work week, preferably a six-hour day.

BLACKFEET INDIANS O. K. "NEW DEAL"

(International News Service)

BROWNING, Mont.—The Blackfeet Indians of Montana are ready to accept Commissioner of Indian Affairs Collier's "New Deal" for the redman. Not only are they willing to meet the challenge of self-government outlined in Collier's plans, but are willing to go a step further, they announced after meetings of the tribal council here. Among the reforms recommended by the council is elimination of all persons having less than one-half Indian blood from the tribal rolls.

Went For Birdie, Returns With Goose

Golfer Chases, Finally Captures Canadian Blue Goose

PINEHURST, N. C., Mar. 23.—Teddy Turner, Massachusetts open golf champion, went out on the No. 2 course in an effort to bag a few birdies and eagles, but came back instead with a goose, a wild Canadian blue goose at that.

The goose, apparently exhausted from its flight from the northern cold, alighted among a quartet of negro caddies on the seventeenth hole. The caddies dropped their clubs and fled, but Turner turned the golf match into a wild goose chase and finally succeeded in tackling the bird in a trap near the seventeenth green.

Jones Shoots 76 In Comeback Try

Bobby Jones Tours Augusta Course Of 18 Holes And Fails To Impress Crowd

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Sports Writer.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Mar. 23.—All through this historic southern river town, where they have hauled out the black-bordered cards of condolence and a pall of grief hangs over a stricken populace as from the visitation of a great tragedy, grave faced citizens gathered in clusters today, wagged their heads dolefully and spoke in hushed tones.

If you edged in close and listened attentively you could hear a colonel with spruce Van Dyke and bronzed face incongrous in checked tweed golf clothes when you expected to see long-tailed coat and black slouch Stetson, murmur: "The emperor is dead. The emperor is dead," while his brother mourners echoed "Amen, Amen."

A young lawyer of Atlanta, Ga., who is playing golf again after a four-year rest cure, shot a 76 on the Augusta national golf course yesterday and the lamentations were immediate, long and loud.

Turns In 76.

We admit that when Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., shoots a 76 on anybodys' golf course that it is a thing to wonder at and to marvel that it could happen.

But the thing that sticks out like a sore toe on a bare foot country boy to us is that today, tomorrow and Sunday are other days, that the battle of Bobby's courageous comeback is but begun, that only 18 holes, after all, have been played and there are 54 more holes to go.

Bobby has done an amazing and courageous—it may prove fool-hardy—thing in subjecting the record of his 14 years of golf, which he climaxed so brilliantly by winning the British and American open and amateur championships in 1930, to the onslaughts of a battery of campaign-hardened veterans, but even with yesterday's unfortunate debacle it seems too early yet to shout "I told you so, they never come back."

Miners Confer On New Wages

Wage Scales In Appalachian Region Will Expire On April 1

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Bituminous miners and operators of the Appalachian region gathered here late Thursday to continue efforts toward negotiating a new wage agreement to replace that expiring April 1.

A sub-committee of the operators has been considering a statistical study of the industry's operation under the bituminous coal code, but has reached no conclusion.

The miners, according to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, are seeking an increase in wages which would be based on a $5 a day figure. The present base, Lewis said, is $4.60 in the north and $4.20 in the south. The miners also asked for a shorter work week, preferably a six-hour day.

INJURED PEACH TREES REQUIRE SPECIAL CARE

Serious injury to peach trees caused by low temperatures during the winter or late spring frosts has been experienced during the past few years. Damages inflicted during the past few weeks, however, have been more serious than just the killing of fruit buds.

In numerous orchards leaf buds also have been killed and the cambium injured by the low temperatures. This situation demands a different procedure from that usually followed when only the fruit buds are injured.

A thorough examination should be made of both fruit and leaf buds and the pruning of peach trees delayed until all other pruning has been completed. This delay in pruning will offer a better opportunity to determine the extent of the damage and indicate the management of the peach orchard for the coming season.

If only fruit buds are injured the trees can be pruned as in the past. Old trees can be headed back and young trees spread and thinned out. Where both fruit and leaf buds are injured it is advisable not to prune at all because the potential leaf surface has been greatly reduced by the winter injury and heavy pruning will further decrease the leaf surface. If any pruning is done on such trees it should be very light.

During years when buds have not been injured the amount of fertilizer applied has been based upon the amount of wood produced during the previous season as well as the severity of the pruning. Where both leaf and blossom buds have been injured, no pruning and an increase in the amount of nitrate will probably be needed to obtain the desirable amount of growth this year. The best fertilizer practice, however, will be to apply the same amount as used last year. If the trees respond satisfactorily to this treatment an additional amount will not be necessary.

IMPROVE FLOCK RATION TO CHECK EGG EATING

Egg eating by hens is a double-barreled proposition which involves both cause and effect.

When the hens are not getting enough grit or vitamin D they lay weak-shelled eggs. These are easily broken and the hens which crave the materials lacking in the diet start eating the eggs.

To prevent the occurrence of this vice in the poultry flock oyster shells or limestone grit should be kept before the birds all the time. Since they eat off the coarse particles and leave the dust the grit or oyster shells should be stirred occasionally so that the hens are not faced by mere dust when they go to the hopper.

Vitamin D, is supplied in cod liver oil. If the flock is not receiving enough of this substance an additional supply should be allowed, and where none has been fed the omission should be corrected. An eighth of a pint a day for 100 birds is recommended. This can be fed on the grain or in the mash.

Occasionally, even after the deficiencies in the ration have been corrected the offending hens will continue to eat eggs. If they can be detected they should be removed promptly from the flock.

Good nesting material and frequent gathering of the eggs also are helpful practices in preventing or checking the egg-eating trouble.

PUT HORSES IN SHAPE FOR HARD SPRING WORK

Are the farm horses in training for heavy spring work or are they standing in the barn eating timothy hay or grain straws?

Horses expected to do hard work later need conditioning. They can be prepared through exercise, good care, and proper feed. Too many horses are put into the field every spring without extra care or feed previously. As a result, they lose in weight and efficiency.

Rations for the horse should be reasonably balanced in protein, carbohydrates, and fats as for other classes of livestock. A horse engaged in heavy work needs about twice as much protein as the same horse doing light work. If the work is severe, the nutrients must be increased. Home-grown feeds are the most economical. The grains most commonly fed are oats, corn, barley, and wheat, while the usual roughages are timothy, clover, and alfalfa hay, corn fodder, oat straw, and silage. By-products fed include bran, oil meal, and cottonseed meal.

Generally, it is a good practice to feed one pound of grain or grain mixture and one pound of hay for 100 pounds of liveweight. This varies somewhat, however, with the work and speed, as well as the temperament of the horse.

The standard ration of concentrates consists of two parts of oats and one part of ear corn by weight. Every Saturday night bran is substituted for the oats. Oats are keenly relished by all classes and ages of horses and are the safest of all feeds for them. With timothy hay and some oil meal, a satisfactory combination is thus formed.

There are other combinations, however, which will keep the horse in good condition. Corn or barley, with a leguminous hay, has been found valuable in some localities. In all cases, balance of nutrients should be maintained even when cheaper feeds are utilized. While a variety of feeds is a good feature, sudden changes and extremes must be avoided to prevent digestive disorders.

EXPERIMENT STATION OFFERS NEW RHUBARB

Rhubarb, pie-plant, or wine-plant, as it is sometimes called, is popular during the spring months because it is one of the first crops ready for market.

There are several so-called varieties listed by most seedsmen and nurserymen, but they are not clearly defined. Attempts to establish a planting from seed usually are disappointing since the plants will not be uniform. The only known way to obtain a uniform plot is to plant "roots." These are divisions of the old crown which contain at least one bud each.

Twenty years ago the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station made a study of the then existing varieties and their adaptation to the needs of the grower and consumer. As a result of this study, improvement work was undertaken. Seed of nine different lots, representing four varieties, was secured from American and foreign seedsmen. From these, 1,333 seedlings were grown and studied for two years. These showed a great variation and in general ranged from plants which closely resembled common burdock in appearance to a few plants which appeared especially promising. Fourteen of these were selected for further study and the other were discarded.

In subsequent years further tests have been made and all but four of the lots have been discarded as being unworthy of further study or propagation.

These four have since been propagated and have shown their superiority to the generally grown varieties. They are distinct in type and produce large, long stalks which are quite well colored.

Within recent years a number of requests have been made for them, but with few exceptions the varieties have not been disseminated. However, sufficient tests have been made to establish their superiority to ordinary varieties and to justify their introduction the present season at a nominal charge. Persons interested may obtain information by addressing the Department of Horticulture at State College.

Will Identify Bandit By Wriggling Toe

(International News Service)

DENVER.—Bandit suspects may be required to wiggle the little toe of their right foot, in order that James Adams 22, may indentify the man who held him up and took $35.31.

"While he was talking to me," Adams told police, "he wiggled his right little toe. He must have had a corn on it, for a slit had been cut in his shoe, and the toe, not a very clean toe, either, stuck out, just like a sore thumb. Maybe I would't remember his face, but I never will forget that little toe wiggling at me."

Will Identify Bandit By Wriggling Toe

(International News Service)

DENVER.—Bandit suspects may be required to wiggle the little toe of their right foot, in order that James Adams 22, may indentify the man who held him up and took $35.31.

"While he was talking to me," Adams told police, "he wiggled his right little toe. He must have had a corn on it, for a slit had been cut in his shoe, and the toe, not a very clean toe, either, stuck out, just like a sore thumb. Maybe I would't remember his face, but I never will forget that little toe wiggling at me."

NO NEW CAMPS ARE RECOMMENDED

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23—Nine of the ninety-two C. C. C. No. 69 at Beevertown, two miles southwest of Beaver Springs, Snyder county in the Bald Eagle State forest.

No. 79 at Kato, seven miles northeast of Clarence, Centre county, in the Sproul State forest.

No. 86, near Sinnemahoning, Cameron county in the Elk state forest.

No. 106, at Shippensville, three miles west of Strattonville, Clarion county on State game land.

No. 115 at Troxelville, one and one half mile east of Woodward, Centre county in the Bald Eagle State.

No. 140, at Bear Lake, three miles northwest of Thornhurst, Lackawanna county in the Lackawanna State forest.

No. 141 at Indiantown Gap, 22 miles north of Jonestown, Lebanon county on the State Military Reservation.

No. 142 at Martin Hill, sixteen miles south of Everett, Bedford county, in the Buchanan State forest.

No new camps were recommended by the United States Forest Service for emergency conservation work in Pennsylvania to replace these being discontinued.

FIRST WESTMINSTER PUBLICATION PRINTED ON BEN FRANKLIN'S PRESS

Westminster Herald, Forerunner Of The United Presbyterian, Started In 1855

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23—Westminster college's first publication, which appeared in 1855 as the Westminster Herald, was printed for a time on Benjamin Franklin's old press which college authorities had brought from Philadelphia to New Wilmington.

This is revealed in an account of the early days of the college as written by Ellen Dickey Gamble, daughter of William Dickey, one of the founders of the college, and appearing in the New Wilmington Globe in July, 1908.

Shortly after the Rev. Dr. James Patterson was inaugurated president at the start of the fall term in 1855, and just before the first Old Main building was completed, the Westminster Herald was started as a weekly newspaper, according to early historical notes. The Rev. George C. Vincent and the Rev. D. H. A. McLean were the first editors, both being members of the faculty.

Speaking of this first Westminster college publication, which was also one of the early publications of the church, Mrs. Gamble relates: "It was published in the first college building, which was known as the printing office for years after. The publishers brought Benjamin Franklin's old press from Philadelphia and for a time the Herald was printed on it until a new cylinder press was purchased."

The first college building of which Mrs. Gamble spoke was located near the present United Presbyterian church Sabbath school wing. It was a two-story structure, with two rooms in the second story and a large room on the first floor. Dr. Robert Gracey Ferguson, president from 1884 to 1906, states that this structure was a temporary one, first occupied in 1853, and was merely used until the first Old Main was completed in 1855.

The present United Presbyterian, official organ of the United Presbyterian church owes its start to the ambitions and hard work of the Rev. Mr. Vincent and the Rev. Mr. McLean. Mrs. Gamble's article goes on to say:

"After the union of the churches (Associate church and Associate Reformed church) in 1858, the Herald was united with the other leading organs of the church, 'The Preacher' and 'Presbyterian Witness', took the name of 'The United Presbyterian'."

The Herald first appeared as a weekly newspaper in which form, also, the United Presbyterian was printed for many years. A copy of the United Presbyterian dated Pittsburgh, January 7, 1863, carries under the front-page flag: "Continuation of The Preacher and Westminster Herald." The United Presbyterian was then published at 74 Third street, Pittsburgh, in the old Singerly building.

So the Westminster Herald, first started as both the official organ of Westminster college and of the church, became in the course of years The United Presbyterian, official organ of the combined churches. For a number of years after the printing of the publications was transferred to Pittsburgh, Westminster had no newspaper. It was not until Dr. R. J. Love, professor of Bible at Westminster from 1921 until recently, joined with fellow students in 1884 that another publication was started. This was the Holcad, student weekly newspaper, which is this year celebrating its 50th anniversary.

Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be thus regulated to suit individual need.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may often do more harm than good.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is at all druggists. Member N. R. A.

Rigid Liquor Laws Help Bootleggers

(International News Service)

BUTTE, Mont.—Montana's state-owned liquor distribution system has been a boon to bootleggers, a recent survey revealed. Instead of driving them out of business as many anticipated, the new set-up has brought added prosperity. State liquor stores are opened only during business hours, leaving the sale of liquor after hours entirely in the hands of bootleggers. The fact that liquor is now legal has also given the 'leggers an excuse for raising their prices.

Butte speakeasies are running more openly than before repeal, with local officials too busy with other matters to interfere. At least two new "speaks" have opened here since repeal.

Labor News Dominates Market For Another Day And Stocks Are Irregular

UTILITY SHARES ARE IN DEMAND

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—With labor news continuing to dominate the business picture the stock market turned listless and irregular today as traders waited on the sidelines for clarification of the dispute.

Commodity markets gave an unimpressive account of themselves. Wheat, corn and the other grains ruled fractionally lower; cotton gained about 25 cents a bale; silver and rubber scored moderate gains.

Utility shares were again in meagre demand under the leadership of Consolidated Gas, North American and Columbia Gas with fractional gains being scored.

Harry T. Johnson, 22, a convicted bootlegger, serving as his own attorney, paved the way for the ruling. He was granted a writ of habeas corpus, freeing him from the district jail where he was serving a sentence of one year to 18 months for transporting liquor.

SAY 'PRETTY BOY' BANDIT LONG DEAD

(International News Service)

WATERLOO, Ia.—"Pretty Boy" Floyd, Oklahoma desperado sought in a dozen midwestern and southwestern states for a long list of crimes, is dead, in the opinion of a secret service agent who visited here.

The agent, who declined to permit use of his name, said he had learned from underworld sources that the southwest's public enemy No. 1 has been "kissing the earth for the last six months."

Bank robberies of the type conducted by the Oklahoma bandit have ceased since "Pretty Boy" was wounded in a gun battle with authorities early last summer, the agent declared. He gave no credence to recent reports that "Pretty Boy" had been seen in eastern cities.

One guess now. What will the farmer raise when the government orders him to raise only so much?

"Man let woman have her way 4000 years ago," says a writer. So 4000 years is the age of discretion.

Separate Rail Conferences Are Eastman's Plans

Federal Coordinator Will Hear Both Sides Of Present Railway Dispute

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—In an effort to settle the differences between the railroad managers and union workers on the wage question, Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation today resumed separate conferences with the two groups.

Eastman expressed doubt that settlement of the dispute will be effected before next week. When he has heard all that either side has to say, listened to their proposals and counter-proposals, he said he might have some proposals of his own. He has made no suggestions as yet, being content to listen to what each group has to say.

Commodity markets gave an unimpressive account of themselves. Wheat, corn and the other grains ruled fractionally lower; cotton gained about 25 cents a bale; silver and rubber scored moderate gains.

Utility shares were again in meagre demand under the leadership of Consolidated Gas, North American and Columbia Gas with fractional gains being scored.

Demand for the rails was almost non-existent.

Specialties, aviation, chemical and oil shares were quiet.

New York Lady To Meet Postal Group

Miss Dora Maxwell, New York field secretary of the Credit Union National Extension bureau, will arrive here tonight to meet with New Castle post office employes in the City building.

Acting Postmaster R. A. Steen announces that Miss Maxwell has been working with the postmaster general's department in the organization of credit unions for postal employes.

SAY 'PRETTY BOY' BANDIT LONG DEAD

(International News Service)

WATERLOO, Ia.—"Pretty Boy" Floyd, Oklahoma desperado sought in a dozen midwestern and southwestern states for a long list of crimes, is dead, in the opinion of a secret service agent who visited here.

The agent, who declined to permit use of his name, said he had learned from underworld sources that the southwest's public enemy No. 1 has been "kissing the earth for the last six months."

Bank robberies of the type conducted by the Oklahoma bandit have ceased since "Pretty Boy" was wounded in a gun battle with authorities early last summer, the agent declared. He gave no credence to recent reports that "Pretty Boy" had been seen in eastern cities.

One guess now. What will the farmer raise when the government orders him to raise only so much?

"Man let woman have her way 4000 years ago," says a writer. So 4000 years is the age of discretion.

Last Prop Of Dry Law Enforcement Is Swept Away

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The last prop of prohibition enforcement was swept aside today by Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue in district supreme court, who ruled that all persons now serving sentences under the dry law are entitled to their freedom.

Harry T. Johnson, 22, a convicted bootlegger, serving as his own attorney, paved the way for the ruling. He was granted a writ of habeas corpus, freeing him from the district jail where he was serving a sentence of one year to 18 months for transporting liquor.

Council To Buy Chassis, Truck

When council met today in the city building, Safety Director D. O. Davies introduced a resolution, which was adopted, instructing that the city advertise for one 1½-ton chassis and also for 1½-ton dump body truck for use of the city garbage department. Some time ago the councilman said the garbage department was in need of equipment.

Separate Rail Conferences Are Eastman's Plans

Federal Coordinator Will Hear Both Sides Of Present Railway Dispute

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—In an effort to settle the differences between the railroad managers and union workers on the wage question, Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation today resumed separate conferences with the two groups.

Eastman expressed doubt that settlement of the dispute will be effected before next week. When he has heard all that either side has to say, listened to their proposals and counter-proposals, he said he might have some proposals of his own. He has made no suggestions as yet, being content to listen to what each group has to say.

Then and Now—Samuel Insull

Only 18 months separate these two photos which graphically illustrate the fall of Samuel Insull, ruler of a mighty utilities empire. At left: Insull when he was arbiter of Chicago arts and society; at right, the hunted fugitive, who was caught trying to flee from Greece. (Central Press)

Tenements Take More Victims

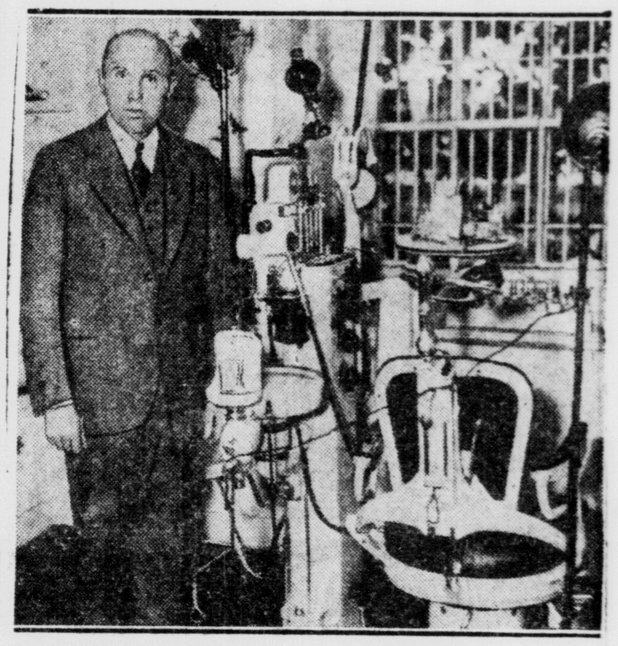
Revelations of hazardous and unsanitary conditions in tenements in New York City were climaxed by a fire in East Side apartment house which killed seven persons who were trapped by the blaze. Only means of escape were inadequate vertical ladders (arrow). The fire was the sixth of its kind in less than two months, with total of 26 dead.

Pledge U. S.-Japan Peace

Koki Hirota — Cordell Hull

The formal note of Japan to the United States pledging peace, transmitted by Koki Hirota, Japanese foreign minister, to Cordell Hull, secretary of state, is to be followed by friendly discussions which it is believed will settle naval parity and Manchoukuo recognition questions.

Man Behind the President



Just as our mightiest machines would be useless without a mechanic to keep them in repair, so does our indefatigable President require the services of Dr. Ross T. McIntyre to keep the "dynamo" of the nation's machinery running smoothly. Dr. McIntyre is shown in his office at the White House, in the midst of his health-preserving apparatus. (Central Press)

Departure in Wedding Attire

Formal attire was foregone in the most fashionable wedding of the spring season, that of Richard DuPont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix DuPont, of Wilmington, Del., and Miss Helena Allaire Crozer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crozer of Philadelphia, at Miami, Fla. The bride and groom are shown leaving the church after the ceremony. (Central Press)

Survivor of Shooting Triangle

Merrill Wood, 13, identifies the gun, held by a Camden, N. J., detective, with which his father, Robley Wood (insert) fatally wounded his brother Wilbur, 22, and his mother, and then took his own life, after Wilbur had announced his intention of spending his first $17 pay check on clothes for the mother. (Central Press)

Weaker Sex Stronger To Resist Ills

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

There seems to be no question that it is a great disadvantage to be a male, so far as the possibility of serious disease is concerned.

This startling conclusion is based upon very careful studies that have recently been reported from one of the large clinics of the country in the official bulletin of the American College of Physicians.

Considering those diseases which are common to both sexes, the male is afflicted far oftener than the female, and that it is not entirely due to the bad habits that man acquires. I am happy to be able to report that it applies also to diseases which cause death before birth. "Venery, alcoholism, exposure, overwork and various other factors, may influence the susceptibility to disease and the greater mortality of the adult male, but they are only straws placed on the greater burden of his sex-linked weakness.

There seems to be no doubt that, speaking comparatively, the price of maleless is weakness. How ironical, therefore seems the precept of the apostle: "Give honor unto the wife as unto the weaker vessel."

Says Grasshoppers Are Seen In Snow

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Mar. 23.—Mother Nature's freakish pranks reached some sort of an extremity here recently when swarms of grasshoppers were reported seen in a valley where two inches of snow covered the ground.

W. H. Clarkson and John H. Bender vouched for the unusual story, declaring they themselves caught several of the grasshoppers. They construed the early appearance of the 'hoppers as an indication of a summer-like spring.

New Football Coach Named At Westminster; Is Former Brown Star

Lawther Relinquishes Duties As Football Coach For Titans

Newly Selected Coach Star Player Under McLaughry At Eastern School

(Special To The News.)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23 Bill Gilbane, Brown university football star during the 1930, 1931 and 1932 seasons, has been appointed head football coach at Westminster college for the coming year, President Robert F. Galbreath announced this morning. Gilbane will succeed John D. Lawther, who has been head grid coach as well as athletic director and basketball coach.

Gilbane was captain and fullback on Tuss McLaughry's 1932 team at Brown, and played on the All-North team which Dr. John B. Sutherland of Pitt took to Baltimore following the 1932 season. His brother Tom played center on the Brown team, and also played for Andy Kerr on the All-East team in California. Tom intimates that he may visit his brother at Westminster next fall to see how the team is progressing.

The athletic council announced that Lawther has been re-elected basketball coach for a three-year term, and that he has been relieved of the football coaching duties at his own request. Lawther has also been appointed head of the department of psychology and education for next year. He has been acting head of this department since the death of Dr. J. A. Shott on September 21. The added duties as departmental head made it seem advisable to drop football.

The committee to select the new grid coach included Lawther as a member in appreciation of his services to Westminster athletics. Others on the committee were President R. F. Galbreath and Attorney James A. Stranahan.

Lawther has been head grid coach at Westminster since 1931. For four seasons, 1926 through 1929, Lawther was assistant football coach under Mike Beede, new Geneva mentor. Lawther has been basketball coach at Westminster since 1926, having taken over the court squad toward the end of the 1926 campaign, and running the team for the full season in 1927. Since that time Westminster has won 126 basketball games and lost only 25.

The Westminster athletic council announced, at the same time the name of the new grid mentor was revealed, that an exceedingly difficult schedule awaits Gilbane this fall and that there will be but a small squad with which to work. Ten contests, three or four of which are with major elevens, means that Westminster authorities are not looking for sensational success. For the 1935 season a shorter card of six or seven games, will be carded with district small colleges. The future policy will be to have short schedules with colleges of the same size as Westminster.

Union-Alumni Play Tonight In Final Game

GIRLS TO PLAY IN PRELIMINARY

Union High school basketball team will play its final game of the 1933-34 floor season tonight at the Union High floor with the Alumni quintet furnishing the opposition. The Union High girls will play the Yellow Jacket girls in the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock. This is a gala night for Union High in basketball. It will mean the farewell of such well known stars as Wayne White, Paul Morrison, "Red" Boron, Dom Monico, and Walter Hughes.

Coach Dave "Pop" Boyd will send his varsity team out tonight to take the measure of the Alumni team. The stars of other years have been boasting of their prowess and that they can take the W. P. I. A. I. Section 18 champions and County league champions into camp.

Expect Big Crowd

In event of good weather the Union High gym will no doubt be packed to the doors tonight. Faculty Manager W. L. Burkhart has made all of the necessary arrangements for handling the biggest crowd of the year.

The Union A. A. will be out in full force to cheer for the varsity boys against the Alumni and to give the departing members of this year's great Union quintet a rousing ovation.

The Alumni will probably lineup, with representations from all of the teams for the past several years, including.

1926—W. Rech.
1927—Walter Kielar, Lawrence Gibson.
1928—Hoffmaster, Eckles.
1929—Ralph Lannigan, Frances Rech, Jack Mottinger.
1930—Bill Critchlow.
1931—Casimer Zaremba, Rocco Monico.
1932—Joe Augustyn, Joe Jaworski, Don Lannigan, Casimer Mateja.
1933—Walter Sniezek, Ralph Phillips.

Detroit Tigers Hope To Be In Flag Race

Manager Mickey Cochrane Has Instilled New Fighting Spirit In Bengals

Good Pitching Staff, Fast Infield And Fairly Hard Hitting Outfield

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla., Mar. 23—The man eyed me narrowly for a moment, then seemed to make up his mind.

"Do you want a good tip?" he asked suddenly. "Well, then, don't go overboard on the Detroit Tigers. They just haven't got it."

But that was some days ago in another baseball camp quite a few miles from here and the man was and is running a rival American League Club. So much for that.

"That Cochrane, now. He's excitable. He rushes in, does things and then wonders why he did them. He's upsettin'. You know what I mean? Yeh, that's it. He's upsettin.' "

Can't Ride Cochrane

And then there was this bit of gratuitous philosophy from a third gentleman of the profession who claims to know the said Cochrane better than Cochrane could possibly know himself.

"Don't ever kid that guy" said he, earnestly. "If you ride him, he gets mad and pops one right off the property. The idea is to be nice to him get him feeling mellow and a little sorry for himself. Pepper Martin, and the Cardinals did that in the 1932 series and all they left him was his college diploma."

So it's very simply and obviously the way to beat the Detroit Tigers and make Mickey Cochrane, the manager, hit .148 is to go right up to him like a man and start sympathizing in a loud, firm voice, only, it's going to be difficult this year. My idea, in fact, of the only man in the American League who is liable to be in a position to do that will be manager of the club that wins the pennant. In other words, I've listened to baseball's story about Cochrane and the Tigers and am now going to tell mine, which is to the effect that the Tigers will finish not better than second nor worse than fourth.

Tigers Are Good

It rather suddenly occurred to me out there today that this was liable to be a pretty good base ball club, whether I cared at it or not It has plenty of pitching. It can put eight men in the regular positions who will average .297—Cochrane .322; Gehringer, .325; Greensberb, .301; Goslin, .297; Rogell, .295; Gerald Walker, .290; Fox, .288 and Owen, .252. They may get another guy to improve on Owen. As a matter of fact, the law clearly says that Owen can even improve on himself. Moreover, with the pitching Cochrane behind the plate, Gehringer at second base and a fair outfield, the defense is no grade a sieve.

Cochrane, Gehringer, Greenberg, and Goslin are not only the top hitters of the outfit but they hit for distance. Without seeming to be insistent about it, I'm merely attempting to make the point that the Tigers ought to have a few runs to work on this year.

Fortunately, they seem to have the kind of pitchers who only need a few. There's Tom Bridges, the one hit champion, who won 14 games last year: Fred Marberry, who won 16; and Vic Sorrell and Carl Fischer who won 11 each.

Stoeffen-Shields Leading Field For Davis Cup Berths

NEW YORK, Mar. 23—The official stamp of the Davis cup selection committee is all that is needed today to give the United States team a couple of Giants, as far as singles play is concerned.

Lester R. Stoefen and Frank X. Shields again gave evidence last night that they are the leading candidates for the team.

Combatting the improved play of the Frenchmen, Stoefen defeated Jean Borota, 18-14, 6-4, 9-7 and Shields dowled Andrew Merlin, 7-5, 7-5, 6-1 in the final international series matches at the seventh regiment armory to give the United States team a clean sweep of the five matches.

Believe Eastman Could Set Record

Track Coaches Believe Ben Eastman Could Negotiate Mile In Four Minutes

(International News Service)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. Mar. 23—Can Ben Eastman run a mile in four minutes?

"He can with proper training," Lawson Robertson was quoted in dispatches from the East.

"He can if he wants to," answered R. L. (Dink) Templeton, Stanford track coach.

Needs Training

The usual peppery Templeton refused to become irate at the dispatches emphasizing that Robertson, University of Pennsylvania and America Olympic team mentor said Ben could negotiate a four-minute mile, nearly eight seconds under the present world record, with "proper training."

"I think Robbie is right" said Templeton serenely. "Ben could do a mile in four minutes, or right close to it, if trained properly. I mean trained for a miler. He had been properly trained for the quarter and half mile but never at all for the mile."

Union High Football Schedule Announced

Union High School Grid Team Will Play Eleven Games This Fall

Three Games At Home And Six Away Have So Far Been Carded

Union High School football schedule for the 1934 campaign was announced by Coach Dave Boyd and Faculty Manager W. L. Burkhart today and it looks like an impressive program for the Unionites. There are six games away and three at home arranged so far. Union will attempt 11 games this fall. There are two open dates left.

New Castle Off

The same teams will be met in 1934 as were met in 1933 with the exception of New Castle High. The Unionites will tangle with only two county league teams, Bessemer and Shenango. The rest of the games outside of Grove City and Sandy Lake are with W. P. I. A. L. teams. Union will try to add two more Class B, W. P. I. A. L. teams to the card.

The season will be opened at Ellwood City on Saturday, September 15. Evans City and Bridgeville follow in succession and then comes an open date. Starting October 13 with Grove City, the Boydmen will face Mars, Zelienople, Bessemer, Shenango and Sandy Lake in rotation. Quite a healthy sized assignment.

Two Veterans

The first home game will be with Evans City on September 21, and the game will inaugurate the newly created athletic field at Union High which will be opened with appropriate ceremonies.

Coach "Pop" Boyd will have to build an entirely new Union team next fall, having but two lettermen Schaas and Rudesill back in harness. There was a dearth of fine looking reserves last year and from this group Boyd expects to select eleven winners. It looks as if young Wallace will be the quarterback. He is being groomed for the job already.

Spring Training

Union expects to have a couple of weeks of spring football this year, according to Coach Boyd. It will give the popular young coach a chance to see what his material looks like, and to start the boys on the fundementals of the game.

Union is looking forward to a great football season, and nothing short of the county and W. P. I. A. L. championship in Class B seems to satisfy the Unionites.

The Union High football program for 1934:

Sept. 15: Ellwood City; away.
Sept. 21: Evans City; home.
Sept. 29: Bridgeville; away.
Oct. 6: open.
Oct. 13: Grove City; away.
Oct. 19: Mars; home.
Oct. 26: Zellenople; away.
Nov. 3: Bessemer; away.
Nov. 10: Shenango; away.
Nov. 17: Sandy Lake; home.
Nov. 24: open.

Jones Shoots 76 In Comeback Try

Bobby Jones Tours Augusta Course Of 18 Holes And Fails To Impress Crowd

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Sports Writer.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Mar. 23.—All through this historic southern river town, where they have hauled out the black-bordered cards of condolence and a pall of grief hangs over a stricken populace as from the visitation of a great tragedy, grave faced citizens gathered in clusters today, wagged their heads dolefully and spoke in hushed tones.

If you edged in close and listened attentively you could hear a colonel with spruce Van Dyke and bronzed face incongrous in checked tweed golf clothes when you expected to see long-tailed coat and black slouch Stetson, murmur: "The emperor is dead. The emperor is dead," while his brother mourners echoed "Amen, Amen."

A young lawyer of Atlanta, Ga., who is playing golf again after a four-year rest cure, shot a 76 on the Augusta national golf course yesterday and the lamentations were immediate, long and loud.

Turns In 76.

We admit that when Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., shoots a 76 on anybodys' golf course that it is a thing to wonder at and to marvel that it could happen.

But the thing that sticks out like a sore toe on a bare foot country boy to us is that today, tomorrow and Sunday are other days, that the battle of Bobby's courageous comeback is but begun, that only 18 holes, after all, have been played and there are 54 more holes to go.

Bobby has done an amazing and courageous—it may prove fool-hardy—thing in subjecting the record of his 14 years of golf, which he climaxed so brilliantly by winning the British and American open and amateur championships in 1930, to the onslaughts of a battery of campaign-hardened veterans, but even with yesterday's unfortunate debacle it seems too early yet to shout "I told you so, they never come back."

FIND SLAVE KILLER USED BY INDIANS

(International News Service)

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—An ancient Indian implement identified as a "slave killer" has been found near the Oregon-Nevada border and is now in the collection of G. C. Friel of Gerlach, Nev. It is a stone implement shaped like a dog, fox or coyote with the forepart of the body and front legs sharpened to a cutting edge. The elongated tail is formed for a handle. This weird weapon was used in killing slaves who violated terms of their enslavement.

Tod Plotkin Is Milk Fed Champ

Once Stripling, Brookline, Mass., Boy Now Stalwart

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass. Mar. 23—A school boy track champion whose diet consists almost exclusively of milk and who weighs 170 pounds—a milk fed champ—is Theodore "Tod" Plotkin, of Brookline

"Tod" set a new record for the interscholastic broad jump at the Andover games when he jumped 10 feet 9 3-4 inches.

He is now 16 years old When he started in high school Plotkin was only a puny little fellow but under the instructions at Brookline and with the help of his milk diet he managed to spread 170 over his 5 feet 11 inches of height.

It seems that Popeye and his spinach diet are not the only things that will make a boy big and strong.

SNAKE BITE KILLS AFTER SEVEN YEARS

(International News Service)

LEBANON, Pa., Mar. 23.—Septacemia, an ailment which physicians traced to the bite of a poisonous snake, more than seven years ago, has claimed the life of George Phillip Hottenstein, 35, Lebanon's most outstanding boy scout.

The youth was bitten by a Copperhead snake while engaging in activities at Camp Strause in the Monroe Valley. A serum was administered at that time and he experienced no ill effects.

Miners Confer On New Wages

Wage Scales In Appalachian Region Will Expire On April 1

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Bituminous miners and operators of the Appalachian region gathered here late Thursday to continue efforts toward negotiating a new wage agreement to replace that expiring April 1.

A sub-committee of the operators has been considering a statistical study of the industry's operation under the bituminous coal code, but has reached no conclusion.

The miners, according to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, are seeking an increase in wages which would be based on a $5 a day figure. The present base, Lewis said, is $4.60 in the north and $4.20 in the south. The miners also asked for a shorter work week, preferably a six-hour day.

BLACKFEET INDIANS O. K. "NEW DEAL"

(International News Service)

BROWNING, Mont.—The Blackfeet Indians of Montana are ready to accept Commissioner of Indian Affairs Collier's "New Deal" for the redman. Not only are they willing to meet the challenge of self-government outlined in Collier's plans, but are willing to go a step further, they announced after meetings of the tribal council here. Among the reforms recommended by the council is elimination of all persons having less than one-half Indian blood from the tribal rolls.

Went For Birdie, Returns With Goose

Golfer Chases, Finally Captures Canadian Blue Goose

PINEHURST, N. C., Mar. 23.—Teddy Turner, Massachusetts open golf champion, went out on the No. 2 course in an effort to bag a few birdies and eagles, but came back instead with a goose, a wild Canadian blue goose at that.

The goose, apparently exhausted from its flight from the northern cold, alighted among a quartet of negro caddies on the seventeenth hole. The caddies dropped their clubs and fled, but Turner turned the golf match into a wild goose chase and finally succeeded in tackling the bird in a trap near the seventeenth green.

Passenger Plane Missing For Two Years Is Located

Bodies Of Nine Passengers Are Still In Plane; Found In Andes

(International News Service)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Mar. 23.—With the bodies of its nine passengers still in the plane, the wreck of the Pan American-Grace tri-motored airliner "San Jose", which has been missing since July 16, 1932, has been found near Punte Del Inca, a small village in the Andes, according to dispatches reaching the Pan-American Airways here Thursday.

The manager of the Hotel Inca at Punte Del Inca, Argentine, reported the plane had been found about a mile south of the village. A guard has been placed over the wrecked plane pending the arrival of official investigators.

The plane was en route from Santiago to Buenos Aires via Mendoza, Argentine, on July 16, 1932, when it disappeared. Searching parties failed to find any trace of it.

Will Identify Bandit By Wriggling Toe

(International News Service)

DENVER.—Bandit suspects may be required to wiggle the little toe of their right foot, in order that James Adams 22, may indentify the man who held him up and took $35.31.

"While he was talking to me," Adams told police, "he wiggled his right little toe. He must have had a corn on it, for a slit had been cut in his shoe, and the toe, not a very clean toe, either, stuck out, just like a sore thumb. Maybe I would't remember his face, but I never will forget that little toe wiggling at me."

Market Trading Is Slow Today

UTILITY SHARES ARE IN DEMAND

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—With labor news continuing to dominate the business picture the stock market turned listless and irregular today as traders waited on the sidelines for clarification of the dispute.

The motor shares moved in a narrow range with Chrysler, General Motors, Auburn and others holding within fractions of yesterday's close.

United States Steel, Bethlehem and other industrial shares gave a similar performance with trading extremely slight.

Commodity markets gave an unimpressive account of themselves. Wheat, corn and the other grains ruled fractionally lower; cotton gained about 25 cents a bale; silver and rubber scored moderate gains.

Utility shares were again in meagre demand under the leadership of Consolidated Gas, North American and Columbia Gas with fractional gains being scored.

Demand for the rails was almost non-existent.

Specialties, aviation, chemical and oil shares were quiet.

Last Prop Of Dry Law Enforcement Is Swept Away

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The last prop of prohibition enforcement was swept aside today by Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue in district supreme court, who ruled that all persons now serving sentences under the dry law are entitled to their freedom.

Harry T. Johnson, 22, a convicted bootlegger, serving as his own attorney, paved the way for the ruling. He was granted a writ of habeas corpus, freeing him from the district jail where he was serving a sentence of one year to 18 months for transporting liquor.

Council To Buy Chassis, Truck

When council met today in the city building, Safety Director D. O. Davies introduced a resolution, which was adopted, instructing that the city advertise for one 1½-ton chassis and also for 1½-ton dump body truck for use of the city garbage department. Some time ago the councilman said the garbage department was in need of equipment.

New York Lady To Meet Postal Group

Miss Dora Maxwell, New York field secretary of the Credit Union National Extension bureau, will arrive here tonight to meet with New Castle post office employes in the City building.

SAY 'PRETTY BOY' BANDIT LONG DEAD

(International News Service)

WATERLOO, Ia.—"Pretty Boy" Floyd, Oklahoma desperado sought in a dozen midwestern and southwestern states for a long list of crimes, is dead, in the opinion of a secret service agent who visited here.

The agent, who declined to permit use of his name, said he had learned from underworld sources that the southwest's public enemy No. 1 has been "kissing the earth for the last six months."

Bank robberies of the type conducted by the Oklahoma bandit have ceased since "Pretty Boy" was wounded in a gun battle with authorities early last summer, the agent declared. He gave no credence to recent reports that "Pretty Boy" had been seen in eastern cities.

One guess now. What will the farmer raise when the government orders him to raise only so much? "Man let woman have her way 4000 years ago," says a writer. So 4000 years is the age of discretion.

Separate Rail Conferences Are Eastman's Plans

Federal Coordinator Will Hear Both Sides Of Present Railway Dispute

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—In an effort to settle the differences between the railroad managers and union workers on the wage question, Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation today resumed separate conferences with the two groups.

Eastman expressed doubt that settlement of the dispute will be effected before next week. When he has heard all that either side has to say, listened to their proposals and counter-proposals, he said he might have some proposals of his own. He has made no suggestions as yet, being content to listen to what each group has to say.

Departure in Wedding Attire

Formal attire was foregone in the most fashionable wedding of the spring season, that of Richard DuPont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix DuPont, of Wilmington, Del., and Miss Helena Allaire Crozer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crozer of Philadelphia, at Miami, Fla. The bride and groom are shown leaving the church after the ceremony. (Central Press)

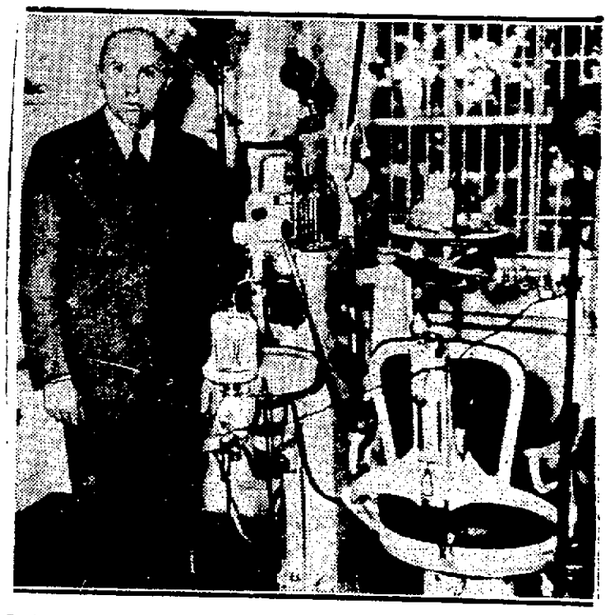
Tenements Take More Victims

Revelations of hazardous and unsanitary conditions in tenements in New York City were climaxed by a fire in East Side apartment house which killed seven persons who were trapped by the blaze. Only means of escape were inadequate vertical ladders (arrow). The fire was the sixth of its kind in less than two months, with total of 26 dead.

Man Behind the President



Just as our mightiest machines would be useless without a mechanic to keep them in repair, so does our indefatigable President require the services of Dr. Ross T. McIntyre to keep the "dynamo" of the nation's machinery running smoothly. Dr. McIntyre is shown in his office at the White House, in the midst of his health-preserving apparatus. (Central Press)
